STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The provisions of the law relating to stamp-duties and Court-fees are now contained in six different Acts, and numerous orders of the Governor General in Council notified from time to time in the Government Gazette during the last seven years. It is desirable for the convenience of the public to bring these provisions within the compass of a single enactment, and it is proposed to take this opportunity to introduce measures for the improved working of the law, which experience has shown to be much needed, and at the same time to provide for the acquisition of a moderate increase of revenue from stamp-duties.

2 Such increase is to be obtained partly by the amendment of those provisions of the law which are specially designed to protect the revenue from loss through evasion of the payment of the proper stamp-duty, and partly by the enhancement of the present rates of duty in certain cases.

3 There is reason to believe that the obligation of stamping documents at the time of their execution is at present largely evaded. Prosecutions for such evasion are rarely reported to, and the criminal penalties provided by the existing law may be said to be almost inoperative, so that frauds upon the revenue are systematically practised in the belief that the worst result to be apprehended from their detection is the levy of a fine of a certain fixed amount, in addition to the unpaid duty. The most important object to be kept in view consequently in the framing of a new Stamp Bill is to stop, as far as may be practicable, every hole of escape from the liability which the law imposes upon the executant of instruments subject to stamp-duty.

4 The new preventive provisions are contained in sections 30, 31, 32, 35 and 37, and their main object is to secure the proper scrutiny of instruments liable to stamp-duty when produced by their possessors, and the effective working of the criminal penalty-clauses as a deterrent to wilful evasions.

5 It has been shown that, in the present state of the law, the obligation to see that all documents produced in Courts and public offices are properly stamped is generally ignored unless and until the parties producing them desire to put the documents in evidence. It is not an uncommon thing for persons to produce documents improperly stamped, and on being told that they will have to pay a specified amount by way of penalty, to withdraw the documents and forego putting them in evidence; and in such cases they are allowed to escape punishment.

for the offence which they have committed in not stamping or sufficiently stamping their instruments, and which is not the less an offence against the law and punishable as such, whether they wish to use the instrument or not.

6 Further, where the presiding Judge or officer does take cognizance of the omission to use a proper stamp, some difficulty is found in securing the due punishment of the offender owing to the obscure and somewhat conflicting provisions of the existing law as to the constitution of an "offence." Whilst, on the one hand, the criminal penalty is declared to be incurred upon the mere fact of under-stamping, on the other the provisions relating to the procedure to be followed on the production of unstamped documents deal prominently with the question of intention on the part of the producer, and the Courts generally ignore the presumption of fraudulent intention in the absence of proof of the existence of such intention. As such proof is not forthcoming, the producer of the instrument almost invariably escapes, mulcted only in the civil penalty which the Court is empowered to levy at its own discretion and without reference to other authority.

7 To meet this state of things, it is provided in section 30 of the Bill that every Court and head of an office shall take notice of and examine all instruments produced before them, that they shall determine whether the instrument is properly stamped, and, if not, shall impound it. Section 31 provides for dealing with an impounded instrument which is required to be put in evidence, so that there may be no obstruction to the administration of justice, whilst section 33, amongst other things, provides that this detention of the document and levy of a validating fine in the form of additional duty shall in no case protect the person responsible for the under-stamping from the criminal penalties to which his offence renders him liable. Section 35 prescribes the course to be followed by the Collector when under-stamped documents or copies thereof come into his hands, and section 36 determines the effect of the realization of the deficient duty as regards the validity of the instrument, and provides for the ultimate disposal of the latter—according as a criminal prosecution may or may not be undertaken.

8 Section 37 contains an entirely new provision and one that seems likely to stimulate the production of instruments liable to stamp-duty and not properly stamped.

It frequently happens that the person interested in putting in evidence an insufficiently stamped document was not bound by law to bear the expense of the stamp that should have been used at the time of its execution, yet he has to bear the penalty incurred through the laches of the actual defaulter. As a consequence of this state of the law, the person interested in producing the document is often deterred from so doing by the consideration of the penalty. In such cases it cannot be doubted that production will be greatly facilitated by the provisions of this section which enable the producer to throw the cost of producing the unstamped or improperly stamped document upon another person.

9 Important changes are proposed in regard to some of the instruments chargeable with ad valorem duties specified in the first Schedule, namely, Bills of Exchange payable otherwise than on demand, Bonds, Conveyances, Policies of Insurance and other instruments such as Promissory Notes, Leases and Mortgage deeds which are subject to the same duties as Bills of Exchange, Bonds and Conveyances respectively.

10 Under the present law all Bonds and Conveyances in which the amount secured, or consideration stated, ranges between Rs 50 and Rs 10,000, and other instruments similarly chargeable, are subject to rates of stamp-duty equivalent to 1 and  $\frac{1}{2}$  per cent, respectively, on the maximum amount of each step in the scale of ascents by which the assessment is regulated. So far, with one exception only, to be presently stated, the sliding scale of rates of stamp-duty follow the plan of the English stamp law, but the tax is as much heavier in proportion in this country as the rupee, half rupee, quarter rupee and one anna respectively exceed in value the shilling, its half and quarter, and one penny. The exception adverted to is that, whereas in the English scale of ascents there is no intermediate step between £100 and £200 or £200 and £300, and so on, in the Indian stamp law the ascents between Rs 1,000 and Rs 10,000 are by steps of Rs 500.

11 When the amount involved in the instrument chargeable with stamp-duty exceeds Rs 10,000, the percentage of charge is, by the present stamp law in this country, diminished as the amount upon which the duty is assessed increases, whereas under the English law the same proportion of charge is maintained throughout, whatever may be the amount of the subject-matter of the instrument liable to stamp-duty.

12 The rates of stamp-duty also charged on Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes other than those payable on demand are, relatively to the duties chargeable on Bonds and Conveyances under the Indian stamp law, lower than the English rates. For whilst the stamp law in England imposes on Conveyances, Bonds and Bills of Exchange the duty of 12*d*, 6*d* and about 1*½d* for every £10, here the rates on those three classes of instruments are 16 annas, 8 annas and about 1 anna for every Rs 100 respectively.

13 The principle of the changes now proposed may be said to be the equalisation of the existing rates of percentage of duty upon the amount taxed and their adjustment to the English standard—the rupee and its halves and quarters being taken as the equivalent of the shilling and its halves and quarters respectively, and the anna as equal to the penny.

14 Some increase also in regard to the duty leviable on documents of certain amounts above Rs 1,000 but below Rs 10,000 is involved in the proposed conversion of the intermediate steps between those amounts from Rs 500 to Rs 1,000, for the purpose of bringing the Indian, into precise conformity with the English, scale of ascents.

15 The minimum rate of stamp-duty now payable in the case of Bonds is to be omitted. It is thought that all instruments of this class—however low may be the amount involved—can without any hardship bear a four annas tax, whilst so comparatively numerous are the Bonds or other instruments of obligation in respect of amounts not exceeding twenty-five rupees that the additional rate of two annas to which it is proposed to subject them is likely to produce a material increase of revenue.

16 It is proposed to include Policies of Insurance on life in the general class of instruments of insurance liable to stamp-duty, and to double the existing rates of charge on these instruments generally, this change is in fact nothing more than a reversion to the rates chargeable on these documents previously to the passing of the Stamp Act of 1869. Then there was no exception in favour of Life Policies, and instruments of insurance generally were charged at the rate of 8 annas per Rs 1,000 of the amount insured.

17 Instruments guaranteeing the repayment of loans made upon the deposit of valuable securities are by the present law subjected to a small fixed duty of two rupees only, without reference to the amount of the loan or the extent of the accommodation obtained through the transaction. It seems more equitable and consistent with the general principles which govern the determination of stamp duties that these instruments should be taxed according to the amount involved in the transaction, hence it is proposed to substitute an ad valorem for a fixed duty, and, having regard to the short period for which the loan is granted, to assess the new duty at one-half of the rate applicable to Bills of Exchange.

18 The Bill provides also for the revival of the rule, in regard to the duty leviable on certain promissory notes, which was in force previous to the passing of the Stamp Act of 1869, under which a promissory note made payable at some time exceeding one year from the date of the note was liable to the same rate of duty as a Bond. As the obligatory instrument ordinarily executed in this country when loans are taken—the “tamassuk”—is more of the nature of a promissory note than a bond, it seems probable that some unnecessary sacrifice of revenue has resulted from the relinquishment of the former mode of assessment to which it is now proposed to revert in these cases.

19. The limit of amount within which cheques and other orders for the payment of money and receipts are exempted from any stamp-duty is to be reduced from twenty to ten rupees. The payment of one anna stamp-duty can hardly be considered an oppressive tax in such cases, whilst so comparatively numerous are the transactions of this kind involving small amounts, that the abolition of the exemption in respect of sums ranging between twenty and ten rupees is likely to secure a considerable increase of revenue. Further, the Bill aims at the enforcement of the delivery of a receipt for the payment of any amount in excess of ten rupees in satisfaction of a debt. Under the present law a person receiving money in payment of a debt above a certain amount is obliged to grant a receipt to the payer if the latter demands it. This enactment has been found by experience to attain its object but very imperfectly, as the payers are generally too indifferent about the matter to exercise their legal right, and consequently the payer it is believed, in a large number, if not the majority, of cases, escapes his obligation. As the obligation was imposed solely in the interest of the revenue, the principle on which it rests is not overstruck by the provision of the Bill which, upholding the obligation of the payee, dispenses with the antecedent condition for its enforcement.

20 The duty chargeable on instruments evidencing an appraisement or an award is raised by the Bill to about five times its present amount. Before 1869, these documents were not subject to any stamp-duty the tax then imposed was purely experimental. The increase now proposed still leaves instruments of this description more lightly taxed than they are in England.

21 The Bill substitutes an ad valorem rate of duty for the fixed amount now chargeable on Partition-deeds. That amount is Rs 16 and in some cases proves such a heavy tax that the matter has been made the subject of a reference to Government, an equal charge on all partitions without reference to the value of the property divided must work unsatisfactorily. An ad valorem duty is a more equitable form of charge, and the rate has been assimilated to that of bonds, which is one-half of the rate to which ordinary deeds of conveyance are subject.

22 An ad valorem charge is also proposed in lieu of a fixed duty for instruments of gift and exchange. All fixed duties are more or less objectionable, as they must either be pitched so low as to bring in no appreciable amount of revenue, or they must press with undue severity in cases in which the property concerned is of inconsiderable value. The difficulty of imposing ad valorem duties in these cases arises out of the want of a safe basis for their assessment, there being no consideration expressed in the instruments to be charged. It is proposed to surmount this difficulty by imposing on the parties the obligation of stating truly—under heavy penalties for fraudulent statements—the approximate value of the subject of the deed of gift or exchange.

23 The stamp-duties heretofore chargeable on pleaders' and mukhtars' certificates under the Pleader's Act are included in the Bill as part of the scheme of consolidation. It seems only just and consistent that advocates and attorneys should be similarly taxed in respect of the practice of their profession in the Courts of this country, and it is proposed to subject them to the payment of five hundred rupees, and two hundred and fifty rupees stamp-duty, respectively, on their enrolment as advocates and attorneys of a High Court. The members of the faculty practising in the Courts of England, Ireland and Scotland are somewhat similarly taxed in respect of such practice.

24 The only changes in the rates of Court-fees contemplated by the Bill are (1) in respect of suits instituted in the Courts of Small Causes, (2) the grant of probates of wills and letters of administration, and (3) the fees leviable for the service of processes.

25 The new rates for Small Cause Court suits involve a decrease of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent in the case of suits of this class instituted in the Presidency Towns, and a proportionate increase of the rates heretofore obtaining in such Courts situated outside those towns.

The present rates in the Presidency Towns are 2 annas per rupee or  $12\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. Elsewhere they are the same as in other Courts, namely,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. on the average amount involved in the suit. The town rate is clearly too high and some relief is called for. This, it is thought, may be unobjectionably given by the application of the equalisation principle, and the enhancement of the rate heretofore levied in the Mufassal Small Cause Court is defensible on the ground that, as the judicial agency and general machinery of these Courts is more costly than those of the ordinary Civil Courts, whilst a complete determination of the matter in dispute is obtained in the one class of Courts and not in the other, equitable considerations admit of a higher rate of charge upon the litigants in the former case than in the latter.

26 Up to 1870 no stamp-duty was charged on Letters of Administration to the effects of deceased persons or Probates of Wills. The rate of duty then fixed was tentative and expressly declared to be subject to revision on the occasion of the next amendment of the law on the subject, it is now proposed to increase it from two, to two and a half per centum.

27 The fees now chargeable for the service of processes issuing from the Civil, Revenue and Criminal Courts are fixed by rules framed by the High Courts. It is proposed to substitute for this procedure the fixed rates specified under Nos 20 and 21 of the fifth schedule of the Bill, and to discontinue the provisions of the existing law for the regulation of the process-serving establishments.

The experience gained through the working of the present system, as to the actual cost of serving processes, renders possible the determination of the amount of the fee required in the case of each kind of process to cover the cost of its service, and it seems desirable not only that the Court-fees of this class should, like all other fees leviable under the Court-fees Act, be fixed by the Act itself, but that the regulation of the establishments to be maintained for the service of processes should be under the exclusive control of the Executive authorities.

28 It is often asserted that the provisions of the stamp law are so complicated as to be ill-understood by the public generally, and on this ground a disposition has been shown sometimes on the part of the administrators of the law to excuse, or take a very lenient view of, non-compliance with its requirements, the Bill has been framed therefore with the special endeavour to render the requirements of the law generally intelligible, by large additions to the interpretation-clauses, improved arrangement of its provisions and a simpler classification of the contents of the schedule.

29 The other alterations of the existing law contained in the Bill relate chiefly to matters of detail or procedure, are of minor importance, and do not appear to call for any special explanation.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 10th October 1877, and was referred to a Select Committee —

No 17 OF 1877

A Bill to enable the District Judges of the Presidency of Fort Saint George to suspend and remove certain ministerial officers, and for other purposes

Whereas it is expedient to empower the District Judges of the Presidency of Fort Saint George to suspend and remove ministerial officers of the Courts of Subordinate Judges and District Munsifs, and whereas it is also expedient to provide for the transfer of ministerial officers from one Court to another, It is hereby enacted as follows —

1. For section 23 of the Madras Civil Courts Act, 1873, the following shall be substituted (that is to say) —

Amendment of Act III of 1873, section 23

“ 23. The ministerial officers of the Courts of the Subordinate Judges and District Munsifs shall be appointed by such Subordinate Judges and District Munsifs, respectively, subject to the approval or confirmation of the District Judge within whose jurisdiction such Courts are situate, and may be suspended or removed from office either by the said District Judge or (subject to his approval or confirmation) by such Subordinate Judges and District Munsifs respectively.”

2 After section 24 of the same Act, the following section shall be inserted —

“ 24 A. The Local Government may, at the instance of the District Judge, transfer from any Court, except the High Court, to any other Court, except the High Court, all or any of the ministerial officers of the Court of such Judge, or of any Subordinate Judge or District Munsif under his control

“ The District Judge may transfer all or any of the ministerial officers of any Court under his control to any other such Court ”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Madras Government and the Madras High Court desire that the District Judges should have the power of suspending or removing ministerial officers of the Courts of the Subordinate Judges and District Munsifs in addition to the power which they now possess under Act III of 1873, section 23, of approving and confirming those officers. The first section of the Bill is intended to effect this object.

Powers, resembling those conferred by Act VI of 1871, section 37, are also given to transfer ministerial officers from one Court to another.

The following preliminary Report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill as settled by them, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 10th October 1877 —

We, the undersigned members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to define and amend the law relating to Promissory Notes, Bills of Exchange and Cheques was referred, have considered the papers specified in the appendix, and have the honour to present this preliminary report.

2 This Bill, of which a draft, hereinafter called the draft Bill, was prepared by the late Indian Law Commission, is intended to be one of the chapters of the Indian Civil Code, and was introduced and referred to a Select Committee in December 1867. The then mercantile members of Council, while admitting the desirability of codification, objected to the draft Bill on account of its deviations from English law. In order to obviate this objection several alterations have now been made in its substantial provisions. The Bill has also been rearranged, and some additions have been made in order to supply omissions. These changes, which embody most of the suggestions contained in the papers mentioned in the appendix, will appear in detail from this report.

3 It may, however, be convenient, before proceeding further, to notice briefly the alterations which have been made in order to render the Bill conformable to English law.

4 The draft Bill provided that an indorsee for value after maturity should have only the rights of his indorser. This does not except the case of a bill of exchange drawn or accepted for the purpose of enabling some party thereto to raise money thereon. We have added an exception in section 80 in order to meet this case.

5 The draft Bill discarded days of grace. We have recognised this usage in sections 87 and 88 of the present Bill. The change has involved (in section 22) a slight alteration of the definition of "maturity."

6 The draft Bill also made all instruments which fell due upon a holiday payable on the next succeeding business day instead of, as in English law, on the next preceding business day, except in the case of a public holiday. We have in section 26 adhered to the English law, and have provided that, besides the usual public holidays, such days shall be public holidays within the meaning of the Act as the Local Government may declare.

7 The draft Bill made no provision for the case in which interest at a specified rate is expressly made payable on a note or bill. It merely provided that interest at the current rate should be payable on a bill dishonoured by non-acceptance, but only from the maturity of the instrument. The same rule was adopted in the case of dishonour by non payment of a note, bill or cheque. We have substituted the English law on this subject by declaring (section 101) that, where interest is expressly provided for in the note or bill, it shall be calculated, as against all parties, at the specified rate from the date of the instrument until tender or realization of the amount due. Where no interest is specified we have declared (section 101), that, except in cases within section 532 of the Civil Procedure Code, interest shall run at six per cent per annum from the date at which the amount ought to have been paid by the party charged. We have also added an explanation that an indorser can only be charged with such interest from the date of the receipt by him of notice of dishonour.

8 We have restored (section 117) the rule, which the draft Bill omitted, that a notice of dishonour must inform the party to whom it is given that he will be held liable.

9 The draft Bill provided that when a note, bill or cheque had been lost, or would not be produced by the owner, he might nevertheless enforce his claim against the maker or acceptor if he gave security, to the satisfaction of the Court, to indemnify the defendant against the claims of any other person upon the instrument. No provision was made for an action against the indorser. The English law, however, provides (17 & 18 Vict., c. 125, section 87 = Act V of 1866, section 14) that, in any action upon a negotiable instrument, the loss of it shall not be set up as a defence if an indemnity is given, to the satisfaction of the Court, against the claims of any other person. And the owner of such a document was always entitled in equity to demand payment on giving a sufficient indemnity. We have, therefore, considered that we should correctly embody the English law by providing (section 103) that any person liable to pay and paying the amount due on a note, bill or cheque shall be entitled to be indemnified, and by leaving (section 8) the liability of all parties the same as if the instrument had been forthcoming.

10 The draft Bill extended to instruments payable to order the principle upon which protection is afforded by English law to the party primarily liable upon an instrument payable to bearer. The acceptor, maker or indorser of a negotiable instrument payable to bearer, but not of an instrument payable to order, is, by English law, discharged by payment to any person in possession of the instrument, if the payer has no reason to believe the possessor is not the true holder. We have in section 104, clause (c), restricted the protection to such instruments.

11 The Bill as now altered consists of fourteen chapters. In the first chapter we have inserted the usual preliminary matter. We have (section 1) excluded hundis from the operation of the Bill. We have provided (section 2) for the repeal of some enactments which are replaced by the provisions of the Bill.

12 Section 3 contains a definition of the term "banker" drawn from 39 & 40 Vict., c. 80, s. 3, and of "Notary Public." Notaries are seldom found in the Mufassal, and the Bill provides that their functions may be exercised by persons appointed for that purpose by the Governor General in Council.

13. Chapter II deals with notes, bills and cheques, bills in sets and crossed cheques. We have here substituted definitions which appear to be more comprehensive and accurate than those in the draft Bill. For instance, according to the original definitions, a bill of exchange differs from a cheque only in requiring that the money ordered by the instrument to be paid should be held at the disposal of the drawer—a distinction which appears to us inaccurate, as a bill of exchange is in law, equally with a cheque, assumed to be drawn against funds in the hands of the drawee. Again, the definition of a cheque would include such an instrument as a tradesman's bill on which the debtor writes an order to pay for presentation to a cash-keeper—the ordinary mode of paying bills in mercantile houses, at least in Calcutta, and one adopted by many private persons. According to the draft Bill such an instrument would apparently be negotiable—a very serious result indeed. Again, the definition of a cheque does not require that it should be drawn upon a banker or a person acting as such, nor that it should be payable on demand. These are only a few of what seemed to us the more obvious omissions. We have, therefore, framed definitions which we think will include all the essentials of these instruments.

14. Section 8 defines the holder of a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque as a person entitled in his own name to the possession of it and to receive or recover the amount due thereon from the parties thereto. The holder of an instrument at the time of its loss or destruction also comes within the definition. The corresponding provision of the draft Bill seemed to us vague and unsatisfactory in its definition of "holder," and it was not consistently applied in the substantive provisions of the Bill.

15. In section 15 we have modified the definition of indorsement in the draft Bill by providing that it must be made for the purpose of negotiation. We have also included in the definition a like signature upon a stamped paper intended to be completed as a negotiable instrument.

16. We have added a section (17) providing, in accordance with English law, that, when an instrument may be construed either as a promissory note or bill of exchange, it shall be taken to be that which the holder elects.

17. In section 19 we have supplied an omission in the draft Bill by providing that an instrument in which no time for payment is specified and all cheques are payable on demand.

18. Section 20 provides for the filling up by the holder of blanks in a stamped paper intended to be completed as a negotiable instrument, but not completed when issued. The holder may complete the instrument for any amount covered by the stamp. To this section is added as an illustration section 9 of the draft Bill.

19. To the four presumptions as to negotiable instruments contained in the draft Bill and stated in section 27 of the present Bill, we have added presumptions that an accepted bill was accepted within a reasonable time after date and before maturity, that every bill or note receipted on the back was paid by the acceptor or maker, that is, by the party primarily liable to pay, and that a lost instrument was duly stamped.

20. In addition to the provisions of the draft Bill as to bills in sets we have (section 29) provided for the right of that holder of one of the parts who first acquires title to his part to possession of the other parts. We have also defined an acceptor in section 7 so as to include an acceptor of a set of bills.

21. In sections 30 to 37 (both inclusive) we have substituted the provisions of the recent English Act (39 & 40 Vict., c. 81) for the sections of the draft Bill relating to crossed cheques.

22. Chapter III deals with the parties to negotiable instruments.

23. Section 38, after providing that all persons capable of contracting may be parties to notes, bills and cheques, adds that a minor may draw, indorse, deliver and negotiate such instruments so as to bind all parties except himself.

24. Section 39 provides for persons binding themselves through their authorized agents, and adds that a general authority is not sufficient for this purpose, and that an authority to draw a bill does not of itself authorize an indorsement.

25. Sections 41 and 42 provide for the liability of partners on notes, bills and cheques, and section 43 applies the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, sections 42, 43 and 45 and chapter XI, to the rights and liabilities of partners created thereby, as well as to joint rights and liabilities.

26. Section 45 defines the liability of the drawee of a bill or cheque.

27. Section 46 extends to the case of the maker of a note, a definition contained in section 60 of the draft Bill of the liability of the acceptor of a bill of exchange.

28. Section 47 adds to the category of persons who (according to section 61 of the draft Bill) can accept a bill, all or some of several joint drawees.

29. Section 49 provides that every prior party to a negotiable instrument is liable thereon to a holder in due course, that is, to a bona fide holder for value.

30. Section 50 lays down that the maker of a note or cheque, the drawer of a bill until acceptance, and the acceptor are ordinarily the principal parties to the bill and the other parties their sureties, and section 51 adds that each prior party is a principal as regards the holder, and that the intermediate parties between such prior party and the holder are sureties for him. By section 52 the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, sections 132 to 147 (both inclusive) are rendered applicable to these relations of suretyship.

31. We have added a section (54) estopping the maker of a note, the drawer of a bill or cheque and the acceptor of a bill for the honour of the drawer from denying the original validity of the instrument.

32. Section 55 adopts, with modifications, the provisions of section 117 of the Evidence Act, 1872, and of sections 36 and 62 of the draft Bill, which estop the acceptor from denying the drawer's signature The estoppel is, we think, properly confined by this section to suits by holders other than the drawer

33 Section 56 estops the maker of a note and the acceptor of a bill payable to order from denying the payee's capacity to indorse

34 Section 57 adds to the estoppel against denying false signatures, contained in section 35 of the draft Bill, an estoppel against denying the capacity to contract of any prior party to a negotiable instrument in suit

35 Section 58 also carries on the same subject by declaring the acceptor of a bill with a forged indorsement not to be thereby relieved from liability if he knew it to be forged at the time of acceptance, and section 59 declares that the acceptor of a bill drawn in a fictitious name is not thereby relieved from liability to pay upon an indorsement by the same hand as the drawer's signature, and purporting to be made by the drawer

36 These sections supply some omissions in the draft Bill, and, we think, adequately provide for the due currency of negotiable instruments when once put into circulation and for the protection of their holders

37 The Bill then goes on to deal with the consideration for negotiable instruments and to protect the holder for value of instruments with respect to which there may have been originally no consideration, or a subsequent failure of consideration, wholly or in part

38 These sections (60 to 63, both inclusive) are substantially taken from the draft Bill We have added an illustration to section 62

39 Chapter IV deals with negotiation

40 To section 64, which is substantially the same as section 18 of the draft Bill, we have added an explanation to the effect that an instrument delivered upon a condition which has not happened is not negotiable except by a holder for value and without notice of such condition

41 Where the holder of a note or bill payable to or to the order of a specified person delivers it to another person without indorsing it, but with intent to transfer his title thereto, we think that (with reference to the Code of Civil Procedure, sections 36 and 37) the transferee should not be required to sue in the name of his transferor We have framed section 66 accordingly

42 In section 67 we have, in substantial accordance with section 40 of the draft Bill, dealt with the case of a bona fide holder for value of a bill transferred without indorsement In such a case we have declared the holder entitled to a return of the consideration if the bill is, after the transfer, avoided on account of any matter prior to the transfer, provided such return is claimed within a reasonable time

43 Section 71 describes the parties who may indorse and negotiate negotiable instruments The draft Bill does not appear to provide with sufficient clearness for this matter

44 Section 76 embodies section 23 of the draft Bill but it completes that section by enacting that an indorsement of a negotiable instrument for part of the amount due thereon transfers a right to retain the instrument and to receive and recover such part in the name of the indorser

45 Section 77 provides that no agreement which is not expressed on the instrument or which is collateral thereto shall be binding upon holders for value or those deriving title from such holders This section embodies and supplements the corresponding provisions of the draft Bill of which section 42 provided that the title of an indorsee should not be affected by transactions independent of the instrument, and section 99 that a holder in due course should not be affected by any agreement between two signers as to the order of their liability unless such agreement appeared on the face of the instrument The section as now drawn extends the draft sections to holders for value and to holders deriving title from holders for value, and also extends section 99 to all agreements not expressed on the instrument

46 Chapter V deals with presentment for acceptance and presentment for payment

47 Section 82 states the essentials of presentment for acceptance in the case of bills payable at or after sight, to which the draft Bill; section 56, clause (1), refers as bills payable after demand We have added a provision that presentment must be made by a person entitled to demand acceptance, and we have provided for the case in which the drawee cannot after reasonable search be found, and also for the case of a bill directed to the drawee at a particular place

48 Section 83 provides for presentment for sight of a promissory note payable at a certain period after sight—a matter unnoticed by the draft Bill

49 Section 84 alters section 56, clause (3), of the draft Bill by restricting the time allowed to the drawee for deliberation to the departure of the next post, if that should happen within the twenty-four hours otherwise allowed This is the English rule upon the subject

50 Sections 85 and 86 lay down the general rule for presentment for payment, which is not distinctly laid down in the draft Bill

51 Section 87, as to presentment for payment of inland instruments payable after date or sight, embodies section 133 of the draft Bill, but we have excluded cheques from this section, as we have provided (section 19), in accordance with English law, that such instruments are only payable on demand.

52 Section 88 provides for presentment for payment of an inland note payable by instalments—a matter omitted from the draft Bill

53 Section 90 modifies sections 139 and 140 of the draft Bill by requiring, in accordance with English law, that an instrument drawn or accepted payable at a specified place must,

in order to charge the maker or drawer, be presented for payment at that place. The draft Bill allows presentment to be made in such cases at the place of business or residence of the maker or acceptor.

54 Section 91 embodies the general rule as to the place of presentment.

55 Section 92 extends the rule in section 141 of the draft Bill as to personal presentment to the case of presentment for acceptance.

56. Section 93 taken together with section 105 embodies section 101 of the draft Bill, with the modification that the presentment of a cheque must be made before the relation between the drawer and his banker has been altered to the prejudice of the drawer, or the drawer will be discharged from liability. The draft Bill discharges the drawer only to the extent of his actual loss, but, according to the English cases, he is discharged altogether by such delay, the payee of the cheque being considered as having, by such delay, treated the cheque as payment, and as thereby electing to look to the drawee alone (see Hopkins v Ware, L R 4 Ex 268).

57 Section 96 is new. It provides that presentment for acceptance or payment may be made by or to a duly authorized agent, or the representative of a deceased party or the assignee of an insolvent party.

58 Section 98 states the cases in which presentment for payment is excused. It embodies sections 89 and 91 of the draft Bill, and adds the case in which the drawer could not suffer damage by want of presentment, in which case presentment is by English law not necessary as against him.

59 Chapter VI treats of payment and interest. Section 100 declares that payment should be made to the holder, for payment to any other party does not of itself discharge the maker or acceptor. The next two sections, 101 and 102, provide for interest upon notes, bills and cheques, and section 103 for indemnity to the payer of an instrument lost or which cannot be produced.

60 Chapter VII deals with discharge from liability on notes, bills and cheques.

61 Section 104 provides for the discharge of a maker, acceptor or indorser, not only when the holder cancels the acceptor's or indorser's name, and when the maker, acceptor or indorser pays the amount due (sections 88, 85, 87, and 88 of the draft Bill), but also where the holder releases or otherwise discharges the maker, acceptor or indorser.

62 Section 107 adopts the provisions of 16 & 17 Vict., c 59, section 19 by which the drawer of a cheque payable to order and purporting to be indorsed by or on behalf of the payee is discharged by payment in due course.

63 To section 110, which embodies sections 109 and 110 of the draft Bill, we have added an explanation showing what are material alterations in a negotiable instrument.

64 Section 111 is new, and provides that in special cases, such as that of a blank stamped instrument, an uncrossed cheque and an instrument endorsed in blank, a material alteration made by an indorsee discharges his indorser from liability to him in respect of the consideration as well as of the instrument.

65 Section 113 embodies section 115 of the draft Bill and section 11 of 39 & 40 Vict., c 81, relating to crossed cheques.

66 Chapter VIII treats of notice of dishonour.

67 Section 116 substantially agrees with sections 125, 127 and 131 of the draft Bill, but we have altered the description of the parties to whom notice of dishonour by non-acceptance or non-payment must be given. The description now adopted is that those parties must include all whom the holder seeks to make severally liable on the instrument, and some one of any parties jointly liable, but notice to the maker, drawee or acceptor is unnecessary.

68 Section 117 collects into one section a number of provisions as to the form of notice and the mode of giving it. These provisions are scattered over sections 126, 127, 128 and 130 of the draft Bill. We have already pointed out that this section differs from the draft Bill in requiring notice to the party addressed that he will be held liable.

69 Section 119 adds to section 132 of the draft Bill the provision that a party receiving notice of dishonour through his agent for presentment is entitled to the same period after such receipt for the purpose of giving notice as the holder has for giving notice.

70 Section 121 describes the cases in which no notice of dishonour is necessary. These cases include, besides those of dispensation by the party entitled to notice and of inability to give the notice (which are provided for in sections 66, 67, 68, 92 and 93 of the draft Bill), the case of the drawer countermanding payment, the case where the party charged could not suffer from want of such notice, the case of an acceptor who is also a drawer, the case of a promissory note which is not negotiable, and the case in which the party knowing the facts unconditionally promises to pay the amount due on the instrument.

71 Chapter IX contains the rules for noting and protest.

72 Section 122 substantially corresponds with section 119 of the draft Bill, but it allows the noting to be made either upon the instrument, or upon a paper attached thereto, or partly upon each. And the rules as to noting and protest are confined to bills and notes, whereas the draft Bill extended them to cheques—an extension for which there is apparently no authority.

73 We have inserted in sections 123 and 124 provisions regarding protest for better security.

74 In section 126 we have reproduced the provisions of Act VI of 1840, section 4, and of 2 & 3 Wm 4, c. 98, as to protest for non-payment after dishonour by non-acceptance.

75 Chapter X contains rules for calculating the reasonable time for presentment for acceptance or payment, for giving notice of dishonour and for noting. We have added in section 129 a provision that, in the case of notice of dishonour, when the parties carry on business or live in the same place, such notice is given within a reasonable time if it is despatched in time to reach its destination on the day next after the day of dishonour.

76 Chapter XI deals with acceptance and payment for honour. We provide (section 131) for the case of protest for better security. In accordance with a recent case (In re Overend, Gurney and Company, L R 6 Eq 344), we have declared (section 136) that the payer for honour shall have all the rights, in respect of the bill, of the holder at the time of such payment.

77 Chapter XII, which treats of compensation, retains (section 137) the provisions of the draft Bill (section 65) substantially unaltered.

78 Chapter XIII treats of foreign bills and restricts to foreign bills the section (73) of the draft Bill, which deals with the dishonour of a bill naming a drawee in case of need.

79 The provisions of chapter XIV as to international law are substantially those of the draft Bill.

80 In conclusion, we desire to express our obligations to the following honourable and learned Judges, namely, Messrs Turner, Kennedy, West and Nánábhái Haridás to the Madras Chamber of Commerce to Mr Stewart Gladstone, Mr R Stewart, Mr Dickson (late Secretary and Treasurer to the Bank of Bengal), and Mr Scrymgeour, the Calcutta Agent of the Oriental Bank Corporation. We recommend that the Bill as now altered be republished in the Gazette of India and the local Gazettes, that the opinions of the Local Governments, the High Courts and the mercantile community be invited thereon, and that its further consideration be stayed till the Council re-assembles in Calcutta.

A minor may draw, endorse, deliver and negotiate such instruments so as to bind all parties except himself

39. Every person capable of binding himself or of being bound as in the last preceding section mentioned, may so bind himself or be bound by a duly authorized agent acting in his name

A general authority to transact business and to receive and discharge debts does not confer upon an agent the power of accepting or endorsing bills of exchange so as to bind his principal

An authority to draw bills of exchange does not on itself import an authority to endorse

40. An agent who signs his name to a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque, without indicating thereon that he signs as agent, or that he does not intend thereby to incur personal responsibility, is liable personally on the instrument, except to those who know that he signed as agent, or that he had no such intention

41. When there are several drawees of a bill of exchange who are not partners, each of them can accept it for himself, but none of them can accept for another without his authority

of exchange or cheques, any partner may bind his firm by making, drawing, accepting, endorsing or negotiating such instruments in the name of his firm, but not otherwise

43. In the absence of a contract to the contrary, the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, sections 12, 13 and 45, and those of chapter XI of the same Act shall respectively apply to all joint rights and liabilities created by promissory notes, bills of exchange and cheques, and to the rights and liabilities thereon of partners

44. The drawer of a bill of exchange or cheque is bound, in case of dishonour by the drawer or acceptor thereof, to compensate the holder for any loss or damage caused thereby, provided due notice of dishonour has been given to, or received by, the drawer as hereinafter provided

45. The drawee of a bill of exchange or cheque, having sufficient funds of the drawer in his hands properly applicable to the payment of such bill or cheque, must accept the bill or pay the cheque when duly required so to do, and, in default of such acceptance or payment, must compensate the drawer for any loss or damage caused by such default

46. Except as provided in sections 38, 61, 62, 63, 79, 80, 89, 90, 104 and 109, and in the absence of a contract to the contrary,—

(a) the maker of a promissory note and the acceptor before maturity of a bill of exchange, are bound to pay the amount thereof according to the apparent tenor of the note or acceptance respectively, and

(b) the acceptor of a bill of exchange at or after maturity is bound to pay the amount thereof to the holder on demand

In default of such payment as aforesaid, such maker or acceptor is bound to compensate any party thereto for any loss or damage sustained by him, and caused by such default

47. No person except the drawer of a bill of exchange, or all or some of the several joint drawees or a person named therein as a drawee in case of need or an acceptor for honour, can bind himself by acceptance

48. Except as provided in sections 38, 61, 62, 63, 75, 76, 79, 82, 83, 85, 89, 93, 101, 105, 106, 108, 109, 110 and 121, clause (a), and in the absence of a contract to the contrary, every person who endorses and delivers a negotiable instrument before maturity, without, in such instrument, expressly excluding or making conditional his own liability, is bound thereby to every subsequent holder, in case of dishonour by the drawer, acceptor or maker, to compensate such holder for any loss or damage caused to him by such dishonour, provided due notice of dishonour has been given to, or received by, such indorser as hereinafter provided.

Every indorser after dishonour is liable as upon an instrument payable on demand.

49 Every prior party to a negotiable instrument is liable thereon to a holder in due course.

Liability of prior parties to holder in due course

50 The maker of a promissory note or cheque, the drawer of a bill of exchange until acceptance, and the acceptor are, as between themselves and any other parties thereto, in the absence of any contract to the contrary between themselves and such parties, liable thereon as principal debtors, and the other parties thereto are liable thereon as sureties for them.

Maker, drawer and acceptor principals

51 Every prior party to a negotiable instrument is, as between himself and the holder thereof, in the absence of any contract to the contrary between himself and the holder, liable thereon as a principal debtor, and the parties thereto, subsequent to him and prior to such holder, are liable to the holder as sureties for such prior party.

Prior party a principal in respect of each subsequent party

Illustration

A draws a bill on B, who accepts. A afterwards indorses the bill to C, C to D, and D to E. As between F and B, B is the principal debtor and A, C and D are his sureties. As between E and A, A is the principal debtor, and C and D are his sureties. As between E and C, C is the principal debtor and D is his surety.

52 The provisions of sections 132 to 147, both inclusive, of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, shall apply to the relations of suretyship between parties to negotiable instruments.

Suretyship

53 The indorser of a negotiable instrument is not discharged from his liability thereupon by the holder having merely forbore to sue a prior party, but where the holder, without the consent of the indorser, destroys or impairs the indorser's remedy against a prior party, the indorser is discharged from liability to the holder to the same extent as if the instrument had been paid at maturity.

Discharge of indorser's liability

A is the holder of a bill of exchange made payable to the order of B, which contains the following indorsements in blank —

First indorsement, "John De Souza"
Second indorsement, "Peter Williams"
Third indorsement, "Wright and Co"
Fourth indorsement, "John Rozario"

This bill A puts in suit against John Rozario and strikes out the indorsements by Peter Williams and Wright and Co. A is not entitled to recover anything from John Rozario.

54 No maker of a promissory note and no drawer of a bill of exchange or cheque, and no acceptor of a bill of exchange for the honour of the drawer shall, in a suit thereon, be permitted to deny the validity of the instrument as originally made or drawn.

Estoppel against denying original validity of instrument

55 No acceptor of a bill of exchange shall, in a suit thereon by a holder other than the drawer, be permitted to deny that the bill was drawn by the person by whom it purports to have been drawn.

Estoppel against denying drawer's signature

56 No maker of a promissory note and no acceptor of a bill of exchange payable to, or to the order of, a specified person shall, in a suit thereon, be permitted to deny the capacity of the payee thereof to indorse the same.

Estoppel against denying capacity of payee to indorse

57 No indorser of a negotiable instrument shall, in a suit thereon by a subsequent holder, be permitted to deny the signature or capacity to contract of any prior party to the instrument.

Estoppel against denying signature or capacity of prior party

58 An acceptor of a bill of exchange is not relieved from liability, by reason that an indorsement thereon is forged, if he knew or had reason to believe such indorsement to be forged when he accepted the bill.

Acceptor bound although indorsement forged

59 An acceptor of a bill of exchange drawn in a fictitious name is not, by reason that such name is fictitious, relieved from liability to any holder claiming under an indorsement by the same hand as the drawer's signature, and purporting to be made by the drawer.

Acceptance of bill drawn in fictitious name

60 If at any time there has been valuable consideration between any parties to a negotiable instrument for the making, drawing, acceptance, indorsement, negotiation or transfer thereof, the party receiving such consideration is, except as provided in sections 38, 62, 63, 75, 82, 83, 85, 89, 90, 93, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110 and 111, and in the absence of any contract to the contrary, liable upon the instrument to all subsequent parties thereto, and every subsequent holder is a holder for consideration.

Illustrations

(a) A indorses a bill of exchange to B, at the request of C, for C's account with B. B is a holder of the bill for consideration, and if he indorses it as a present to D, D is a holder for consideration.

(b) A, the holder of a negotiable instrument, indorses it in full to B in the belief that B has done something which he has not done. B, for consideration, indorses the instrument in blank to C, and C indorses it to D. D is a holder of the instrument for consideration.

(c) A, the holder of a negotiable instrument indorses it in full to B, in the belief that B has done something which he has not done. B, for consideration proceeding from C, indorses the instrument in blank to C, and C indorses it to D. D strikes out C's indorsement. D is a holder of the instrument for consideration.

61 When there was no consideration for the making, drawing, acceptance or indorsement of a negotiable instrument, or when the consideration has wholly failed, the maker, drawer, acceptor or indorser is not liable thereon to the party in whose favour the instrument was so made, drawn, accepted or indorsed, or to any party claiming through such party, unless valuable con-

Party not liable to one from whom no consideration moved

consideration moved from the claimant or from some party through whom he derives title. But the maker, drawer, acceptor or indorser is liable to compensate any subsequent party who, being liable on such instrument, pays the amount due thereon.

62. When the consideration for which a person signed a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque consisted of money, and was originally absent in part or has subsequently failed in part, the sum which a holder standing in immediate relation with such signer is entitled to receive from him is proportionally reduced.

Explanation—The drawer of a bill of exchange stands in immediate relation with the acceptor. The maker of a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque, stands in immediate relation with the payee, and the indorser with his indorsee. Other signers may by agreement stand in immediate relation with a holder.

Illustration

A draws a bill on B for Rs 500 payable to the order of A. B accepts the bill, but subsequently dishonours it by non payment. A sues B on the bill. B proves that it was accepted for value as to Rs 400, and as an accommodation to the plaintiff as to the residue. A can only recover Rs 400.

63. Where a part of the consideration for which a person signed a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque, though not consisting of money, is readily ascertainable in money, and there has been a failure of that part, the sum which a holder standing in immediate relation with such signer is entitled to receive from him, is proportionally reduced.

CHAPTER IV

OF NEGOTIATION.

64. Subject to the provisions of section 79, a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque payable to bearer is negotiable by delivery thereof.

Exception—A promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque delivered on condition that it is not to take effect except in a certain event is not negotiable (except in the hands of a holder for value without notice) unless such event happens.

Illustrations

(a) A, the holder of a negotiable instrument payable to bearer, delivers it to B's agent to keep for B. The instrument has been negotiated.

(b) A, the holder of a negotiable instrument payable to bearer which is in the hands of A's banker, who is at the time the banker of B, directs the banker to transfer the instrument to B's credit in the banker's account with B. The banker does so, and accordingly now possesses the instrument as B's agent. The instrument has been negotiated, and B has become the holder of it.

65. Subject to the provisions of section 79, a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque payable to, or to the order of, a specified person is negotiable by the holder by indorsement and delivery thereof.

66. If the holder of such an instrument as in the last preceding section mentioned, delivers it to another person without indorsing it, but with intent to transfer his title thereto, the transferee acquires by such delivery all the rights which the transferor had as holder except the right of negotiation, and he may sue upon the instrument in his own name.

67. If such transfer, as in the last preceding section mentioned, is made for valuable consideration to a person having no reason to believe in the existence of any matter affecting the validity of the instrument or of the transfer thereof, and the instrument is thereafter avoided as against any party on account of matters prior to such transfer, the transferor is bound to return to the transferee the consideration received, provided that such return is claimed within a reasonable time.

68. The holder of a negotiable instrument indorsed in blank may, without signing his own name, by writing above the indorser's signature a direction to pay to any other person as indorsee, convert the indorsement in blank into an indorsement in full, and the holder does not thereby incur the responsibility of an indorser.

69. The indorsement of a negotiable instrument transfers to the indorsee the property therein with the right of further negotiation, but the indorsement may, by express words, be restrained to a transfer of the property without such right, or may merely constitute the indorsee an agent to indorse the instrument, or to receive its contents for the indorser, or for some other specified person.

70. The indorser of a negotiable instrument may, by express words in the indorsement, restrict or exclude the right of the indorsee to negotiate the instrument, although the instrument was, at the time of such words being written, payable to the bearer thereof.

Illustrations

B signs the following indorsements on different negotiable instruments—

- (a) "Pay the contents to C only"
- (b) "Pay C for my use"
- (c) "Pay C or order for the account of B"
- (d) "The within must be credited to C"

These indorsements exclude the right of further negotiation by C.

- (e) "Pay C"
- (f) "Pay C value in account with the Oriental Bank"

(g) "Pay the contents to C being part of the consideration in a certain deed of assignment executed by C to the indorser and others"

These indorsements do not exclude the right of further negotiation by C.

71. Every sole maker, drawer, payee or indorsee, or all of several joint makers, drawers, payees or indorsees of a negotiable instrument may, if the negotiability of such instrument has not been restricted or excluded, as in the last preceding section mentioned, indorse and negotiate the same.

Explanation—Nothing in this section enables a maker or drawer to indorse or negotiate an instrument, unless he is in lawful possession or is holder thereof, or enables a payee or indorsee to indorse or negotiate an instrument, unless he is holder thereof.

Illustration

A bill is drawn payable to A or order. A indorses it to B, the indorsement not containing the words "or order," or any equivalent words. B may negotiate the instrument.

72. The indorser of a negotiable instrument who excludes his own liability or makes it conditional by express words in the indorsement, exclude his own liability thereon, or make such liability or the right of the indorsee to receive the amount due thereon, depend upon the happening of a specified event, although such event may never happen.

Where an indorser so excludes his liability and afterwards becomes the holder of the instrument, all intermediate indorsers are liable to him.

Illustrations

(a) The indorser of a negotiable instrument signs his name, adding the words—
"Without recourse to me."

Upon this indorsement he incurs no liability.

(b) A, the payee and holder of a bill of exchange, indorses it to B, and B to C. C then indorses it back to A, each of these indorsements being in due course. A is reinstated in his former rights upon the instrument, but has not acquired any rights against B or C.

(c) A is the payee and holder of a negotiable instrument. Excluding personal liability by an indorsement "without recourse," he transfers the instrument to B, and B indorses it to C, who indorses it to A. A is not only reinstated in his former rights, but has the rights of an indorsee against B and C.

73. A holder of a negotiable instrument who derives title from holder in due course has the rights thereon of that holder in due course.

74. A negotiable instrument indorsed in blank is payable to the bearer thereof even although originally payable to order.

75. If a negotiable instrument after having been indorsed in blank is indorsed in full, the amount of it cannot be claimed from the indorser in full, except by the person to whom it has been indorsed in full, or by one who derives title through such person.

76. Where a negotiable instrument is indorsed for part of the sum due thereon to the indorser, the indorsement transfers only a right to retain the instrument, and to receive or sue for such part in the name of the indorser.

77. No agreement between any parties to a negotiable instrument which is not expressed thereon, or which is collateral thereto, is binding upon any other holder thereof for valuable consideration, or upon any holder deriving title from a holder for valuable consideration.

Illustration

A person who is a creditor of A signs, as acceptor, a bill of exchange in A's favour for 3,000 rupees. A being the holder indorses it for value to B who is aware that the acceptor was a creditor of A. A's debt to the acceptor cannot be set off against B's claim on the bill.

78. The legal representative of a deceased person cannot negotiate by delivery a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque payable to order and indorsed by the deceased but not delivered.

79. When a negotiable instrument has been obtained lost, or has been obtained by unlawful means or from any maker, acceptor or holder thereof by unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, no possessor or indorsee, who claims through the person who so obtained the instrument, is entitled to receive the amount due thereon from such maker, acceptor or holder, or from any party prior to such holder, unless such possessor or indorsee is, or some person through whom he claims was, a holder thereof in due course.

80. The holder of a negotiable instrument, who has acquired it after dishonour, whether by non-acceptance or non-payment, with notice thereof, or after maturity, has only the rights thereon of his transferor.

Provided that any person who, in good faith and for valuable consideration, becomes the holder, after maturity, of a promissory note or bill of exchange made, drawn or accepted without consideration for the purpose of enabling some party thereto to raise money thereon, may recover the amount of the note or bill from any prior party.

Illustration

The acceptor of a bill of exchange, when he accepted it, deposited with the drawer certain goods as a collateral security for the payment of the bill, with power to the drawer to sell the goods and apply the proceeds in discharge of the bill if it were not paid at maturity. The bill not having been paid at maturity, the drawer sold the goods and retained the proceeds, but indorsed the bill to A. A's title is subject to the same objection as the drawer's title.

81. A negotiable instrument may be negotiated (except by the maker, drawee or acceptor after maturity) until payment or satisfaction thereof by the maker, drawee or acceptor at or after maturity, but not after such payment or satisfaction.

CHAPTER V

OF PRESENTMENT

82. A bill of exchange payable at or after sight must, if no time or place is specified therein for presentment, be presented to the drawee thereof for acceptance, if he can, after reasonable search, be found, by a person entitled to demand acceptance, within a reasonable time after it is drawn, and in business hours on a business day. In default of such presentment, no party thereto is liable thereon to the person making such default.

If the drawee cannot, after reasonable search, be found, the bill is dishonoured.

If the bill is directed to the drawee at a particular place, it must be presented at that place, and if at the due date for presentment he has absconded, the bill is dishonoured.

83. A promissory note, payable at a certain period after sight, must be presented to the maker thereof for sight, by a person entitled to demand payment, within a reasonable time after it is made and in business hours on a business day. In default of such presentment

no party thereto is liable thereon to the person making such default

84. The drawee of a bill of exchange presented to him for acceptance may retain the same until the end of twenty-four hours, or until the next post to the holder, whichever first happens, to consider whether he will accept it

Explanation—In calculating the twenty-four hours mentioned in this section, days which are not business days shall be excluded

85. Promissory notes, bills of exchange and cheques must be presented for payment to the maker, acceptor or drawee thereof respectively, by or on behalf of the holder as hereinafter provided. In default of such presentment, the other parties thereto are not liable thereon to such holder

Exception—No presentment is necessary of a promissory note payable on demand in order to charge the maker thereof

86 Presentment for payment must be made during the usual hours of business, and, if at a banker's, within banking hours

87. An inland promissory note or bill of exchange, made payable at a specified period after date or sight thereof, must be presented for payment within three days after the end of such period

88. An inland promissory note payable by instalments must be presented for payment within three days after the date fixed for payment of each instalment, and non-payment on such presentment has the same effect as non-payment of a note at maturity

89. A promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque made, drawn or accepted payable at a specified place and not elsewhere, must, in order to charge any party, thereto, be presented for payment at that place.

90 A promissory note or bill of exchange made drawn or accepted payable at a specified place must, in order to charge the maker or drawer thereof, be presented for payment at that place

91. A promissory note or bill of exchange, not made payable as in the last two preceding sections mentioned, must be presented for payment at one of the places specified (if any), or at the place of business (if any), or at the usual residence, of the maker, drawee or acceptor thereof, as the case may be

92. If the maker, drawee or acceptor of a negotiable instrument has no known place of business or fixed residence, and no place is specified in the instrument for presentment for acceptance or payment, such presentment may be made to him in person wherever he can be found

93. A cheque must, in order to charge the drawer, be presented at the bank upon which it is drawn within a reasonable time after it was first received from the drawer, or before the relation between the drawer and his banker has been altered to the prejudice of the drawer

94. A cheque must, in order to charge any person except the drawer, be presented within a reasonable time after receipt thereof from such person

95. A negotiable instrument payable on demand must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after it is received by the holder

96. Presentment for acceptance or payment may be made by or to the duly authorized agent of the drawee, maker or acceptor, as the case may be, or where he has died, to his legal representative, or where he has been declared an insolvent, to his assignee

97 When the holder of a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque, and the maker, acceptor or drawee reside in different places, the instrument may be forwarded by post for the purpose of being presented for payment. In such case, when there is a daily post, the instrument must be posted at some time not later than the last post on the day following that on which the holder has received such instrument, and the person receiving such instrument by the post must present it not later than the day following its receipt, where there is not a daily post, the instrument must be forwarded and presented within a reasonable time

98. No presentment for payment is necessary, and the instrument is dishonoured at the due date for presentment, in any of the following cases—

(a) if the maker, drawee or acceptor closes his place of business, or cannot after reasonable search be found, or intentionally prevents the presentment of the instrument, or access to him cannot be obtained during business hours,

(b) as against any party if, after maturity, with knowledge that the instrument has not been presented—

he makes a part payment on account of the amount due on the instrument, or promises to pay the amount due thereon in whole or in part, or otherwise waives his right to take advantage of any default in presentment for payment,

(c) as against the drawer, if the drawer could not suffer damage from the want of such presentment

99 When a bill of exchange, accepted payable at a specified bank, has been duly presented there for payment and dishonoured, if the banker so negligently keeps,

Liability of banker for negligently dealing with bill presented for acceptance deals with or delivers back such bill as to cause loss to the holder, he must compensate the holder for such loss

CHAPTER VI

OF PAYMENT AND INTEREST

100 Subject to the provisions of section 104, clause (c), payment of the amount due on a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque must, in order to discharge the maker or acceptor, be made to the holder of the instrument

101. When interest at a specified rate is expressly made payable on a promissory note or bill of exchange, interest shall be calculated at the rate specified, on the amount and from the date of the instrument, until tender or realization of the amount due thereon

102. When no rate of interest is specified in the instrument, interest on the amount thereof shall, except in cases provided for by the Code of Civil Procedure, section 532, be calculated at the rate of six per centum per annum, from the date at which the same ought to have been paid by the party charged, until tender or realization of the amount due thereon

Explanation—When the party charged is the indorser of an instrument dishonoured by non-payment, he is liable to pay interest only from the time that he receives notice of the dishonour

103. Any person liable to pay, and called upon by the holder thereof to pay, the amount due on a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque is before payment entitled to have it shown, and is on payment entitled to have it delivered up, to him, or, if the instrument is lost or cannot be produced, to be indemnified against any further claim thereon against him

CHAPTER VII

OF DISCHARGE FROM LIABILITY ON NOTES, BILLS AND CHEQUES

104. The maker, acceptor or indorser respectively of a negotiable instrument is discharged from liability, instrument is discharged from liability thereon—

(a) to a holder thereof cancelling such acceptor's or indorser's name with intent by cancellation, to discharge him, and to all parties claiming under such holder,
(b) to a holder thereof otherwise discharging such maker, acceptor or indorser, by release, and to all parties deriving title under such holder after notice of such discharge,
(c) to all parties thereto, if the instrument is payable to bearer, and such maker, acceptor or indorser pays in due course the amount due thereon

105 If the holder of a bill of exchange allows the drawee more than twenty-four hours to consider whether he will accept the same, all previous parties not consenting to such allowance are thereby discharged from liability to such holder.

106. When a cheque has not been duly presented for payment, and the drawer thereof has thereby sustained loss or damage, he is discharged from liability to the holder making default in presentment

107 Where a cheque, payable to order, purports to be indorsed by or on behalf of the payee, the drawee is discharged by payment in due course

108. If the holder of a bill of exchange acquiesces in a conditional acceptance, or one limited to part of the sum mentioned in the bill, or which substitutes a different place or time for payment, or which is not signed by all the drawees (not being partners), all previous parties whose consent is not obtained to such acceptance are discharged as against the holder and those claiming under him

109 Alterations made in a promissory note or bill of exchange by a person not a party to such note or bill have no effect upon the liability of a party who signed the instrument as maker or acceptor before such alterations were made

110. Save as provided in sections 20, 32, 68 and 108, any material alteration of a negotiable instrument renders the same void as against any party thereto at the time, and not consenting to such alteration, unless such alteration was made in order to carry out the common intention of the original parties

Explanation—The following are material alterations within the meaning of this section, namely, an alteration of date, amount, or of time or place of payment, the insertion in the body of the instrument of words authorising the transfer thereof, or stating the value thereof to have been received on a particular account, the addition of a name as that of a maker or drawer, obliteration of, addition to, or alteration of, the crossing of a cheque

111. Save as last aforesaid, any such alteration as in the last preceding section mentioned, if made by an indorsee, discharges his indorser from all liability to him in respect of the instrument or the consideration thereof

112. An acceptor or indorser of a negotiable instrument is bound by his acceptance or indorsement notwithstanding any previous alteration of the instrument

113. Where a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque has been materially altered, but does not appear to have been so altered, or where a cheque has been crossed but does not appear to have been crossed, payment thereof by a person or banker able to pay and paying the same according to the apparent tenor thereof at the time of payment and otherwise in due course, shall discharge such person or banker so paying from all liability thereon, and such payment shall not be questioned by reason of the instrument having been altered or the cheque crossed

CHAPTER VIII OF NOTICE OF DISHONOUR

114 A bill of exchange is said to be dishonoured by non-acceptance when the drawee, or one of several drawees not being partners, makes default in acceptance upon being duly required to accept the bill

115 A promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque is said to be dishonoured by non-payment when the maker of the note, acceptor of the bill, or drawee of the cheque makes default in payment upon being duly required to pay the same

116. When a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque is dishonoured by non-acceptance or non-payment, the holder thereof, or some party thereto who remains liable thereon, must give notice that the instrument has been so dishonoured to all other parties whom the holder seeks to make severally liable thereon, and to some one of several parties whom he seeks to make jointly liable thereon

Nothing in this section renders it necessary to give notice to the maker of the dishonoured promissory note, or the drawee or acceptor of the dishonoured bill of exchange or cheque

117. Notice of dishonour may be given by or to a duly authorised agent of the person by or to whom it is required to be given, or, where he has died, to his legal representative, or, where he has been declared an insolvent, to his assignee, may be oral or written, may, if written, be sent by post, and may be in any form, but it must inform the party to whom it is given, either in express terms or by reasonable intendment, that the instrument has been dishonoured, and in what way, and that he will be held liable thereon, and it must be given within a reasonable time after dishonour, at the place of business, or (in case such party has no place of business) at the residence, of the party for whom it is intended

If the notice is sent by post and miscarries, such miscarriage does not render the notice invalid

118 Any party receiving notice of dishonour must, in order to charge any prior party, transmit it to such party within a reasonable time, unless such party otherwise receives due notice as provided by section 116

119 When the instrument is deposited with an agent for presentment, the agent is entitled to the same time to give notice to his principal as if he were the holder giving notice of dishonour, and the principal is entitled to a further like period to give notice of dishonour

120 When the party to whom notice of dishonour is despatched is dead, but the party despatching the notice is ignorant of his death, the notice is sufficient

121 No notice of dishonour is necessary—
(a) when it is dispensed with by the party entitled thereto,

(b) in order to charge the drawer, when he has countermanded payment,

(c) when the party charged could not suffer damage from want of notice,

(d) when the party entitled to notice cannot after due search be found, or the party bound to give notice is, for any other reason, unable without any fault of his own to give it,

(e) to charge the drawers, when the acceptor is also a drawer,

(f) in the case of a promissory note which is not negotiable,

(g) when the party entitled to notice, knowing the facts, promises unconditionally to pay the amount due on the instrument

CHAPTER IX OF NOTING AND PROTEST

122 When a promissory note or bill of exchange has been dishonoured by non-acceptance or non-payment, the holder may cause such dishonour to be noted by a notary public upon the instrument or upon a paper attached thereto, or partly upon each

Such note must be made within a reasonable time after dishonour, and must specify the date of dishonour, the reason, if any, assigned for such dishonour, or, if not expressly dishonoured, the reason why the holder treats the instrument as dishonoured, and the notary's charges

123 When a promissory note or bill of exchange has been dishonoured by non-acceptance or non-payment, the holder may, within a reasonable time, cause such fact to be noted and certified by a notary public. Such certificate is called a protest and shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, in a suit upon the instrument, be deemed evidence of the fact of dishonour

When the acceptor of a bill of exchange has become insolvent, or his credit has been publicly impeached, before the maturity of the bill, the holder may, within a reasonable time, cause a notary public to demand better security of the acceptor, and on its being refused may, within a reasonable time, cause such facts to be noted and certified as aforesaid. Such certificate is called a protest for better security

124 A protest under section 123 must contain—

(a) either the instrument itself, or a literal transcript of the instrument and of everything written or printed thereupon,

(b) the name of the person for whom and against whom the instrument has been protested,

(c) a statement that payment or acceptance, or better security, as the case may be, has been demanded of such person by the notary public, the terms of his answer, if any, or a statement that he gave no answer, or that he could not be found,

(d) when the note or bill has been dishonoured, the place and time of dishonour, and when better security has been refused, the place and time of refusal,

(e) the subscription of the notary public making the protest,

(f) in the event of an acceptance for honour or of a payment for honour, the name of the person by whom, of the person for whom, and the manner in which, such acceptance or payment was offered and effected

125 When a promissory note or bill of exchange is required by law to be protested, notice of such protest must be given instead of notice of dishonour, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions, but the notice may be given by the notary public who makes the protest

126 All bills of exchange drawn payable at some other place than the place mentioned as the residence of the drawee, and which are dishonoured by non-acceptance, may, without further presentment to the drawee, be protested for non-payment, in the place specified for payment, unless paid before maturity

CHAPTER X

OF REASONABLE TIME

127. In determining what is a reasonable time for presentment for acceptance or payment, for giving notice of dishonour and for noting, regard shall be had to the nature of the instrument and the usual course of dealing with respect to similar instruments, and in calculating such time, days which are not business days shall be excluded

128. Presentment is made within a reasonable time, within the meaning of sections 82, 93, 94 and 95, if it is made on the business day next after that on which the holder received the bill, negotiable instrument or cheque referred to, or when there is no more delay than is occasioned by the residence of the parties to the bill, negotiable instrument or cheque in different places

Illustration

A draws on B resident at Calcutta, a bill of exchange in favour of C payable at sight, and sends it to C at Benares C, the day after he receives it, indorses it to D, and despatches it to D at Calcutta D, the day after he receives the bill, presents it for payment The delay which has taken place in presenting the bill is not unreasonable

129. If the holder and the party to whom notice of dishonour is given carry on business or live (as the case may be) in different places, such notice is given within a reasonable time if it is despatched by the next post or on the day next after the day of dishonour

If the said parties carry on business or live in the same place, such notice is given within a reasonable time if it is despatched in time to reach its destination on the day next after the day of dishonour

130. A party receiving notice of dishonour transmits the notice within a reasonable time if he transmits it within the same time after its receipt as he would have had to give notice if he had been the holder

CHAPTER XI

OF ACCEPTANCE AND PAYMENT FOR HONOUR

131 When a bill of exchange has been noted or protested for non-acceptance or for better security, any person may, with the consent of the holder, by writing on the bill, accept the same for the honour of any party thereto

132 Where the acceptance does not express for whose honour it is made, it shall be deemed to be made for the honour of the drawer

133 An acceptor for honour binds himself to all parties subsequent to the party for whose honour he accepts to pay the amount of the bill if the drawee do not, and such party, and all prior parties, are liable in their respective capacities to compensate the acceptor for honour for all loss or damage sustained by him in consequence of such acceptance

But an acceptor for honour is not liable to the holder of the bill unless it is presented, or (in case the address given by such acceptor on the bill is a place other than the place where the bill is made payable) forwarded for presentment, not later than the day next after the day of its maturity

134 An acceptor for honour cannot be charged unless the bill has at its maturity been presented to the drawee for payment and has been dishonoured by him, and noted or protested for such dishonour

135 When a bill of exchange has been noted or protested for non-payment, any person may pay the same for the honour of any party liable to pay the same, provided that the person so paying has previously declared before a notary public the party for whose honour he pays, and that such declaration has been recorded by such notary public

136 Any person so paying, as in the last preceding section provided, is entitled to all the rights, in respect of the bill, of the holder at the time of such payment, and may recover from the party for whose honour he pays all sums so paid, with interest thereon and with all expenses properly incurred in making such payment

CHAPTER XII

OF COMPENSATION

137. The compensation payable in case of dishonour of a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque, by any party liable to the holder or any indorsee, shall (except in cases provided for by the Code of Civil Procedure, section 532) be determined by the following rules —

(a) The holder is entitled to the amount due upon the instrument, together with the expenses properly incurred in presenting, noting and protesting it,

(b) When the person charged resides at a place different from that at which the instrument was payable, the holder is entitled to receive such sum at the current rate of exchange between the two places,

(c) An indorser who, being liable, has paid the amount due on the same is entitled to the amount so paid with interest at six per centum per annum from the date of payment until tender or realization thereof, together with all expenses caused by the dishonour and payment,

(d) When the person charged and the indorser reside at different places, the indorser is entitled to receive such sum at the current rate of exchange between the two places,

(e) The party entitled to compensation may draw a bill upon the party liable to compensate him, payable at sight or on demand, for the amount due to him together with all expenses properly incurred by him. Such bill must be accompanied by the instrument dishonoured and the protest thereof (if any). If such bill is dishonoured, the party dishonouring the same is liable to make compensation thereof in the same manner as in the case of the original bill.

CHAPTER XIII

OF FOREIGN BILLS

138 Where a drawee in case of need is named in a foreign bill of exchange, the bill is not dishonoured until dishonoured by such drawee.

139. Foreign bills of exchange must be protested for dishonour when such protest is required by the law of the place where they are drawn.

CHAPTER XIV

OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

140 In the absence of a contract to the contrary, the liability of the maker of a foreign promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque is regulated in all essential matters by the law of the place where he made the instrument the liability of the acceptor, by the law of the place where he accepted the instrument the liability of the indorser, by the law of the place where he indorsed the instrument.

Illustration

A bill of exchange was drawn by A in California, where the rate of interest is 25 per cent, and accepted by B, payable in Washington, where the rate of interest is 6 per cent. The bill is indorsed in British India, and is dishonoured. An action on the bill is brought against B in British India. He is liable to pay interest at the rate of 6 per cent only, but if A is charged as drawer, A is liable to pay interest at the rate of 25 per cent.

141. Where a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque is made payable in a different place from that in which it is made or indorsed, the law of the place where it is made payable determines what constitutes dishonour and what notice of dishonour is sufficient.

Illustration

A bill of exchange drawn and indorsed in British India, but accepted payable in France, is dishonoured. The indorsee causes it to be protested for such dishonour, and gives notice thereof in accordance with the law of France, though not in accordance with the rules herein contained in respect of bills which are not foreign. The notice is sufficient.

142. If a negotiable instrument is made, drawn, accepted, or indorsed, out of British India, but in accordance with the law of British India, the circumstance that any agreement evidenced by such instrument is invalid according to the law of the country wherein it was entered into does not invalidate any subsequent acceptance or endorsement made thereon in British India.

143. Until the contrary is proved, the law of any foreign country regarding promissory notes, bills of exchange and cheques shall be presumed to be the same as that of British India.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 17th October 1877, and was referred to a Select Committee —

No 18 of 1877

A Bill to amend the North-Western Provinces Land-Revenue Act, 1873

For the purpose of amending the North-Western Provinces Land-Revenue Act, 1873, it is hereby enacted as follows —

Addition to Act XIX of 1873, s 29      1 To section 29 of the same Act the following clause shall be added —

“EXPLANATION—Charges incurred in the preparation of village-maps shall be deemed to be charges within the meaning of this section”

2 In section 194 of the said Act, for the words “otherwise rendered” the words “declared by the Local Government” shall be substituted

3 To section 199 of the same Act the following Amendment of Act ing clause shall be added XIX of 1873, s 199 (namely) —

“Persons whose property<sup>c</sup> is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards shall not be competent to create, without the sanction of the Court, any charge upon, or interest in, such property or any part thereof”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The primary object of this Bill, which has been recommended by the Local Government, is to deprive persons whose estates are under the management of the Court of Wards of power to charge or alienate those estates. The opportunity has been taken to make a slight improvement in the wording of section 194 of the North-Western Provinces Land-Revenue Act, 1873, and to remove a doubt as to the power of applying the patwārī-fund raised under section 29 to defray the cost of preparing those village-maps, on which the correctness of the Patwārī's records mainly depends

2. As Act VII of 1865 has never been extended to Madras or Bombay, and much confusion and uncertainty might be created by its continuing in force in so far as not superseded by the present Bill, we have provided (section 1) for its repeal, as also that of Acts VII of 1869 and XIII of 1873, in any territories to which the present Bill may be extended

Despatch from the Secretary of State for India, No 41, dated 5th July 1877

From the Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, No 1264 F, dated 6th October 1877, and enclosure

Note by the Hon'ble T. C. Hope, dated 9th October 1877

We have also provided that such extension shall be of the whole Bill, and not of parts only since it will always remain optional with Local Governments to exercise or not the powers which any chapter or section confers

3 We have improved the definitions of "Forest-officer" and "Forest-produce," and have assimilated that of "cattle" to the definition in the Cattle Trespass Act.

4 In order to avoid the delay and expense of an elaborate preliminary demarcation, which was objected to in many quarters, we have provided (section 4) that the notification of the proposal to constitute a Reserved Forest may be in general terms, but have indicated more clearly (section 19) that the final demarcation must be precise

5 We have made more clear (section 4) the intention that the Forest Settlement Officer should not, except under very exceptional circumstances, be a Forest-officer. But, in deference to representations from British Burma and the North-West Provinces, we have provided an option of entrusting the forest settlement to two or three officers instead of one.

6 In order to meet the case of the wild tribes and illiterate persons who will in many instances be the possessors of rights over forest lands, we have allowed (section 6) claims to be preferred orally to the Forest Settlement Officer and made it obligatory on him to take such statements down in writing

7 With the same view we have required (section 7) the Forest Settlement Officer to inquire into the existence of rights, by searching the Government records and taking evidence, even though the people themselves, through ignorance or neglect, may not appear to claim them

8 We have also provided (section 9) for the hearing of claims not preferred within the time prescribed by section 6, whenever claimants can shew sufficient cause for their delay

9 In section 10 we have made more clear the alternative courses which may be pursued in the case of claims to or over land, and have also provided for compensation being given wholly or partly in land where the parties prefer land to money.

10 From section 12 the provisions contained in section 10 of the Bill as introduced for the rejection of rights which were not habitually exercised by the claimants at the time of the notification under section 4, or which were not required for the beneficial use of the land or premises or of the person claiming the same, have been omitted

11 Sections 16 and 17 express more clearly than section 15 of the Bill as introduced the intention of the latter as to the authorities by whom and the manner in which appeals are to be heard

12 We have made a new provision (section 21) for the revision by the Local Government, at any time not exceeding five years from the date of the Notification under section 19, of any settlement effected under section 14 which experience has shewn to be unworkable

13 We have provided (section 24) that rights appendant to any land or house may be freely alienated therewith

14 Section 28 has been amended in phraseology, so as to admit of forests, the use of which is essential to village communities, or in which such communities have rights jointly with Government, being assigned to such communities, under suitable precautions against waste or misappropriation

15 In section 32 of the Bill as introduced it was provided that the provisions of chapter IV, regarding district or (as we prefer to term them) Protected forests, should be without prejudice to all existing rights of individuals or communities. In order, however, that holders of rights may not be put to the inconvenience and expense of proving them in order to establish their immunity from the restrictions of the chapter, we have provided (section 29) that no land shall be constituted a Protected Forest unless the nature and extent of the rights of Government and other persons in it have been enquired into and recorded at a survey or settlement or in some other sufficient manner. At the same time it has been left open to any person to dispute the correctness of such record

16 In section 30 we have inserted a provision to permit of the closing of portions of a Protected Forest for a limited period, provided the remainder of the forest be sufficient and convenient for the exercise of rights thus temporarily suspended in the portion closed. This provision is in accordance with the rules in the North-West Provinces made under the existing law, and is generally considered necessary for purposes of renovation

17 In section 32 we have given power to make rules to regulate the exercise of recorded rights, so as to prevent, in the interest of the community, waste and injury to the forest

18 In order to preclude hardship to the owners of private forests from the operation of chapter V, we have enabled such owners (section 37) to require the Government to acquire the land for public purposes.

19 We have added a section (38) to enable Government, at the request of owners of land, either to administer such land as a Reserved or Protected Forest, or to apply to it all or any of the provisions of the Bill. This improvement has been made at the suggestion of the Panjáb Government, with special reference to sacred and other private forests in that province, but we have reason to believe that the option of obtaining for their forest property the same legal protection, and also (if desired) the same skilled administration, as the Government provides for its own, is likely to be welcomed by the owners of rent-free estates and other private property in many parts of India

20 We have restricted (section 39) the power of levying a duty on timber produced in British India to timber in respect of which the Government has any rights. The holders of lands under lakhiraj, inami or other tenures in which forest rights are included will thus not be interfered with. We have likewise validated the levy of such duties now existing, which are numerous in certain parts of India.

21 In section 45 we have empowered the Local Government to exempt any particular class of timber from the operation of the section, partly in order not to interfere with the collection of drift wood for fuel, which is common among the poorer classes in certain localities.

22 We have recast the earlier sections of chapter IX, so as to bring them into closer conformity with similar provisions in other special laws.

23 In section 63 we have inserted a provision that no person shall be arrested for any act which is an offence under chapter IV, excepting for a violation of a prohibition under clause (c) of section 30.

24 In section 67 we have restricted the power of Forest-officers, as regards compounding, to the receipt of compensation for damage committed.

25 We have enlarged section 73 by empowering the Local Government to make rules regarding the rewards to be paid to officers and informers out of the proceeds of fines and confiscations, and for the preservation, reproduction and disposal of trees and timber belonging to Government but grown on lands belonging to, or in the occupation of, private persons.

26 We have inserted a new section (77) to enable the Government to enforce service in cases where persons are entitled to a share in the produce of forests on the condition of duly performing service in connection with such forests.

27 We have carefully considered the objections made by the Government of Madras to the original draft of the Bill which was circulated previous to its introduction into the Council. We are of opinion that the improvements which have now been made in both the language and matter of the Bill are so material as substantially to meet these objections, some of which were based on a misapprehension of what was intended. It appears to us that the Bill, especially considering the latitude for meeting local peculiarities which the power of making rules affords, is now not unsuitable to the circumstances of the Madras Presidency, and is such as might be accepted by the Local Government. At the same time, being permissive in its application, it contains nothing to prevent separate local legislation, if that course should be eventually preferred.

28 The publication ordered by the Council has taken place, but we consider republication to be desirable.

29 We recommend that the Bill as now amended be passed.

OF RESERVED FORESTS

3 The Local Government may, from time to time, constitute any forest-land or waste-land which is the property of Government, or over which the Government has proprietary rights, or to the whole or any part of the forest-produce of which the Government is entitled, a Reserved Forest in the manner hereinafter provided

4. Whenever it is proposed to constitute any land a Reserved Forest, the Local Government shall publish a notification in the official Gazette—

(a) declaring that it is proposed to constitute such land a Reserved Forest,

(b) specifying the limits of such forest,

(c) appointing an officer (hereinafter called "the Forest Settlement Officer") to enquire into and determine the existence, nature and extent of any rights alleged to exist in favour of any person to or over any land comprised within such limits, or to or over any forest-produce, and to deal with the same as provided in this chapter

Explanation 1—For the purpose of clause (b) of this section it shall be sufficient to describe the limits of the forest by roads, rivers, ridges or other well-known or readily intelligible boundaries

Explanation 2—The officer appointed under clause (c) of this section shall ordinarily not be a Forest-officer

Nothing in this section shall prevent the Local Government from appointing any number of officers not exceeding three, not more than one of whom shall be a Forest-officer, to perform the duties of a Forest Settlement Officer under this Act.

5 During the interval between the publication of such notification and the date fixed by the notification under section nineteen, no right shall be acquired to, over, or in respect of the land comprised in such notification, except under a grant or contract in writing made or entered into by or on behalf of Government or of some person in whom such right was vested when the former notification was issued, and no fresh clearings for cultivation or for any other purpose shall be made in such land.

6 When a notification has been issued under section four, the Forest Settlement Officer shall publish in the language of the country in every town and village in the neighbourhood of the land comprised therein, a proclamation —

(a) specifying the limits of the proposed forest,

(b) explaining the consequences which, as hereinafter provided, will ensue on the reservation of such forest, and

(c) fixing a period of not less than three months from the date of such proclamation, and requiring every person claiming any right as aforesaid either to present to such officer within such period a written notice specifying, or to appear before him and state, the nature of such right and the amount and particulars of the compensation (if any) claimed in respect thereof.

7 The Forest Settlement Officer shall—

(a) take down in writing all statements made under section six, and shall, at some convenient place, enquire into—

Enquiry by Forest Settlement Officer

(b) all claims duly preferred under section six, and

(c) the existence of any rights as aforesaid, so far as the same may be ascertainable from the records of Government and the evidence of any persons likely to be acquainted with the same

8. For the purposes of such enquiry, the Forest Settlement Officer may exercise the following powers, that is to say —

Powers of Forest Settlement Officer

(a) power to enter, by himself or any officer authorized by him for the purpose, upon any land, and to survey, demarcate, and make a map of the same,

(b) the powers of a Civil Court in the trial of suits

9. The following rights shall be extinguished —

Exinction of rights

(a) rights in respect of which no such claim has been so preferred, if the person claiming them fails, before the notification under section nineteen is published, to satisfy the Forest Settlement Officer that he had sufficient cause for not preferring such claim within such period, and

(b) rights of the existence of which no knowledge has been acquired by enquiry under section seven, clause (c)

10. In the case of a claim to a right to or over any land, the Forest Settlement Officer shall pass an order admitting or rejecting the same in whole or in part.

Power to acquire land over which right is claimed

If such claim is admitted in whole or in part, the Forest Settlement Officer shall either (1) exclude such land from the limits of the proposed Forest, or (2) come to an agreement with the owner thereof for the surrender of his rights, or (3) proceed to acquire such land in the manner provided by the Land Acquisition Act, 1870

For the purpose of so acquiring such land—

(a) the Forest Settlement Officer shall be deemed to be a Collector proceeding under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870,

(b) the claimant shall be deemed to be a person interested and appearing before him in pursuance of a notice given under section nine of that Act,

(c) the provisions of the preceding sections of that Act shall be deemed to have been complied with, and

(d) the Collector, with the consent of the claimant, or the Court, with the consent of both parties, may award compensation in land or partly in land and partly in money

11 In the case of a claim to rights of pasture or to forest-produce, the Forest Settlement Officer shall pass an order admitting or rejecting the same in whole or in part.

Order on claims.

12 The Forest Settlement Officer, when passing any order under section eleven, shall record, so far as may be practicable,

Record to be made by Forest Settlement Officer

(a) the name, father's name, caste, residence and occupation of the person claiming the right,

(b) the designation, position and area of all fields or groups of fields, and the designation and position of all buildings in respect of which the exercise of such rights is claimed

13 If the Forest Settlement Officer admits in whole or in part any claim under section eleven, he shall also record the extent to which the claim is so admitted, specifying the number and description of the cattle which the claimant is from time to time entitled to graze in the forest, the season during which such pasture is permitted, the quantity of timber and other forest-produce which he is from time to time authorised to take or receive, or such other particulars as the case may require. He shall also record whether the timber or other forest-produce obtained by the exercise of the rights claimed may be sold or bartered

Record where he admits claim

14 After making such record, the Forest Settlement Officer shall, to the best of his ability, and having due regard to the maintenance of the Reserved Forest in respect of which the claim is made, pass such orders as will ensure the continued exercise of the rights so admitted or modified. For this purpose the Forest Settlement Officer may—

Exercise of rights admitted or modified

(a) set out some other forest-tract of sufficient extent, and in a locality reasonably convenient for the purposes of such claimants, and record an order conferring upon them a right to pasture or to forest-produce (as the case may be) to the extent so admitted, or

(b) so alter the limits of the proposed Forest as to exclude forest-land of sufficient extent, and in a locality reasonably convenient for the purposes of the claimants, or

(c) record an order, continuing to such claimants a right to pasture or to forest-produce (as the case may be), to the extent so admitted, at such seasons, within such portions of the proposed Forest and under such rules as may from time to time be prescribed by the Local Government

15 In case the Forest Settlement Officer finds it impossible, having due regard to the maintenance of the Reserved Forest, to make such settlement under section fourteen as shall ensure the continued exercise of the said rights to the extent so admitted, he shall (subject to such rules as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe in this behalf) commute such rights, either by the payment to such persons of a sum of money in lieu thereof, or by the grant of land, or in such other manner as he thinks fit

Commutation of rights

16 Any person who has made a claim under this Act, or any Forest Officer or other person generally or specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, may, within three months from the date of the order passed on such claim by the Forest Settlement Officer under section ten, eleven, fourteen or fifteen, present an appeal from such order to—

Appeal from order passed under section 10, 11, 14 or 15

(a) such officer of the Revenue Department, of rank not lower than that of a Collector or Deputy Commissioner, as the Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, appoint by name, or as holding an office, to hear appeals from such orders, or

(b) a Court (hereinafter called the Forest Court) composed of three persons to be appointed by the Local Government to hear appeals from such orders

17. Every appeal under section sixteen shall be made by petition in writing, and may be delivered to the Forest Settlement Officer, who shall forward it to the authority competent to hear the same

If the appeal be to the officer appointed under section sixteen, clause (a), it shall be heard in the manner prescribed for the hearing of appeals in matters relating to land-revenue

If the appeal be to the Forest Court, the Court shall fix a day and a convenient place in the neighbourhood of the proposed forest for hearing the appeal and shall give notice thereof to the parties, and shall hear such appeal accordingly.

The order passed thereon by such officer or Court, or by the majority of the members of such Court, shall be final, subject to revision by the Local Government

18. The Local Government may appoint any person to appear, plead and act on behalf of the Government before the Forest Settlement Officer or the appellate officer or Court in the course of any inquiry or appeal under this Act.

19. When the following events have occurred (namely)—

(a) the period fixed under section six for preferring claims has elapsed, and all claims (if any) made within such period have been disposed of by the Forest Settlement Officer, and

(b) such claims have been made, and the period limited by section sixteen for appealing from the orders passed on such claims has elapsed, and all appeals (if any) presented within such period have been disposed of by the appellate officer or Court, and

(c) all lands (if any) to be included in the proposed forest, which the Forest Settlement Officer has, under section ten, elected to acquire under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, have become vested in the Government under section sixteen of that Act, the Local Government may publish a notification in the official Gazette specifying definitely, according to boundary marks erected or otherwise, the limits of the forest which it is intended to reserve, and declaring the same to be reserved from a date fixed by such notification

From the date so fixed, such forest shall be deemed to be a Reserved Forest

20 The Forest-officer shall, before the date fixed by such notification, cause a translation thereof into the language of the district to be affixed in some conspicuous place in every town and village in the neighbourhood of the forest.

21 The Local Government may, within five years from the publication of any notification under section nineteen, revise any arrangement made by the Forest Settlement Officer under section fourteen, and may, for this purpose, rescind or modify any order made under that section, and direct that any one of the proceedings specified in section fourteen be taken in lieu of any other of such proceedings, or that the rights admitted under section eleven be commuted under section fifteen

22 Every forest constituted a Reserved Forest, whether under the designation of Government Forest or otherwise, previous to the date on which this Act is extended to the territory in which such forest is situated shall be deemed to have been constituted a Reserved Forest under this Act and the Local Government shall, within twelve months from such date, declare, by notification in the official Gazette, what forests shall be deemed to have been so constituted

Provided that, if any rights to or over any land or forest-produce are claimed in such Reserved Forest, and such claims have not already been enquired into and settled, the Local Government may direct that such claims shall be inquired into and settled in the manner provided by this Act.

23 No right of any description shall be acquired to, over, or in respect of, a Reserved Forest, except under a grant or contract in writing made by or on behalf of the Government

24 No right continued under section fourteen, clause (c), shall be alienated by way of grant, sale, lease, mortgage or otherwise, without the sanction of the Local Government provided that when any such right is appendant to any land or house, it may be sold or otherwise alienated with such land or house

No timber or other forest-produce obtained in exercise of any such right shall be sold or bartered except to such extent as may have been admitted in the order recorded under section thirteen.

25 The Forest-officer may, from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Local Government or of any officer duly authorized in that behalf, stop any public or private way or water-course in a Reserved Forest, provided that a reasonably convenient substitute for the way or water-course so stopped already exists, or has been provided or constructed by the Forest-officer in lieu thereof

26. Any person who—

(a) sets fire to a Reserved Forest, or kindles any fire in such manner as to endanger the same, or who, in a Reserved Forest, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or with both, in addition to such compensation for damage done to the forest as the Court may direct to be paid

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit any act done by permission in writing of the Forest-officer, or the exercise of any right continued under section fourteen, clause (c), or created by grant or contract in writing made by or on behalf of Government under section twenty-three

Whenever fire is caused wilfully, or by gross negligence, in a Reserved Forest, the Local Government may (notwithstanding that any penalty has been inflicted under this section) direct that in such forest or any portion thereof the exercise of all rights to pasture or forest-produce shall be suspended for such period as it thinks fit.

27. The Local Government may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, by notification in the official Gazette, direct that, from a date fixed by such notification, any forest or any portion thereof reserved under this Act, shall cease to be a Reserved Forest.

From the date so fixed, such forest or portion shall cease to be reserved, but the rights (if any) which have been extinguished therein shall not revive in consequence of such cessation

CHAPTER III.

No 19 of 1877.

A Bill to amend the Panjáb Laws Act, 1872

For the purpose of amending the Panjáb Laws Act, 1872, It is hereby enacted as follows —

Substitution of new section for Act IV of 1872, s 5

1 For section 5 of the said Act, the following shall be substituted (namely) —

"5 In questions regarding succession, special property of females, betrothal, marriage, divorce, dower, adoption, guardianship, minority, bastardy, family relations, wills, legacies, gifts, partitions, or any religious usage or institution, the rule of decision shall be—

(a) any custom applicable to the parties concerned, which is not contrary to justice, equity or good conscience, and has not been, by this or any other enactment, altered or abolished, and has not been declared to be void by any competent authority

(b) the Muhammadan law in cases where the parties are Muhammadans, and the Hindú law, in cases where the parties are Hindús, except in so far as such law has been altered or abolished by legislative enactment, or is opposed to the provisions of this Act, or has been modified by any such custom as is above referred to"

2 For sections 9 to 18 (both inclusive) of the same Act, the following shall be substituted —

"9 The right of pre-emption is a right of the persons hereinafter mentioned or referred to, to acquire, in the cases hereinafter specified, immoveable property in preference to all other persons. It arises in respect of sales (whether under a decree or otherwise) of immoveable property and of foreclosures of rights to redeem such property

"10 Unless the existence of any custom or contract to the contrary is proved, such right shall, whether recorded in the settlement-record or not, be presumed—

(a) to exist in all village-communities, however constituted, and

(b) to extend to the village site, to the houses built upon it, to all lands and shares of lands within the village-boundary, and to all transferable rights of occupancy affecting such lands

"11. The right of pre-emption shall not be presumed to exist in any town or city, or any subdivision thereof, but may be shown to exist therein, and to be exercisable therein by such persons and under such circumstances as the local custom prescribes

"12. If the property to be sold or the right to redeem which is to be foreclosed is situate within, or is a share of, a village, the right to buy or redeem such property belongs, in the absence of a custom to the contrary,

(a) first, to co-sharers in the village, in order of their relationship to the vendor or mortgagor,

(b) secondly, if no relation of the vendor or mortgagor claims to exercise such right, to the landowners of the patti or other sub-division of the village in which the property is situate, jointly,

(c) thirdly, to any member of the village-community, and

(d) fourthly, to the tenants (if any) with rights of occupancy in the village

Provided that when the property is land, to the trees standing on which the Government is entitled, such right belongs to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjáb in preference to all other persons

Where two or more persons are equally entitled to such right, the person to exercise the same shall be determined by lot

"12 A When the property to be sold or the right to redeem which is to be foreclosed is a share in joint undivided immoveable property other than land, such right belongs to the co-sharers

"13 When any person proposes to sell any property, or to foreclose the right to redeem any property, in respect of which any persons have a right of pre-emption, he shall give notice to the persons concerned of the price at which he is willing to sell such property, or of the amount due in respect of the mortgage, as the case may be

Such notice shall be given through the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property or any part thereof is situate, and shall be deemed sufficiently given if it be stuck up on the chaupál or other public place of the village, town or city in which the property is situate

"14 Any person having a right of pre-emption in respect of any property proposed to be sold, shall lose such right, unless within three months from the date of such notice he or his agent pays or tenders the price aforesaid to the person so proposing to sell

"15 When the right of pre-emption arises in respect of the foreclosure of the right to redeem any property, any person entitled to such right may, at any time within three months after the giving of the notice required by section thirteen, pay or tender to the mortgagee, or his successor in title the amount specified in such notice, and shall thereupon acquire a right to purchase the property.

On completion of the purchase the person exercising the right of pre-emption shall be bound to pay to the mortgagee or his successor in title the amount specified in such notice, together with interest on the principal sum secured by the mortgage, at the rate specified by the instrument of mortgage, for any time which has elapsed since the date of the notice, and any additional costs which may have been properly incurred by the mortgagee or his successor in title

"16 Any person entitled to a right of pre-emption may bring a suit to enforce such right on any of the following grounds (namely) —

(a) that no due notice was given as required by section thirteen,

(b) that tender was made under section fourteen or section fifteen and refused,

(c) in the case of a sale, that the price stated in the notice was not fixed in good faith,

(d) in the case of a foreclosure, that the amount claimed by the mortgagee was not really due on the footing of the mortgage and was not claimed in good faith, and that it exceeds the fair market-value of the property mortgaged

If, in the case of a sale, the Court finds that the price was not fixed in good faith, the Court shall fix such price as appears to it to be the fair market-value of the property sold

If, in the case of a foreclosure, the Court finds that the amount claimed by the mortgagee was not really due on the footing of the mortgage, and that it was not claimed in good faith, and that it exceeds the fair market-value of the property mortgaged, the amount to be paid to the mortgagee shall not exceed what the Court finds to be such market-value

"17. If the Court find for the plaintiff, the Decree to fix time for payment shall specify a day on or before which the purchase-money or the amount to be paid to the mortgagee shall be paid

"18 If such purchase-money or amount is not paid into Court before it rises on that day, the decree shall become void, and the plaintiff shall, so far only as relates to such sale or foreclosure, lose his right of pre-emption over the property to which the decree relates."

3. For section 35 of the same Act the following shall be substituted (namely) —

(f) persons convicted of a non-bailable offence and disqualified, in the opinion of the Local Government, by vice or bad character from managing their estates,

(g) persons declared by the Local Government, on their own application, to be disqualified from managing their estates

Provided that the Court of Wards shall not take charge of or administer the estate of any person of any of the classes mentioned in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of this section, unless he has inherited a beneficial interest in an estate for which a settlement was made with his ancestor, or in respect of which he would have been entitled to be settled with, if he had been competent to make an agreement for the payment of revenue, or unless he is entitled by inheritance to an assignment of land-revenue

Provided also that the Court of Wards shall not take charge of, or administer any beneficial interest in, an estate in which more persons than one have a joint undivided interest, unless all such persons are so circumstanced as to be subject to the Court of Wards"

4 To section 38 of the same Act the following clause shall be added (namely) —

Amendment of Act IV of 1872, section 38

"Persons whose property is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards shall not be competent to create, without the sanction of the Court, any charge upon, or interest in, such property or any part thereof"

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The objects of this Bill are four first, to make some necessary amendments in the drafting of the Punjab Laws Act, section 5 secondly, to make like amendments in the sections of that Act relating to pre-emption and to give the Lieutenant-Governor a right of pre-emption in respect of land on which trees belonging to Government are standing thirdly, to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards to the estates of three classes of proprietors, namely, those incapable, owing to physical defects or infirmities, of managing their own estates, those convicted of a non-bailable offence and disqualified by vice or bad character from managing their estates, and those declared, on their own application, to be so disqualified The fourth and last object of the Bill is to render all persons whose property is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards incompetent to charge such property without the sanction of the Court

[First publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 24th October 1877, and was referred to a Select Committee —

No 20 of 1877

A Bill to provide for the recovery in British India of wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, certain seamen and apprentices

Whereas by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, and by the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1855, section 16, it is enacted that the Board of Trade may, in manner therein mentioned, and in the name of Her Majesty, sue for and recover the wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, the distressed seamen and apprentices in the said sections mentioned, And whereas it is expedient to empower such persons as the Governor General in Council may think fit to sue for and recover in British India in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council, such wages and expenses, when the same are charged upon any ship, or recoverable from any master, owner or other person, found in British India, It is hereby enacted as follows —

1 The Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, authorize, either generally or specially, such persons as he thinks fit to sue for and recover, in manner in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, provided, any wages or expenses recoverable under the said sections of the said Acts in cases where such wages and expenses are, under the same sections, a charge upon any ship, or recoverable from any master, owner or other person, within the jurisdiction of any Court in British India Every person so authorized shall be entitled to sue and recover accordingly in any such Court, and shall be deemed to be a person filing a public

office within the meaning of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, section 57, clause 7

2 All suits and proceedings under this Act shall be instituted and carried on in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

By the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, and 18 & 19 Vict., c 91, section 16, provision is made for the recovery by the Board of Trade of wages due to, and expenses incurred in relieving, distressed seamen and apprentices in foreign and colonial ports These distressed seamen are in many cases Natives of India, and belong to ships which are either registered in or trade to India, and which are seldom, if ever, found within the ports of the United Kingdom In such cases the Board of Trade has considerable difficulty in recovering the sums expended When the distressed seamen are Natives of this country, these expenses are charged to the Indian revenue It is therefore desirable that the Government of India should be enabled to empower some person here to sue, in case the ships or persons chargeable are found in this country The Bill effects this object by providing that such suits may be brought in the name of the Secretary of State in Council by such persons as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, generally or specially authorize in that behalf The Bill will also enable persons so authorized to sue in all cases in which the ships or persons chargeable are found in this country, even though the Indian revenue may not be concerned

Weekly condition report of the distressed districts of the Mysore Province.

PROVINCE OF MYSORE.

(No 35)

Special famine report for the week ending 6th October 1877

Statement No 35, regarding famine relief operations in the Province of Mysore, for the week ending the 6th October 1877

The rainfall was generally lighter. The fair weather has been beneficial to the crops, especially to ragi, which was suffering in places from excess of moisture. Harvesting continues, sowing operations are general, and lands are being prepared for the late crops. The tanks have got a good supply, many have been breached, and the prospects of the late harvest are good. A considerable area in some taluks is reported unsown, and to remedy this liberal grants of takavi for seed grain will be made under proper precautions. The Famine Commissioner is now on tour, and in consultation with local officers is arranging suitable relief works in each taluk, organizing the relief camps, and taking measures for a more thorough system of village inspection and for giving readier access to relief. A Famine Code has been issued laying down detailed instructions for the management of professional and civil works and of relief camps, providing for medical assistance and special treatment of persons reduced by want and securing that none requiring aid and support are, owing either to ignorance or neglect, allowed to remain unrelieved in their villages. Generally it may be said that prospects are encouraging, but that the present condition of the people and the high prices of staple articles of food necessitate the utmost exertion and watchfulness on the part of the authorities. On the other hand, there is an evident disposition on the part of the people to return to their ordinary occupations, and applicants for relief are fewer.

2 The imports of grain by rail amounted only to 2,486 tons, or 2,248 tons less than last week, due probably to the influence of falling prices caused partly by the better prospect and partly by the production of local stores hitherto concealed. The imports were received from the following quarters —

|                                       | Tons  |
|---------------------------------------|-------|
| From Madras                           | 2,260 |
| „ Beypore and Palghat                 | 95    |
| „ Nagpore, Negapatam and Trichinopoly | 60    |
| „ other places                        | 71    |
| Total                                 | 2,486 |

From Bangalore 1,726 tons were exported to places in the interior, or 25 less than for the week ending the 29th ultimo. The export was to the following quarters, —

|                         | Tons  |
|-------------------------|-------|
| Tumkūr                  | 382   |
| Bellary and Chitaldroog | 224   |
| Mysore                  | 508   |
| Usur (Salem District)   | 257   |
| Round Bangalore         | 355   |
| Total                   | 1,726 |

3 Prices are fluctuating, and owing to a change in the form of submission of the returns, information is not so complete. But the downward tendency noticed last week continues and is again most marked in Bangalore. The following statement shews the maximum and minimum prices so far as they have been returned, —

4 The number of laborers employed on civil works was 27,009, or 4,029 less than last week. There was a decrease of 1,372 in the Bangalore District; of 1,264 in Tûmkûr, 1,450 in Mysore, and of 1,793 in Chitaldroog and an increase of 1,227 in Kolar. The decrease is partly accounted for by the general causes already indicated, partly by transfer to larger works under professional supervision and partly by the exclusion from some of the returns of people employed on other than relief works, i. e., works sanctioned from relief funds.

5 Under the Public Works Department 35,497 laborers were employed, or an increase of 7,842. The increase was almost entirely in the Bangalore and Tûmkûr Districts. The following is a list of some of the works recently begun —

|                         | Numberemployed |
|-------------------------|--------------------|
| State Railway           | 7,600              |
| Alsur Tank              | 2,196              |
| Bangalore-Mysore Road   | 2,296              |
| Bangalore water-supply  | 2,594              |
| Bangalore-Tûmkûr Road   | 678                |
| Netamangala-Tûmkûr Road | 2,044              |
| Hiriyu-Bellary Road     | 1,411              |

|                         | 21,413      |

From which it will be seen that a considerable portion of the labor has been drafted to the larger works.

6 The numbers gratuitously fed in relief camps amounted to 1,03,750, shewing a decrease of 22,454, chiefly in Tûmkûr, Chitaldroog and Hassan —

| Total              | 1,26,204 | 1,03,750 | 22,454 |          |

7 The number on civil and professional works amounts to 62,506 compared with 1,03,750 on charitable relief. The difficulty has not been so much in getting people to work as in providing work for them, and the accounts of their condition upon works and of the outturn of labor are satisfactory, and particularly so where gangs have been for any time upon the works. On the other hand, the condition of the people gratuitously fed continues depressed and unhealthy.

* These figures are for the weeks ending 29th September and 6th October respectively.

The week's rainfall has been, generally speaking, light in the north, and, gradually increasing through the central districts, has been heavy in the south. In a few talukas in Khandesh, Nasik and Ahmednagar the crops have suffered for want of moisture, while in Sholapur, Satara, Kaladgi and Belgaum some injury to the kharif has already been done by too much rain, and no break in the weather has yet occurred.

2 Prices are considerably easier in the three districts to the north of Poona, probably the drier weather bringing the harvest nearer is the principal cause of this advantage. In the other districts, however, though the relief is not so considerable, there still is, on the whole, an improvement. The only district in which there is none is Dharwar. Prices are absolutely highest in Kaladgi and Dharwar, but in both of these districts, though jowari is selling at only 12 or 13 pounds a rupee, there is maize or other small grain of the new year in the market selling at 19 or 20 pounds a rupee.

3 There has been again a substantial decrease in the number of the labourers on relief works. The whole number is now under one lakh.

4 Cholera has unfortunately again broken out in Satara, where 24 deaths occurred during the week. On the whole, there have been 93 deaths in the week against 85 last week.

5. Written reports have been received from the Collectors of Nasik, Poona and Sholapur for the week ending the 13th instant. No weekly report has been received from Satara. From the other five Collectorates reports for the week ending 6th instant have been received. The usual table showing the rainfall and the prices of staple food grains in the weeks to which the reports relate is appended. There is little change to notice with regard to the season and the crops. There are still complaints of want of rain in parts of Khandesh, Nasik and Ahmednagar, while in other parts of Ahmednagar and in some of the districts to the south the rain has been too heavy. The Collector of Kaladgi in particular reports that a break in the weather is urgently needed to ripen the kharif. The later telegraphic information summarized above gives a somewhat darker colour to these complaints of excessive rain.

6 The following table gives the expenditure by Government, during the week ending 29th September, upon gratuitous relief, and in payments made to the young children of labourers employed upon relief works. The number of children has fallen during the week from 55,972 to 48,732. No accurate comparison can be made of the number of labourers on charitable relief, as the returns from Satara are incomplete. The numbers may be taken approximately at 90,962, or less by 5,221 than those given for the preceding week. And as by reason of the Kaladgi returns for that week being incomplete, the numbers shown in the last statement were less by 1,438 than the real number of persons on charitable relief, the actual decrease for the week ending 29th September is about 6,659 —

7 In the following table are enumerated the works under Public Works Department Agency upon which the average daily number of persons employed has amounted to five hundred for the week ending 6th instant. The total number engaged on these large works constitutes 72  $\frac{3}{4}$  per cent on the whole number of labourers upon relief works. The table has hitherto been confined to works on which one thousand persons were employed, but as the numbers on all works are now so rapidly decreasing, it has been extended now so as to include works engaging five hundred labourers —

8 Tables A and B are brought up to the week ending 6th instant. The number of persons on works under Public Works Department agency in the nine affected districts was at this date 90,883, and on works under Civil agency 21,338. The percentage of persons upon works under Civil agency has thus risen during the week from 15 to 19 per cent of the whole number employed. The total expenditure upon works in the nine affected districts has amounted to Rs 99,71,880, which, with the expenditure of Rs 122,077 upon works in Ratnagiri and Kanara, and Rs 8,67,110 from the Collectors' discretionary allowances, gives a total of Rs 1,09,61,067.

9 Maps are not sent with this summary.

10 From the appended table showing the condition of the affected Native States, it will be seen that the accounts of the crops continue favourable, and that prices, though they have risen again at Savanur and Jath, on the whole maintain their downward tendency. The number of people upon the relief works continues to diminish slowly,

11. During the week ending 13th October, 40 tons of food-grains were exported from Bombay to the Southern Mahratta ports, and 4,183 tons were carried by the Great Indian Peninsula Railway to stations upon the Poona-Sholapur and Bhusawal-Nasik lines, making a total of 4,223 tons for the week. This is more by 386 tons than the importations of the previous week. The table below shows the quantities of grain sent by sea and rail from October 1876 till the 13th October 1877 to the Southern Mahratta ports and the railway stations in the distressed districts. It will be seen that the total amount delivered up to the 13th October was 423,448 tons.—

12 There have been decreases of 21,107 in the number of people on relief works, 7,280 in the number of young children, and 5,221 in the number of people on charitable relief.

2 Prices are falling almost everywhere. The district averages show rise, and that but slight, only in the cases of dry grains in Tanjore, cumboo in Coimbatore and Chingleput, and cholum in the Nilgiris, everywhere else there is a fall. Taking all grains, the district rates show that, of the districts in the plains, prices now range highest in Salem. In the Nellore district there is not much change, the fall of prices is observed in the northern taluks adjoining Kistna, where rates have been falling for some weeks. In Cuddapah change is most marked in the three north-western taluks, and in Kadiri and Madanapalli, where prices, especially of dry-grains, are cheaper. In Kadiri there is a fall of three seers and upwards in the prices of ragi and cholum, or nearly 50 per cent. In Bellary also prices are falling or stationary almost everywhere. In Chingleput ragi has fallen at 5 stations out of 6, the rise in cholum applies to one only. In North Arcot the only cases of rise of price are rice at Palmanair and cholum at Arni, and these are fractional only. In South Arcot there is a considerable fall in Trinomalai, elsewhere rates are either stationary or falling. The rise in dry grain in Tanjore is due to the Pattukottai taluk, and that adjoining it, Mannargudi. In Trichinopoly cholum is not sold, other grains are cheaper owing to harvest. In Madura rates are falling except in Periakulam, where rice and cholum are stationary and ragi has risen. At head-quarters there was a strong fall. In Tinnevely also prices are easier. In Coimbatore rice has risen a little in Collegal, and there has been a sudden increase, amounting to 25 or 30 per cent in the rates for ragi and cumboo in Dharapuram. On the Nilgiris there is a satisfactory fall in ragi, and in Malabar in rice. In Salem prices at head-quarters are falling, and fluctuating elsewhere. The rise in the district averages is due to the Kistnagiri taluk. The highest and lowest quotations for rice and dry grain are given as usual in the margin. The range is in many cases great, and is due chiefly to harvest having been got in some taluks and not in others.

3 Rainfall—All districts received rain, and the district averages for the week fell below an inch only in Nellore and Chingleput and in the distressed taluks of Tinnevely. In the north of Nellore nearly two inches fell, and a nearly equal amount in the extreme south of Chingleput, but the intervening tract received but slight showers. In Cuddapah the rain was heavy and well distributed, especially in the eastern taluks and the sub-division. Good rain is reported from all taluks of Bellary except Hadgalli, more than three inches fell in Kudlighi. In North Arcot the rain was very heavy, 11 42 inches are reported from Polur, but this must be erroneous. The chief fall was in the upland taluks, from Kangundi to Tripatti. In South Arcot the fall in Trinomalai and Tindivanam, adjoining Chingleput, and in Virdachellam was good; in Tanjore light but general, good in Puttukottai, in Trichinopoly from two to three inches except in Udayarpolliam, in Madura 5 05 inches in Melur, four inches in Pereakulam, and very good in other taluks, except Ramnad. In Tinnevely, Ottapidaram got 1 8 inches, the rain was very light elsewhere. At Erode in Coimbatore 6 35 inches were registered, and the southern taluks received heavy rain. On the Nilgiris and in the Collegal taluk there was good rain. There was but little in the Wynaad, but the Malabar average was nevertheless 4 29 inches.

4 The outlay on relief-works and gratuitous relief is reported as follows —

6 In the above statement the numbers on the Buckingham Canal are included under Nellore district. They were 27,160 against 27,048 on the 22nd September. The Nellore district returns are again grossly imperfect, no reports having been sent in by the officers of the Public Works Department. The Board request that orders on the subject may be issued in that department. In Cuddapah there is a large decrease amounting to 10,601 in Pulivendla, Proddatur, and Jammalamadugu ascribed to closing of certain works and weeding the gangs of persons who can live without State aid. In other taluks of the principal division the changes are slight. In the sub-division there is decrease spread over all taluks. Of 6,019 owing to relegation of weakly coolies to village relief and to return of able-bodied persons to their villages for cultivation. The decrease in the Bellary district is very slight on the whole;

the details for taluks are given marginally. It is probable that the numbers have really increased as the fall in Hadgalli and Raidrug is ascribed to imperfect return. That in Penkondah is due to weeding of gangs. Works have been temporarily stopped in Harpanhalli, and there are none in progress in Alur or Tadpatry. The increase in Adoni is ascribed to retention of immigrants, in Dharmavaram to more complete return, and in Kudlighi to commencement of fresh works. The Board do not understand why the numbers in Raidrug should be so high compared with other taluks. The Collector's attention is called to the fact. The Bellary-Hubli Railway employs 5,372 persons in the Bellary taluk and 2,976 in Hospett, total 8,348 against 8,138 on the 22nd September.

7 The increase in the numbers on works in Kurnool is not explained in the Collector's telegram. In Chingleput the numbers on the South Indian Railway have fallen from 9,464 to 8,558. The numbers on other works under professional agency have increased by 3,123, and those on civil works have decreased by nearly the same amount. The increase in North Arcot is to a great extent nominal, the Punganur return having been wanting last week. Numbers have increased in Kalastri and Kungundi, but decreased elsewhere, and the true result for the whole district is a decrease of about 3,500. The increase in South Arcot is on professional agency works in Kallakurthy. The fall in Tanjore is due to the cessation of the work of forming relief camps and to the coolies having been sent to the Coleroon embankment works or returned home for cultivation, and that in Madura to imperfect returns from Dindigul. A return has been received from Tinnevely showing that 1,806 coolies are now employed under the Department of Public Works. In Coimbatore numbers on works have risen owing to greater distress and to drafts of able-bodied persons from the camps. The Salem increase results from imperfect returns last week.

8. The numbers in Madras town were 24,352 against 23,160 on the 22nd September. Details are given in the margin.

9. The information regarding works under the professional department is so imperfect that the Board do not submit the usual statement on the point this week

10. Rates of Wages—There is little change in wages. In the taluks of Chendragiri, Wallaja, Tritani, Arconum, and Maderpauk in the district of North Arcot wages on the old scale appear to be still paid. In Bellary money-wages have been substituted for those paid partly in kind in Penkonda, the reverse change has taken place in Rairug, while in Hospett the following scale has been introduced—men  $\frac{3}{4}$  seer +  $\frac{1}{2}$  anna, women  $\frac{3}{4}$  seer +  $\frac{1}{2}$  anna, children  $\frac{3}{4}$  seer +  $\frac{1}{4}$  anna, which accords with no scale prescribed.

* Particulars not known

12. There is a small decrease on the whole, resulting from decrease in camps and increase in village relief. The change in the character of the camp relief under recent orders probably accounts for this. Numbers have fallen considerably in Salem and Coimbatore, where they were excessive, and also in South Arcot and Cuddapah, but they have increased in Bellary and Kurnool. The decrease in the Nellore district occurs under camp relief, and is partly due to incompleteness of returns. Of the decrease in Cuddapah the greater portion is under village relief, and occurs almost entirely in the sub-division, where numbers have fallen by 10,106 owing chiefly to elimination of able-bodied persons from the lists. Village relief has increased in Bellary to the full extent* above shown. Heavy rise in numbers occurs in the Bellary, Kudlighi, Harpanhalli, and Gooty returns, and in most of these cases is due to imperfection of return last week. About two-thirds of the decrease in Chingleput is under camp relief. The increase in North Arcot and the decrease in South Arcot are both to a great extent nominal and due to wrong returns. The rise in Madura is of the same kind. The Tanjore comparative return is as usual utterly wrong and useless. The decrease in Coimbatore occurs under camp reliefs, chiefly in the taluks of Pulladum and Udumulpettah, and is due to drafts to works and to improvement in the season. In Salem the decrease is under village relief and is most marked in the Dharampuri and Tripatur taluks.

13. The general statement of gratuitous relief shows that there are now 1,026 inspection circles, and that relief is organized in 13,879 villages out of 30,731 in the distressed tract (Kistna excluded).

14. The following statement shows, as usual, the mortality in camps and under village relief. There is evidently a gross mistake in the Chingleput returns, 4,250 persons under village relief are reported to have died in Trivellore taluk on a strength of 28,929. The Collector is inquiring on the subject The mortality is very high in camps in Cuddapah and North Arcot and in the Trichinopoly district —

Famine Relief

Proceedings of the Government of Madras, Revenue Department (Famine Relief), dated 15th October 1877, F R No 2331

The Governor in Council has, by a telegraphic order of the 13th instant, called the attention of Collectors to the importance of utilising to the utmost the present favourable change in the season. The recent rainfall has materially restored the condition of growing crops, many crops are being now harvested, land is nearly everywhere in a fit state for cultivation, and the rains of the north-east monsoon may be shortly expected. Prices have been gradually declining. In this state of the country it is of the utmost importance to its future prosperity that every exertion should be at once made to induce, encourage, and facilitate the return of people to their own homes and ordinary occupations. There may not unnaturally exist some feeling of hesitation amongst many, especially amongst those who have wandered from their own districts, to leave their present shelter, but the interests of the country demand that every available hand shall be turned to agriculture, and every exertion used to increase and expedite the growth of the newly-sown crops, on which the people must rely to restore the prices of food-grains to a normal state.

2 That this necessity is appreciated by the people is evinced by the fact that large numbers have already of their own accord left works and camps for agricultural employ, and that in many districts the area cultivated is larger than usual at this period. Yet in these districts more, and in others much, can be done, and no divisional officer should feel satisfied while any available land in his division remains uncultivated.

3 The Governor in Council desires also to impress on Collectors the urgent necessity for reducing, as rapidly as may be, the numbers who are receiving State charity on relief-works, in relief-camps, &c, and consequently of diminishing the heavy drain on current expenditure.

4 The general principles on which relief is to be administered are already laid down in G O of 24th September, No 2847. The Government have spared no pains to relieve and sustain, and also to provide employ for, the people, now, however, agricultural or other usual employment is obtainable, and district officers must take care that the measures which were necessary for relief of the famine-stricken are not converted into a prolonged demoralising and pauperising charity.

5 A judicious but firm application of the tests and limitations laid down in the Government Order referred to will prevent the danger while meeting any necessity, but laxity or indecision in any district may not improbably result in the continued dependence of a large pauperised population on State aid through another year.

6 Where the numbers on relief-works are materially diminished, proportionate diminution should be made in the establishments, and labour should be consolidated so as to economise supervision. When the numbers in camps are materially diminished, subordinate establishments should be also diminished, or otherwise utilised, permanent officers of the districts being allowed to resume their ordinary work. The general relief organisation of a district, however, is not to be reduced or broken up until further instructions from the Government, the nature of which will be regulated by the advent and extent of the monsoon rains.

7 The Governor in Council has had before him applications for sanction for many new works of a petty and local character, the possible benefit to arise from which can only be of a purely temporary character. He considers such works undesirable, but does not, however, desire to fetter the discretion of Collectors, and therefore will not generally refuse to sanction works recommended by them, but the sanction will only be accorded upon the distinct understanding that Collectors, before recommending any works for sanction, satisfy themselves that such works are essential to the proper extent of relief, and are not urged from motives of purely local interest, or instigated by subordinates who hope for an opportunity to make an illicit gain from the relief expenditure.

J H GARSTIN,

No 979, dated Simla, 26th October 1877.

From—C. BERNARD, Esq., C.S.I., Additional Secy to the Govt of India, P W Dept (Famine),

To—J H GARSTIN, Esq., Additional Secy to the Govt of Madras, Revenue Dept

It is with the greatest satisfaction that His Excellency the Viceroy in Council has received a copy of the Proceedings of the Madras Government in the Famine Department, No 2331, dated the 15th instant

2 The favourable change in the season which is described in your first paragraph is most hopeful, and His Excellency in Council is glad to learn by a telegram received last night that the north-east monsoon has at length arrived to supplement and complete the hopeful prospects for the future

3 The orders of His Grace the Governor urging all district officers to take the fullest advantage of this satisfactory change in the prospects of the season by inducing people to return to their ordinary avocations, are most judicious and opportune, for, as he justly observes, "the interests of the country now demand that every available hand shall be turned to agriculture" and no less necessary is the caution conveyed to district officers to "take care that the measures which were necessary for relief of the famine districts are not converted into a prolonged demoralising and pauperising charity"

4. The returns received during the past three weeks show that with the returning prospects of agricultural prosperity, the orders issued by the Madras Government on the 24th September have already borne good fruit, the numbers of people receiving Government aid having diminished during the current month by  $6\frac{3}{4}$  lakhs, or by more than one-fourth of the whole number; and His Excellency in Council doubts not that with the continued improvement in agricultural prospects and with the steady fall in the price of food, which should be the natural consequence thereof, the admirable orders now issued by the Madras Government will have the effect of speedily restoring the province to its normal state, will foster the habitual self-reliance of its people, and will relieve the imperial finances from the severe strain which during the past season they have undergone

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE, AGRICULTURE AND COMMERCE

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK
ENDING THE 25TH OCTOBER 1877

GENERAL REMARKS—In Madras the North-East monsoon is said not yet to have burst, but good general rain has fallen in all districts, being scanty only in Madras, parts of Chingleput, and Kurnool. Prospects are everywhere good, and prices are falling in most districts, rising in one or two, and stationary in six. The harvest where gathered has yielded a fair outturn. The number on works is 484,865, and on charity 1,060,034, showing decreases of 45,939 and 223,932 respectively compared with last week. In Mysore the weather continues showery, and the crops are flourishing, the number on works is 72,202 and on charity 88,759. The former is more by 9,696 and the latter less by 14,991 than last week. In Bombay there has been abundant rain in the Deccan and the Southern Mahratta Country, and moderate falls in Khandesh and Násik and parts of the Konkan; elsewhere none is reported, in Sind there is no improvement, but elsewhere throughout the Presidency prospects are good, except in a few places in the Deccan, Konkan and Southern Mahratta Country where damage has been done by excessive rain. In the Central Provinces good rain has fallen in Nágpur, Seon and the Upper Godávari, and slight showers in Chánda, Bhandára and Saugor, prospects are generally good, and sowings for the rabi are progressing. In Berar there has been some rain and prospects are good. In Central India none has fallen, and the cold weather has set in, the emigrants are reported to be returning to Gwalior. In Rajputana there has been no rain during the week, more would be beneficial in Ajmeir and Sirohi. In Bengal there has been a good fall of rain in Pooree, where it was needed; elsewhere rain is reported only in small quantity from a few districts, more would do good, but prospects are generally favourable. No rain is reported from Assam, where the crops promise well. In Burma good rain has fallen in Bassein, but elsewhere the fall has been scanty and in many districts none has fallen, which is unfavourable to the lately replanted rice. No rain is reported from the North-Western Provinces or Oudh, the recent falls have proved generally sufficient for the rabi sowings, which are going on everywhere. In the Punjab there has been slight rain in Amritsar, Jullundur and Pesháwar, sowings for the rabi are progressing, but rain is much wanted in Hissar, Umballa and Lahore.

Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Governor General of India, assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations under the provisions of the Act of Parliament 24 & 25 Vic, Cap 67

The Council met at Simla on Wednesday, the 17th October 1877.

PRESENT

PANJÁB COURTS BILL

The Hon'ble MR STOKES moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Courts in the Panjab be taken into consideration. He said that the Bill as introduced had been subjected to careful examination by the learned Judges of the Panjáb Chief Court. Plus vident oculi quam oculus was an old and true proverb, and here, as always happened when three additional pairs of intelligent eyes were brought to bear on a complicated draft, some errors and omissions had been detected. Of these, however, only two were important enough to require mention. The Committee had added, at Mr Justice Plowden's suggestion, a section declaring the Chief Court to be a High Court within the meaning of sections 633 and 637 of the new Code of Civil Procedure. The result would be that the Judges of the Chief Court would take evidence and record judgments and orders in such manner as the Court might by rule direct, and that any non-judicial act which the Code required to be done by a Judge might be done by the Registrar, to the great saving of valuable time. The second amendment was in section 46, which declared that Judges should not try suits in which they were personally interested. This might obviously sometimes cause great and useless inconvenience, for example, when the Judge happened to hold a share or two in the Bank of Bengal and the Bank was suing a tradesman on a bill of exchange for Rs 100. We had accordingly provided that the parties might waive objection to the jurisdiction of a Judge having interest in the subject-matter. The only other change which he would mention was that the Bill would come into force on receiving His Excellency's signature, instead of on such day as the Local Government should appoint.

It was right to add that the Chief Court had asked that jurisdiction to hear summary suits on negotiable instruments might be conferred upon it. But the Chief Court, like the High Court at Allahabad, had no ordinary original civil jurisdiction, on such Courts the framers of the new Code of Civil Procedure did not intend to confer jurisdiction to hear this class of suits, and the request of the Chief Court was therefore refused. This would cause no inconvenience to the public, for His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor could, and doubtless would, by notification under the new Code, section 538, clause (e), apply sections 532—537 of the Code to the Courts of all or some of the Deputy Commissioners. The Chief Court could then, if it liked, withdraw and itself try all such summary suits instituted in these Courts and remit the decrees for execution to the Courts from which the suits had been so withdrawn.

HIS Honour THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR expressed his approval of the provisions of the Bill in its present form.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. STOKES also moved that the Bill as amended be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

PANJÁB LAWS ACT AMENDMENT BILL

The Hon'ble MR STOKES also asked leave to postpone the introduction of the Bill to amend the Panjáb Laws Act, 1872.

NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES LAND-REVENUE ACT AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR STOKES also introduced the Bill to amend the North-Western Provinces Land-Revenue Act, 1873, and moved that it be referred to a Select Committee. He said that the primary object of this little Bill was to deprive persons whose estates were under the management of the local Court of Wards of power to charge or alienate those estates. But it would also remove a doubt as to the effect of section 29 of the Act, which provided that—

“ A rate may be imposed by order of the Collector of the District on the annual value, or on the cultivated area, of all the maháls composing the circle of each patwári, or partly in the one way, and partly in the other, for defraying the salary of such patwári, and any charges incurred on account of any additional establishment required for the proper supervision, maintenance and correction of the patwáris' records ”

Doubts existed, which he confessed he himself shared, as to whether this section authorized the application of any part of the fund so raised to defray the cost of the village-maps on which the correctness of patwáris' records mainly depended. But, in the opinion of their hon'ble colleague Sir John Strachey, Mr Batten and other experienced North-West officials, it was expedient that the fund should be applicable for this object. The Bill would accordingly add an explanation to section 29 to the effect that charges incurred in the preparation of village-maps should be deemed charges within the meaning of this section.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR STOKES also moved that the Bill be published in the Gazette of India in English, and in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Government should direct.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

DISTRESSED SEAMEN'S EXPENSES RECOVERY BILL

The Hon'ble MR STOKES also moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the recovery in British India of wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, certain seamen and apprentices. He said that the Merchant Shipping Acts of 1854 and 1855 provided, in all necessitous cases occurring out of the United Kingdom, for subsisting and relieving distressed seamen who were British subjects, and for sending them home, or burying any who died in such circumstances, at the public expense, with a right of recovery over against any master or owner liable to pay such wages or such expenses. This right of recovery was given only to the Board of Trade. But the distressed seamen in question were in many cases Natives of India, and belonged to ships which were either registered in or traded to India, and which were seldom, if ever, found within the ports of the United Kingdom. In such cases the Board of Trade had considerable difficulty in recovering the sums expended. When the distressed seamen were Natives of this country, these expenses were charged to the Indian revenue. It was therefore desirable that the Government of India should be enabled to empower some person here to sue, in case the ships or persons chargeable were found in this country. The Bill would effect this object by providing that such suits might be brought in the name of the Secretary of State in Council by such persons as the Governor General in Council might, by notification in the Gazette of India, generally or specially authorize in that behalf.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN FOREST BILL

The Hon'ble MR HOPE moved that His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjáb be added to the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the law relating to the management and preservation of Government forests, to the transit of forest-produce and to the duty leviable on timber. He said that he ought perhaps to explain that this motion was necessary for technical reasons. The Hon'ble Mr. Egerton had, on February 14th, when an Additional Member of the Council, been appointed a member of the Select Committee on the Forest Bill and had actually served in that capacity up to the present time. But, as he had sent in his resignation of the post of Additional Member when he assumed the office of Lieutenant-Governor, it was held that a re-appointment to the Select Committee was necessary in order to validate his signature of the Report which was about to be presented.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hope also presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the law relating to the management and preservation of Government forests, to the transit of forest-produce and to the duty leviable on timber. He said that in doing so he must first explain why the direction of the Council given on the 31st of January last, that the Report should be presented in two months, had not been complied with. Those two months corresponded with the time that the Council had remained in Calcutta, and the late Law Member, Sir A. Hobhouse, together with the Secretary, had been so occupied with the Civil Procedure Code and other urgent legislation that they had been quite unable to give any time to the Forest Bill. The two months had not, however, been lost, as an informal committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Egerton, Mr. Batten, the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, Dr. Schlich and Mr. Baden Powell, the Conservators of Bengal and the Panjáb, together with Mr. Hope himself, had, with the approval of Sir A. Hobhouse, considered the Bill and revised it thoroughly. On coming to Simla Mr. Hope had, he said, been unable to find any leisure for the Bill until recently when he had been relieved of his Famine duties.

As to the Bill itself, he was glad to say that the original draft of it had been most favourably received by all the Local Governments except that of Madras. The Chief Commissioner of British Burma, a province which was perhaps more interested in the matter than any other, had expressed his opinion that the Bill would meet all the necessities of the case, and that it would render superfluous the prosecution of the separate Bill for British Burma which had been introduced into the Council. The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces had written thus:—"Of the scope of the Bill and its general arrangement the Chief Commissioner is glad to be able to express his hearty approval, and it appears to him to provide for all matters connected with Forest conservancy that can be fairly attempted in India for some time to come." The Commissioner of Coorg said that the provisions of the Bill seemed to him "suitable for adoption." The Chief Commissioner of Assam had only one suggestion for improvement to make. The Commissioner in Sindh reported that he "considers its provisions applicable to Sindh, and that he has no alterations or additions to suggest." The Conservator of the Northern Division, Bombay, said "the Bill seems to me to be complete and fully to meet the circumstances and wants of the Northern Division," and the Bombay Government consider that the Bill "will serve its purpose." As to Bengal, the report was that "the present draft appears to the Lieutenant-Governor sufficiently to meet the requirements of Bengal." The Conservator of the North-West Provinces said, "I think the Bill provides for every thing that is required," while the Panjáb, as represented on the Select Committee by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, was understood to be satisfied. Mr. Hope did not mean to imply that the whole of the expressions of approval he had quoted were unqualified. In some cases they were, but in others they were accompanied by objections or suggestions regarding particular points. All these had been carefully considered, and many had led to material improvements.

Mr. Hope thought that he might safely say that the Bill now presented was very superior in scope, precision, adaptability and care of all popular rights to the draft as introduced. Wherever rights could not be allowed to continue (and he believed such cases would prove comparatively few), provision had been made for compensation or commutation, wherever mere regulation was sufficient, care had been taken to leave the people all which in practice they could reasonably require. The objections of Madras had not been forgotten. The Bill had been so materially altered to meet them that he had now every hope that the Madras Government, considering also the scope which the power of making rules gave for meeting local peculiarities, would find themselves able to accept it. If, however, the event should be otherwise, then this Bill offered no obstacle, as Sir A. Hobhouse had explained to the Council, to separate local legislation.

As to the character of the Bill generally, Mr. Hope trusted that any persons who were still disposed to think any part of it arbitrary, would remember that, without effective regulation and conservation of forests, not merely the public revenue, but the public themselves, would suffer, and even risks of famine might be infinitely increased. On this subject he thought the Council would be interested to hear the views regarding the condition of Southern India recently expressed by a distinguished administrator, which were as follows —

“The southern peninsula of India has been or is being denuded, not only of its forests but also of its jungles, its brushwood, its groves, its trees. The denudation has been, as I understand, going on near the sources and the upper courses of the many rivers which water the country. This, perhaps, is being in some degree checked. But with the progress of coffee planting, and with the assertion of communal rights on behalf of the people, the utmost vigilance will be needed to keep it within bounds. If it were to proceed unchecked, there would be imminent danger of the rivers running dry by reason of the catchment basins and the drainage areas near their sources being rainless. And as these rivers supply the great canal systems, this danger has only to be mentioned in order to be felt. The same argument applies in a lesser degree to the tanks or lakes which are second only to the canals in usefulness for irrigation. It has already been seen how precarious is the position of these reservoirs, even with one year's drought. The progress of the country causes the price of timber and of firewood to rise. The introduction of Railways has, in the absence of any local coal-mines, greatly augmented the demand for fuel. Strong temptations are thus inevitably offered to the people at large to fell, cut and lop recklessly, to bring every log, stump and stick to market, to dig out the very roots of the jungle, so stopping any chance of reproduction, without thought for the future. There are stories to be heard everywhere of groves and hedge-rows and scattered trees being cut for sale. In the midst of cultivated tracts there are to be seen bare, sterile hillsides, said to have been forest-clad within living memory. In such localities the climate is supposed to have changed for the worse. Beyond the Ghât mountains, in Bellary and Kurnool, the treeless, shrubless aspect of the country is as wonderful as it is melancholy. These are the very districts where famine has been occasionally epidemic, and where scarcity is almost endemic. Any thoughtful spectator must perceive that, according to all meteorological experience, and to the almost certain teachings of proved fact, these fine districts were not destined by nature to be the prey and sport of famine or scarcity, but have been rendered subject to these calamities by the thoughtless action of man. Even the numerous groves planted in the last generation by the great Collector Mr. Robertson, whose name is still a household word, were made over many years ago to the villagers, and have been mostly cut down. Trees, jungle and forests must, indeed, be thinned and cut for the use of man, but they need never be exhausted, and something might always be left for reproduction.”

Nothing could be more true and worthy of attention than these graphic and practical remarks. Regarding the necessity for regulation of the use of forests in the interests of the public, Mr. Hope would conclude by quoting the opinion of the Secretary of State, not very long ago communicated to the Government of India —

“Her Majesty's Government are, as you are aware, fully impressed with the importance of the adoption of efficient measures for preserving the forests of India, whilst they admit also the necessity of those measures being so framed as to interfere as little as possible with private rights, which may have grown up on behalf of villages or individuals. On the other hand, it must be remembered that as civilisation advances these rights become less and less necessary to the cultivators, and are found frequently incompatible with the superior rights of the whole community, among whom the cultivators themselves obtain advantage in other ways from the restriction of their ancient privileges. The change to this state of things must be gradual, and so timed as to make the transition as little onerous as may be to those who have held such privileges. In the instance before us, it must be remembered that the absolute concession of these privileges would, as a rule, render the effective preservation of the forests impossible, and, moreover, that this is not an object of private import, but is undertaken by Government for the benefit of the whole community.

“It may be added that all the measures already adopted for several years past must have tended to prepare the minds of the inhabitants of the villages for a change of the nature indicated.”

The following Select Committee was named —

On the Bill to amend the North-Western Provinces Land-Revenue Act, 1873—The Hon'ble Sir Alexander Arbuthnot, the Hon'ble Mr. Cockerell and the Mover.

40 If in granting or recognizing any exemption from the land-revenue assessment in favour of the owner of any land the Chief Commissioner, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, makes it a condition of his grant or recognition, that all or any of the following conditions shall apply to such land, namely, succession or maintenance shall apply to such land, and the then owner of such land accepts the grant or recognition on such condition, such rules shall thenceforward apply to such land

(F) — Of Ex-proprietary Tenants and other Tenants with Rights of Occupancy

41 Any person who may have, whether before or after the passing of this Regulation, lost or parted with his proprietary rights in any holding, either temporarily or permanently, and has since continued in occupation of any of the lands comprised in such holding which, as proprietor, he retained under his own cultivation, shall have a right of occupancy in such lands at a rent five annas four paise in the rupee less than the prevailing rate payable by tenants and for lands of similar quantity and with similar advantages in the neighbourhood

Such persons are hereinafter called "ex-proprietary tenants"

Any agreement executed, whether before or after the passing of this Regulation, by an ex-proprietary tenant to pay a higher rate of rent than that prescribed by this section, shall be void

42. When the rent of an ex-proprietary or other occupancy-tenant of any land has not been fixed at settlement, or when the rent was then fixed but the term for which it was then fixed has expired such tenant or his landlord may apply to the Revenue Officer to fix the rent of such land.

43. On receiving such application, the Revenue Officer shall ascertain the productive powers of such land, and proceed to determine the rent payable by such tenant—

(a) where such tenant is not an ex-proprietary tenant, at the prevailing rate paid by similar tenants for land of a similar quality with similar advantages, in the neighbourhood,

(b) where such tenant is an ex-proprietary tenant, at the rate payable by such tenant under the provisions of section forty-one

44. When the rent of any occupancy-tenant has been fixed at settlement or under section forty-three, the landlord may, during the term for which it has been so fixed, apply to the Revenue Officer to enhance the rent of such tenant on any of the following grounds, and on no other—

(a) that the quantity of land held by such tenant has been increased by alluvion or has been proved by measurement to be greater than the quantity for which rent has been previously paid by him,

(b) that the value of the produce of such land has risen, or the productive powers of such land have been increased otherwise than by the agency or at the expense of the tenant.

45. Any occupancy-tenant whose rent has been fixed as aforesaid, may, during the term for which it has been so fixed, apply to the Revenue Officer for an abatement of his rent on any of the following grounds, and on no other—

(a) that the area of the land held by him has been diminished by diluvion, or has been proved by measurement to be less than the quantity for which rent has been previously paid by him,

(b) that the value of the produce of such land has fallen, or the productive powers of such land have been decreased by any cause beyond his control.

46. Every order for enhancement or abatement of rent made under section forty-four or section forty-five, shall take effect from the commencement of the agricultural year next following the date of such order.

47. No change of the method of paying rent from money to kind, or from kind to money, shall be ordered without the consent of both the landlord and the tenant

Provided that the Collector may, where a dispute arises between an ex-proprietary tenant and his landlord, commute rent payable by such tenant in kind to rent in money

(G)—Provisions for the Division of Crops and the estimating of Produce between Landlord and Tenant

48. When the rent of any land is payable by division of a crop grown on such land, the Revenue Officer may, on an application being made either by the landlord or by the tenant when such crop is ripe, proceed to such land on a day of which notice shall be given to both parties, and cause such crop to be cut or gathered and divided in accordance with the shares to which, upon such enquiry as he deems fit to make, it appears to him the parties are respectively entitled.

49. If owing to an error of such Revenue Officer either party in such division receives less than the share to which he is entitled, such party may, within three months from the date on which such division is completed, institute a suit against the other party to recover the value of the additional portion of the crop due to him, at the price which prevailed on such date

If no such suit is instituted within the said period of three months, the division shall for all purposes be deemed to have been rightly made

50. When the rent of any land is to be determined by an estimate of a crop standing on such land, the Revenue Officer may, on an application being made either by the landlord or by the tenant when such crop is ripe, proceed to such land on a day of which notice shall be given to both parties, and determine the yield of such crop in manner following, that is to say—

(a) each of the parties shall appoint an arbitrator and the Revenue Officer shall appoint a third arbitrator,

(b) if either party fails to attend or appoint an arbitrator, the Revenue Officer may appoint an arbitrator for him,

(c) the arbitrators thus appointed shall inspect the crop, and if any two of them agree in their estimate thereof, the Revenue Officer shall declare the rent to be payable in accordance with such estimate,

(N) if no two of the arbitrators agree in their estimate the Revenue Officer shall, after inspecting the crop, make his own estimate thereof, and declare the rent to be payable in accordance therewith

51. Either party may, within three months from the date on which a declaration is made under section fifty, institute a suit against the other party to set aside such declaration on the ground that the estimate on which it is based was made in bad faith, and on no other ground.

If no such suit is instituted within the period thus limited, such declaration shall be for all purposes final and conclusive.

(H).—Of ejecting Tenants

52. No tenant with a right of occupancy or holding under an unexpired lease shall be ejected otherwise than in execution of a decree for ejectment, or as provided in section fifty-four, and no ex-proprietary tenant shall be ejected in either of these modes without the sanction of the Commissioner previously obtained

53. If a landlord desire to eject a tenant not being a tenant of any of the classes referred to in section fifty-two, he may cause a written notice of ejectment to be served on such tenant not less than one month before the commencement of any agricultural year

If the tenant does not quit the land before the commencement of such year, the landlord may present an application to the Revenue Officer for assistance to eject

The Revenue Officer if satisfied—

(1) that the tenant is not a tenant of any of the classes referred to in section fifty-two, and

(2) that the notice of ejectment was served as hereinbefore required, may order the ejectment of such tenant

54. Any tenant may be ejected under an order of the Court executing a decree against him for an arrear of rent if such decree has remained unsatisfied for the period of one month from the date of any application for execution of the same.

55. No tenant shall be ejected under section fifty-two, fifty-three or fifty-four from any land on which he has effected any permanent improvement by sinking a well, constructing an embankment, planting, draining or otherwise, unless and until he has been paid by the landlord the value of such improvement at the date of ejectment, such value to be determined in case the parties differ, by order of the Revenue Officer.

(L).—Of relinquishment by a Tenant

56. Except as may be otherwise provided by any contract, the rent paid by a tenant-at-will in any agricultural year in respect of any land shall continue payable by him during the succeeding agricultural year, unless such tenant, three months before the commencement of such succeeding year, gives notice to his landlord of his intention to relinquish such land, or unless his landlord before the end of such succeeding year ejects him from such land or lets the same to some other person

PART III

OF LAND-REVENUE SETTLEMENTS

(A).—Of the Assessment of the Land-Revenue

59. The term for which a settlement is to be made shall be fixed by the Chief Commissioner with the previous sanction of, or under such rules as may from time to time be prescribed by the Governor General in Council.

60. When the Revenue Officer in charge of the settlement has satisfied himself as to the amount at which, under such rules as may from time to time be made in this behalf by the Chief Commissioner, an estate should be assessed, he shall declare the same to the persons to whom the settlement of such estate is to be offered.

61. If such persons agree to the assessment so proposed, their agreement shall be reduced to writing and signed by them, and they and those (if any) whom they represent, shall become liable from the date of such agreement, or from such subsequent date as the Chief Commissioner may direct, for the payment of the amount of such assessment

But no assessment shall be considered final as against the Government until it has been sanctioned by the Governor General in Council

62. If such persons refuse to accept the proposed assessment, the Revenue Officer in charge of the settlement may exclude such persons and those (if any) whom they represent from their estate, and may make a settlement of such estate, with any other persons, or may take such estate under direct management. The period of such exclusion shall in no case extend beyond the term of the settlement.

63. All persons excluded under section sixty-two shall, during the period of their exclusion, be entitled to a yearly allowance from the Government, the amount of which shall be fixed by the Chief Commissioner, but which shall not be less than five per cent, or more than ten per cent, of the nett amount realized by Government from the estate from which such persons are excluded

64. All persons who are bound by the agreement prescribed by section sixty-one and their successors in interest shall, while they continue to be owners of land in the estate to which such agreement relates, be jointly and severally liable for the payment of the whole amount of revenue assessed upon such estate.

No partition of the nature of that commonly called "perfect partition" shall be made except with the previous sanction of the Chief Commissioner.

(B).—Of the settlement-record

66. Entries in the settlement-record shall be made on the basis of actual possession and existing usage, and shall be authenticated by the signature of the Revenue Officer

67. Any person who considers himself aggrieved by an entry in the settlement record, may appeal to the authorities to whom an appeal lies under this Regulation, or when the entry is one in the first, third, fourth or seventh document mentioned in section sixty-five, may, instead of so appealing, or if he prefers an appeal and is dissatisfied with the order passed thereon by any such authority, bring a suit in the Civil Court against any other persons interested in such entry to have such entry amended

68. Entries in the settlement-record made in the course of a settlement and authenticated under section sixty-six, shall be presumed to be correct till the contrary is proved

69. The settlement-record shall be made over to the Collector at such time as the Chief Commissioner may direct

70 The Chief Commissioner may from time to time by rule determine—

(a) what facts shall be so recorded, and the manner in which, the persons by whom, and the occasions on which, such facts shall be brought to notice and recorded,

(b) what fees shall be payable in respect of the recording of such facts by any persons concerned in or affected by the occurrence of such facts.

(C). Miscellaneous.

In all cases the existing record of rights shall continue in force until a new record of rights is made.

72 Section sixty-four and sections sixty-seven to seventy-one (both inclusive) shall, so far as they may be applicable, apply to the settlement concluded in 1874.

PART IV

OF THE COLLECTION OF THE LAND-REVENUE.

(A) — Time and Place for Payment of Revenue

73 The Chief Commissioner may from time to time make rules as to the rules as to instalments and times and places of instalments by which, and payment the places and times at which, the revenue payable in respect of any estate shall be paid, and as to the mode in which notice of such instalments, places and times shall be given to the persons concerned

Until the Chief Commissioner otherwise directs, the practice in respect of such matters prevailing at the time this Regulation comes into operation shall continue

74. Any sum not paid as required by section seventy-three or the rules framed thereunder, shall be deemed to be an arrear of land-revenue, and every person liable for it shall be deemed to be a defaulter

(B) — Arrest and Imprisonment of Defaulter.

75 When an arrear of land-revenue has accrued, the collector may issue a warrant ordering any defaulter to pay the whole or any part of such arrear within a time therein specified, and may empower an officer named in such warrant, in the event of the amount demanded not being so paid, to arrest such defaulter and bring him to the tahsil

76 If, when the time named in such warrant has expired, the defaulter is brought to the tahsil, and does not either pay such amount or the portion thereof remaining unpaid (as the case may be), or show good reason for extending the time for payment thereof, the Collector may direct him to be conveyed to the Collector's head-quarters, and there kept under personal restraint for ten days or until he pays such amount or such portion thereof within that period

77 The Collector, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, may empower any Revenue Officer subordinate to him, and not being of lower grade than that of Tahsildar, to exercise the powers conferred on the Collector by sections seventy-five and seventy-six

78. If the amount named in any warrant issued under section seventy-five or the portion thereof remaining unpaid (as the case may be) is not paid within the period of ten days fixed by section seventy-six, and no good reason for the delay in the payment thereof is shown, the Collector may by his warrant, commit the defaulter to the civil jail, to be there detained for such period not exceeding six months, or if such amount or such portion thereof is more than five hundred rupees, for such period not exceeding one year, from the date of such warrant, as such Collector thinks fit, unless such amount or such portion thereof is sooner paid.

79 Whenever any of the processes provided in sections eighty-two, eighty-seven and ninety-three is taken in respect of an arrear, any defaulter whose holding has been attached, transferred or sequestered, shall, if he is in custody under section seventy-five, seventy-six or seventy-eight, be forthwith discharged.

80 Instead of, or in addition to, the proceedings authorized by sections seventy-five to seventy-eight, inclusive, the Collector may, in order to realize the whole or any portion of an arrear, order the attachment and sale of the moveable property of any defaulter with the exception of the following, that is to say—

83. During the continuance of an attachment under section eighty-two the defaulters shall be excluded from possession of the land attached, and the agent appointed by the Collector shall stand for all purposes in their position, being bound by all their liabilities to any subordinate proprietors, incumbrancers or tenants of, or on such land, and being entitled to manage such land, and to receive all rents and profits accruing due to such defaulters therefrom.

84. The surplus profits of such land, after defraying the cost of attachment and management, shall be applied, first, to the payment of any revenue falling due upon such land during the attachment, and, next, to discharging the arrear.

85. The attachment shall continue until the arrear is paid or realized from the profits of the land, or the Collector thinks fit to reinstate the defaulters in possession.

(E)—Transfer to a solvent Málguzár or Incumbrancer

86. When an arrear accrues in respect of any estate owing to one of the málguzárs thereof failing to contribute the portion of the revenue chargeable as between him and the other málguzárs of such estate to his holding, any other málguzar of such estate, or any mortgagee or other incumbrancer of, or on such holding may present a petition to the Collector, offering to take over such holding and pay the portion of the arrear chargeable thereto either in a lump sum or by instalments.

87 If the Collector is satisfied that the arrear has accrued owing to such failure, and that such offer ought to be accepted, he may suspend the execution of any other process taken for the realization of the arrear, and transfer the holding to the applicant.

88 Where more than one application is made under section eighty-six, the Collector shall, all other things in his opinion being equal, give a málguzár the preference to an incumbrancer, and among several málguzárs shall give the preference to the applicant who in case the defaulting málguzar's holding were sold, would have a right of pre-emption.

89. Any transfer under section eighty-seven may be made subject to such conditions as the Collector thinks fit, and may be either

(a) for a term not exceeding fifteen years, on the expiry of which the excluded málguzár shall be entitled to re-enter without making good the arrear, or

(b) until the amount of the arrear paid by the transferee is repaid to him by such málguzár.

90. When a transfer is made under section eighty-nine, clause (b), and the amount of the arrear is not repaid within twelve years from the date thereof, the transferee may apply to the Collector to publish a notification declaring that if such amount is not repaid to the transferee within one year from the date of such notification, such transfer will become absolute.

The Collector may, if he thinks fit, publish such notification, and if the amount of the arrear is not so repaid before the expiration of one year from the date of such notification, the transfer shall become absolute

91. No proceedings taken under sections eighty-six to ninety inclusive, shall affect the joint and several liability of the mālguzárs of the estate in which they are taken, for arrears accruing on such estate subsequently to the transfer of the holding of the defaulting mālguzār except that, as regards all such arrears, the transferee shall stand in the place of such mālguzār

(F) — Sequestration of the Estate with Cancellation of Settlement, Leases, &c

92. When any arrear of land-revenue due in respect of an estate, remains unpaid for more than one month, the Collector may, with the previous sanction of the Chief Commissioner, cause to be published and served upon the persons concerned, a notification announcing that, unless such arrear is paid within fifteen days from the date thereof, he will sequester such estate or such portion thereof as may be specified in such notification

93. If such arrear is not paid within fifteen days from the date of such notification, the Collector, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, may make an order directing that such estate or portion be sequestered, and the defaulters excluded therefrom for a period not exceeding fifteen years from the date of such order, and not extending beyond the term of settlement

94 On an order of sequestration being passed under section ninety-three, the following consequences shall ensue —

(a) the execution of any other process taken for the realization of the arrear from the excluded defaulters shall be suspended,

(b) the settlement of the estate shall be cancelled,

(c) All liens, leases and other incumbrances created by such defaulters, or by any person through whom they claim over the estate or portion thereof sequestered may, at the option of the Collector, be cancelled,

But no proceedings shall be instituted or maintained by a headman for the recovery of any sum so chargeable to a holding in an estate after the Collector has informed such headman that the Government demand on such estate has been remitted to an amount equal to such sum, and that such remission has been granted with special reference to such holding.

CHAPTER II

PRE-EMPTION

6. The right of pre-emption is a right of the persons hereinafter mentioned or referred to, to acquire, in the cases hereinafter specified, immoveable property in preference to all other persons

7. Unless the existence of any custom or contract to the contrary is proved, such right shall, whether recorded in the settlement-record or not, be presumed—

(a) to exist in all village-communities, however constituted, and

(b) to extend to the village-site, to the houses built upon it, to all lands and shares of lands within the village-boundary, and to all transferable rights affecting such lands

8. The right of pre-emption shall not be presumed to exist in any town or any sub-division thereof, but may be shown to exist therein, or in any sub-division thereof, and to be exercisable therein by such persons and under such circumstances as the local custom prescribes

9. If the property to be sold or foreclosed is a proprietary tenure, or a share of such a tenure, the right to buy or redeem such property belongs, in the absence of a custom to the contrary,

1st, to co-sharers of such tenure, in order of their relationship to the vendor or mortgagor,

2ndly, to co-sharers of the whole mahál in the same order, and 3rdly, to any member of the village-community.

Where two or more persons are equally entitled to such right, the person to exercise the same shall be determined by lot.

10. When any person proposes to sell any property or when he forecloses a mortgage upon any property in respect of which any persons have a right of pre-emption, he shall give notice to the persons concerned of the price at which he is willing to sell such property, or of the amount due in respect of such mortgage, as the case may be

Such notice shall be given through the Court or some one of the Courts (where there is more than one such Court) in which, under the law for the time being in force, a suit to recover possession of the property might be instituted, and shall be deemed sufficiently given if it be stuck up on the chaupál or other public place of the village or town in which the property is situate

11. Any person having a right of pre-emption in respect of any property proposed to be sold, shall lose such right, unless within three months from the date of such notice he or his agent pays or tenders the price aforesaid to the person so proposing to sell

12. When the right of pre-emption arises in respect of the foreclosure of a mortgage, any person entitled to such right may, at any time within three months after the giving of the notice required by section ten, pay or tender to the mortgagee or his successor in title the amount specified in such notice, and shall thereupon acquire a right to purchase the property

On completion of the purchase the person exercising the right of pre-emption shall be bound to pay to the mortgagee or his successor in title the amount specified in such notice, together with interest on the principal sum secured by the mortgage, at the rate specified by the instrument of mortgage, for any time which has elapsed since the date of the notice, and any additional costs which may have been properly incurred by the mortgagee or his successor in title

13. Any person entitled to a right of pre-emption may bring a suit to enforce such right on any of the following grounds (namely)—

(a) that no due notice was given as required by section ten of this Regulation,

(b) that tender was made under section eleven or section twelve of this Regulation and refused,

(c) in the case of a sale, that the price stated in the notice was not fixed in good faith,

(d) in the case of a mortgage, that the amount claimed by the mortgagee was not really due on the footing of the mortgage and was not claimed in good faith, and that it exceeds the fair market value of the property mortgaged

If, in the case of a sale, the Court finds that the price was not fixed in good faith, the Court shall fix such price as appears to it to be the fair market-value of the property sold

If, in the case of a mortgage, the Court finds that the amount claimed by the mortgagee was not really due on the footing of the mortgage, and that it was not claimed in good faith, and that it exceeds the fair market-value of the property mortgaged, the amount to be paid to the mortgagee shall not exceed what the Court finds to be such market-value.

14. If the Court find for the plaintiff, the decree shall specify a day on or before which the purchase-money or the amount to be paid to the mortgagee shall be paid.

15. If such purchase-money or amount is not paid into the Court before it rises on that day, the decree shall become void, and the plaintiff shall, so far only as relates to such sale or mortgage, lose his right of pre-emption over the property to which the decree relates.

FIBRES AND SILK.

No. 45.—In 1871 the Government of India offered a prize of £5,000 to the inventor of the best machine or process for the preparation of the fibre of the Bhomeria nivea (popularly known under the names of Rhee, Ranie, and China grass), and the terms on which machines would be admitted to competition were widely notified in India, in Europe, and in America. Many persons declared their intention to compete, but ultimately only one machine was actually brought to the place of trial. The machine having been carefully tested at Saharanpur in the autumn of 1872, was found imperfect in some important respects, and the inventor was adjudged not entitled to the full reward. He was, however, presented with £1,500 in consideration of the partial measure of success he had attained after great perseverance.

2. This machine has not since been adapted by the inventor to practical use, and no improved process of preparing the fibre of the rhee has been yet discovered by other persons. Meanwhile the demand for rhee continues and the conditions which induced the Government of India in 1871 to offer a prize remain substantially unchanged.

3. His Honour the President in Council therefore considers that it is desirable to renew the offer, and it is accordingly hereby notified that a reward of fifty thousand rupees will be paid to the inventor of the best machine or process which will separate the bark and fibre from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, of the Bhomeria nivea.

4. A smaller reward not exceeding ten thousand rupees will be given to the inventor of the next best machine or process, provided it is adjudged to possess merit and to be capable without difficulty of adaptation to practical use.

5. What is required is a machine or process capable of producing, by animal, water, or steam power, a ton of dressed fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £15 per ton in the English market, at a total cost including all processes of preparation and all needful allowance for wear and tear, of not more than £15 per ton, laid down at any port of shipment in India and £30 in England, after payment of all the charges usual in trade before goods reach the hands of the manufacturer. The processes of preparation are to be understood to include all the operations required subsequent to the cutting of the stems from the plants in the field, until the fibre is in a condition fit to be packed for conveyance to the market.

6. The machinery employed must be simple, strong, durable, and inexpensive, and should be suited for erection in the plantations where the rhee is grown. It must be adapted for treatment of the fresh stems, as cut from the plant. The treatment of dried stems offers certain difficulties, and the fibre prepared from them must moreover always be much more costly than the fibre produced from green stems. Except during the hot dry weather preceding the rains in Upper India (where rhee grows best), it is very difficult so to dry the stems that no fermentation or mildew shall occur. But during this season the stems are comparatively short and the crop poor and stunted, unless it is artificially irrigated, and such irrigation greatly increases the cost of cultivation. In the rainy season the plant is in fine condition, but at this season it is almost impossible to dry the stems in quantity without injuring the fibre unless recourse is had to artificial means of desiccation, which greatly increase the cost of the material. It is therefore obvious that the attention of inventors should be given to the discovery of a process for the treatment of the green stems.

7. The trials will be held at Saharanpur in the North-Western Provinces, in the months of August and September 1879. Machines entered for competition should be placed in situ and be ready for work not later than the 15th August, the competition commencing on the next day. The judges will be appointed by the Government, and they will watch the whole of the trials. But the machines shall be worked and adjusted by the competitors themselves, and no person shall touch a machine without the consent of the inventor.

8. The Government of India will provide proper shelter and accommodation at Saharanpur for all the competing machines as well as the motive power required. It will also pay for the transport from the sea-ports to Saharanpur of all machines up to the limit of one ton each, the freight on any excess weight to be defrayed by the owners. The present rate of freight by rail from Calcutta to Saharanpur is Rs. 3-10 per maund or Rs. 98-11 per ton, and from Bombay to Saharanpur Rs. 4-1 per maund or Rs. 110-9 per ton. A free second class ticket to Saharanpur will also be given to any person in charge of a machine.

9. The owner or owners of the successful machine or machines shall not be entitled to receive the reward offered except on the following conditions, viz.—

(1)—That a complete technical description of the machine, illustrated by plans drawn to scale, shall be prepared and published (Government paying the cost) for the information of the public.

(2)—That after the expiry of three years from the date on which the award is made, the public shall have the right of manufacturing similar machines, on payment to the owner of a royalty of 10 per cent, on the cost of each machine so manufactured.

10 All persons desiring to compete under the terms and on the conditions specified above are requested to make known their intention not later than the 31st December 1878, giving the following particulars —

- 1 Name in full and residence
2. Profession or occupation.
- 3 Number of different kinds of machines entered for competition
- 4 Brief description of each machine.

Intending competitors will at the same time declare themselves bound (under penalty of disqualification of the competing machines and forfeiture of all claim to the Government reward) to conform to all rules which may be prescribed by Government or by the judges appointed by Government in connection with the conduct of the trials

All notices of intention to compete and applications for information should be addressed to the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, Calcutta.

11. A limited quantity of rhea will be grown in the Botanic Gardens, Calcutta, and persons desirous of testing their machines before entering them for public competition may obtain green stems in small quantities from the Superintendent of the gardens, through this Department

EXPENDITURE—MEDICAL.

The 31st October 1877

No. 4177.—The following Resolution is published in the Gazette of India for general information —

Read again—

Pay and Allowances Proceedings, July 1877, Nos 10 to 31

Read the following letters —

From the Government of Bengal, to the Government of India in the Home Department, No 731P, dated 21st June, asking permission to appoint an Uncovenanted Medical Officer to be Civil Surgeon of Burdwan, one of the civil stations reserved for the Covenanted Medical Service

From the Government of India in the Home Department, to the Government of Bengal, No 151, dated 14th August 1877, refusing to sanction this appointment

RESOLUTION —By Resolutions No 2185, dated 14th August 1876, and No 3816, dated 31st October 1876, the principle was affirmed that, except for special reasons, and with the previous sanction of the Government of India, no one but a Commissioned Medical Officer should be appointed to any office reserved for the Covenanted Medical Services.

2 In applying for permission to make the appointment which has now been disallowed, the Government of Bengal pointed out that these orders of 1876 appear to conflict with certain earlier orders favoring as economical, the extended employment of Uncovenanted Medical Officers

3 The Governor General in Council considers that there is no real conflict between the orders thus contrasted, but, to prevent future misunderstanding about a principle of much importance, His Excellency in Council deems it necessary to recite and declare afresh the policy of the Government as regards the public service in the Medical Department

4 The Commissioned Medical Officers in the Military Department are all Members of organised, Covenanted Services. The Government of India has authorised the appointment of Members of these Services to certain specified Civil Medical Charges and Appointments. These specified appointments are added to the List of Military Appointments for which provision is authorised, and the strength of the Commissioned Medical Services is regulated and maintained accordingly. Every addition to the List of Civil Medical Charges for which Covenanted Officers are authorised, involves an addition to the strength of one of the Commissioned Medical Services, and every reduction of that List involves a reduction of the strength of one of these Services.

5 The pay and pension of a Commissioned or Covenanted Medical Officer in Civil employ being higher than the pay and pension of an Uncovenanted Medical Officer, every addition to the List of Civil Medical Charges for which Commissioned Medical Officers are authorised, causes additional expense, and every reduction of this List produces a saving. Hence the orders to which the Government of Bengal has referred, favoring the extended employment of Uncovenanted, in place of Covenanted Medical Officers. The principle of these orders is still emphatically recognised every curtailment of the List of Civil Medical Charges for which Commissioned Officers must be provided will be welcomed as conducive to economy, and no addition to this List will be allowed without the strongest evidence of necessity

6 But, when once a Civil Medical Charge is enrolled in the List and provision is made for it by the necessary addition to the strength of one of the Commissioned Medical Services, it is impossible, except for very special reasons, to allow the appointment thereto of any one but a Commissioned Medical Officer. The appointment of an Uncovenanted Officer to an office for which provision is made in the recruitment of one of the Commissioned Medical Services would be obviously unjust to the officers of this Service, and tend to produce organic inconveniences such as the Government is now finding it so difficult, and so costly, to remedy in the Covenanted Civil Service. It is an indispensable condition of the formation of every body of officers organised under covenant or commission, to fill certain offices, that the monopoly of these offices be jealously and rigidly preserved to them. Any departure from this course involves (1) injustice to the officers, and, as a consequence, well-founded, and, therefore, mischievous discontent among them, (2) needless expense for the pay of officers provided for offices otherwise filled.

7 Hence the Resolutions of 1876 that, except under circumstances of special necessity and with the particular sanction of the Government of India, no one but a Covenanted Medical Officer may be appointed to any office in the List of Medical Charges for which Commissioned Officers are provided. The principle of these Resolutions makes it necessary to add that they must continue to operate in respect to an office removed from that List, so long as any officer who was admitted to the service before the office was so removed, remains practically eligible for the appointment.

8 It seems necessary even to go a step further. It being necessary, for the general purposes of the Administration, to maintain organised bodies of Commissioned Medical Officers, economy plainly requires that the utmost possible use be made of them, and that, so long as any of them is unemployed, no other Medical Officer be appointed to the public service. An Uncovenanted Medical Officer is less costly than a Commissioned Officer, only if his employment enables the Government to dispense with the employment of a Commissioned Officer. It is not, however, possible to regulate the recruitment of bodies like the Commissioned Medical Services so exactly that their number shall never be excessive. Moreover, the reserve of Commissioned Medical Officers maintained for military purposes is larger than is needed for actual military duties in times of peace.

9 An Uncovenanted Officer, therefore, should never be appointed to any Medical Charge, whether it be contained in the List of Charges for which Commissioned Officers are allowed or not, until it has been ascertained that no Commissioned Officer can be spared for the post. Although the pay of a Commissioned Officer be higher, it will be cheaper and better to employ such an officer if one can be spared, rather than to leave him to draw his military pay for doing duties for which his services are not absolutely required, and to pay an additional Uncovenanted Officer though on a lower scale. The Departmental Medical Authorities will decide, in each case, whether a Commissioned Officer can or cannot be spared. The Government of India does not wish to press for the employment of Commissioned Officers in any Civil Charges not included in the List of Charges for which Commissioned Officers are sanctioned and provided, but the Heads of the Medical Department should be guided in their proceedings by the principles herein recited.

(1)—The Governor General in Council has no desire to increase the number of the Commissioned Medical Officers. On the contrary, so far as the exigencies of the public service will permit, His Excellency in Council would be glad, for economical reasons, to reduce the number of such officers.

(2)—But His Excellency in Council must insist upon the Commissioned Medical Officers in the several Services at any time, being utilised to the utmost, and he expects the Heads of the Medical Department and the Local Governments to take all precautions not only that there be no avoidable encroachment by Uncovenanted Officers upon the appointments for which Commissioned Officers are sanctioned and provided, but that not a single Uncovenanted Medical Officer be appointed to any Civil Medical Charge, unless no Commissioned Medical Officer is available for the duty.

11 As to the office of Superintendent of a Central Jail to which the Government of Bengal refers, the Commissioned Medical Services are not now recruited with a view to the provision of Members of these Services for this office. There is, therefore, no conflict between the Resolution in the Home Department No 819, dated 16th June 1869, and the principles affirmed in this Resolution, and no objection to the continued operation of that Resolution.

12 It appears that, when ascertaining the sanctioned strength of the Commissioned Medical Service, in order to determine the number of recruits to be added to the service from time to time, the Military authorities reckon, among the sanctioned appointments, all those actually filled by Medical Officers at the time, whether specifically sanctioned or not. This practice should now cease, no office should be admitted to the list of offices for which Commissioned Medical Officers are to be provided, unless the appointment of a Commissioned Medical Officer thereto is compulsory within the meaning of this Resolution. Any Commissioned Medical Officer who can be spared, may be appointed to any office which he can legally fill, but provision should be made beforehand for the supply of only those offices for which Commissioned Medical Officers have been specifically allowed, and to which, without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, no one but a Commissioned Medical Officer may be appointed.

Financial Resolution, No 3173, dated 20th November 1873, removing the limit of Five Rupees, fixed in the Notification of 31st May 1869, for the issue of copper coin from the Government Treasuries and Sub-treasuries

Read also the undermentioned reports regarding the depreciation in the value of copper coin in the Madras Presidency and in Mysore —

From Deputy Accountant General, Mysore, No 2500, dated 7th August 1877

From Accountant General, Madras, No 5175, dated 10th August 1877

RESOLUTION—The Governor General in Council learns with regret that, notwithstanding the measures recited in the preamble, legal-tender copper coin has been circulating, this year, at a discount in Southern India. Whenever this occurs, injury is inflicted especially upon the poor who can least afford to bear it, and the Administration is discredited.

2 His Excellency in Council is, accordingly, now pleased to direct the free exchange of silver for legal-tender copper coin in parcels of the nominal value of not less than Two Rupees, at every Treasury, Sub-treasury, and Currency Office throughout British India and in Mysore and Berar, and also, in anticipation of the consent of the Directors, at the Presidency Banks and their Branches. Legal-tender copper coin received by the Banks under this Resolution will be subject to the operation of the Ninth Clause of the Agreements with the Banks, and the Comptroller General or Accountant General, as the case may be, will, under the Fifth Clause of those Agreements, pass bills for the cost of remitting elsewhere any surplus legal tender copper coin which may accumulate in any Bank or Branch Bank

3 Wherever large bodies of men are assembled on public works under construction for purposes of Famine Relief, or otherwise, the local authorities should make special arrangements to supply silver on the spot in exchange for the legal-tender copper coin which may be collected by the purveyors or foremen at such assemblages

4 The object of these orders is to prevent legal-tender copper coin from circulating at a discount, it is believed that, if they are carefully obeyed, such a state of things can never occur

5 If, nevertheless, legal-tender copper coin does, at any time, or anywhere, circulate at a discount, the circumstance should be immediately reported to the Local Government, and by the Local Government to the Government of India, with full explanation of the supposed causes of the phenomenon, and of the measures taken to remedy the evil

6 Care must be taken not to receive, whether under these orders or otherwise, at any Treasury, Sub-treasury or Currency Office, any copper coin that is not a legal-tender under the Indian Coinage Act 1870

The 2nd November 1877

No. 4308 —1 On and after the 1st January 1878 registered letters and parcels may be insured for the actual value, as certified on them by the sender, for transmission by inland post

2 The facility for insuring registered letters and parcels will be made available at almost all post offices, the only exceptions being a few vernacular offices. The Government will guarantee to the sender the safe transit of insured registered letters and parcels, and will give compensation to him, within the insured value, for any actual loss occurring in transit from any cause whatsoever, except in the cases described below

The excepted cases are as follows —

- (1) —Misdelivery arising out of incorrectness or incompleteness of the address written by the sender
- (2) —Wrong declaration or fraud on the part of the sender or addressee.
- (3).—When the receipt or acknowledgment has been signed by the addressee or his agent it being understood that the addressee shall fully examine the outward appearance of the letter or parcel before signing the receipt or acknowledgment By the term agent is meant not merely a person specially authorized by the addressee but any servant or other person connected with the addressee's household or business establishment who is accustomed to sign the receipts for registered letters or parcels arriving to his address. Any person who wishes to restrict the delivery of insured articles arriving to his address may do so by communicating with the post office.

- (4) — When the sender does not give intimation of loss within three months from the date of posting.
- (5) — In cases of damage as distinguished from loss, it being understood that the sender is responsible for the proper packing of articles liable to damage so as to provide sufficient protection for them.
- (6) — When there is no visible damage to the envelope or other covering or seals it being understood that the sender must so pack the letter or parcel that its contents cannot be touched without visible damage as aforesaid being caused.

3 The compensation will be payable one month after the date on which intimation of loss is given by the sender to the post office, except in cases in which the post master general or chief inspector of post offices may consider that the circumstances demand the withholding of payment pending enquiry.

4 An acknowledgment signed by the addressee will in ordinary course be transmitted to the sender and in the event of the acknowledgment conveying the intimation of loss, or of the non-receipt of an acknowledgment within three months, he is expected to give intimation to the post office.

5 The sender shall on receiving compensation make over in writing to the Government the whole of his rights in the lost property, and shall give all information necessary to facilitate the search for it.

6 No letter or parcel may be insured for an amount greater or less than the actual value of its contents as certified thereon by the sender. Letters and parcels may be insured without limit as to value. The weight of an insured parcel may not exceed the usual limit of 2,000 tolas and in respect of size also it will be subject to the ordinary conditions mentioned in the postal guide.

7 The charges for insurance will be as follows —

|---|-----|----------|
| When the value certified does not exceed Rs | 10  | 1 anna,  |
| "   | 25  | 2 annas, |
| "   | 50  | 4 "      |
| "   | 75  | 6 "      |

and 8 annas for every additional rupees 100 or fraction thereof.

8 The prepayment of postage, and in the case of letters of the registration fee, is compulsory and must be effected by postage stamps affixed to the article. The prepayment of the insurance fee is also compulsory and must be made in cash to be tendered with the article. Thus a letter weighing (say) three-fourths of a tola and insured for rupees 1,000 must be prepaid with stamps to the extent of 1 anna for postage and 4 annas for registration (the total prepayment by stamps thus being 5 annas), and in presenting it at the post office it must be accompanied by rupees 5 in cash for insurance. Similarly a parcel weighing (say) 110 tolas and insured for rupees 1,000 must be prepaid with stamps of the value of 1 rupee for postage and accompanied by rupees 5 in cash for insurance.

under section 43 of the post office act of 1866, as well as to penalties for cheating under the penal code

11 Any person making a false certificate will be liable to the penalty

12 Registered letters and parcels intended for insurance must be presented at the window of the post office The hours for their reception will be the ordinary registration hours, which with a few exceptions are from 7 to 8 A M and from noon to 5 P M They will not be received at all on Sundays, and they must be tendered at least one hour before the time fixed for the closing of the mail by which they are intended to be despatched otherwise they will be detained till the next despatch is made

13 Letters and parcels intended for insurance should be closed as follows —

In the case of a letter if the cover be an envelope of the ordinary kind as represented on the margin, it should be of strong paper having seals on the flap point in the centre, and on each of the four corners, with distinct impressions of some device other than that of a current coin If the cover of the letter be other than an ordinary envelope of the kind referred to above, it should be of strong paper or other substantial material, the seals being placed along each fold or seam not more than two inches apart A parcel should be securely packed in cloth, wax-cloth or tin, and if it is packed in cloth or wax-cloth it should bear similar seals at intervals not exceeding three inches along each line of sewing

14 Letters and parcels not fulfilling the required conditions will not be insured

15 As a further precaution it is recommended that in closing an envelope containing only paper enclosures, the flaps should be closed with paste as well as with seals, and that a needle and thread should be passed through the envelope and its contents, the knot of the thread being placed under the central seal a specimen of an envelope closed in this manner can be seen at the post office

16 The addressee of an insured letter or parcel must sign both the receipt and acknowledgment presented therewith, unless the outward appearance of the cover give rise to suspicion of tampering In such case he should return the letter or parcel unopened, arranging with the post master to take delivery at the post office, the letter or parcel being opened there in the presence of the post master and its contents entered in an inventory which will be prepared in duplicate and must be signed by the addressee One copy of the signed inventory will be forwarded by the post office to the sender with the unsigned acknowledgment attached to it

17. "Value payable parcels," i.e., parcels the value of which is realized from the addressee and paid to the sender under the Postal Notice of 1st November 1877 may also be insured, insurance however renders the prepayment of postage and the insurance fee compulsory When a "value payable" parcel is insured the sender will receive from the post office two receipts, viz., a value payable receipt and an insurance receipt

Financial Department Notification No 75 (Pay and Allowances) of 20th April 1877

It has been brought to the notice of the Governor General in Council that great diversity exists in the rules regarding the travelling allowance of Civil Surgeons. In some cases these officers receive mileage only, in others they draw mileage for journeys and a daily allowance for halts, and under a third system they are permitted to receive, in addition to mileage, a daily allowance for the whole period of absence from headquarters, including the period for which mileage is drawn. It is sufficiently obvious that the travelling allowances of officers employed in similar capacities should be regulated, so far as local circumstances admit, on a uniform principle. His Excellency in Council is accordingly pleased to lay down the following rules for general adoption —

I —The rates of travelling allowance for Civil Surgeons are 8 annas a mile, subject to reduction under general rules for journeys by railway, and Rs 5 a day, except in the Berars, for which a rate of Rs 6-4-0 a day has been experimentally sanctioned for the current year

II —Subject to such restrictions, as the Local Government or Administration may see fit to impose, as to the duration and frequency of his journeys, a Civil Surgeon is entitled either to the daily allowance or to the mileage for the whole of each period of his absence from his headquarters on duty, unless the duty is one for which he receives no extra remuneration, in which case he is entitled to the daily allowance for halts and either to that allowance or to the mileage for journeys, provided that both allowances are not drawn for the same day, and that the allowance for journeys shall be payable only when the Civil Surgeon has the sanction of the district officer to his marching instead of going by dāk or railway.

OF APPELLATE JURISDICTION

37 When by any law for the time being in force an appeal is allowed from any decree or order passed or made by a Civil Court of original jurisdiction, and no provision applicable to the territories to which this Act extends is made by such law for determining the Court to which such appeal shall lie, such appeal shall lie as follows, that is to say —

(a) when such decree or order is passed or made by the Court of a Tahsildár or of an Assistant Commissioner with special or ordinary powers—to the Court of the Deputy Commissioner,

(b) when such decree or order is passed or made by the Court of an Assistant Commissioner with full powers or of a Deputy Commissioner—to the Court of the Commissioner,

(c) when such decree or order is passed or made by the Court of a Commissioner—to the Chief Court

38 When the decision of the Court of a Deputy Commissioner or of an Assistant Commissioner passed in appeal under section thirty-seven reverses or modifies the decree or order of the Court of original jurisdiction, and is not declared by any law for the time being in force to be final, the Court of the Commissioner, when such decision has been passed by the Court of a Deputy Commissioner, and the Chief Court, when such decision has been passed by the Court of a Commissioner, may receive a further appeal, if, on a perusal of the grounds of appeal and of copies of the judgments of the lower Courts, it is of opinion that a further consideration of the case is requisite for the ends of justice.

39 The following clause shall be added to the Code of Civil Procedure, section 584:—

“(d) the existence or non-existence, validity or invalidity, of a custom alleged to have the force of law”

The words “second appeal” in section 585 of the same Code shall be deemed to include an appeal against the order of the Court of a Commissioner passed under section thirty-eight of this Act

In modification of the same Code, section 586, a further appeal may be received under section thirty-eight of this Act in any suit of the nature cognizable in Courts of Small Causes when the amount or value of the subject-matter of the original suit is less than five hundred rupees. Provided that no such appeal shall lie when such amount or value does not exceed the sum of fifty rupees

40. The period of limitation for an appeal under section thirty-seven, thirty-eight or thirty-nine shall run from the date of the decree, order or decision appealed against, and shall be as follows, that is to say —

(a) when such appeal lies to the Court of a Deputy Commissioner or Commissioner—sixty days,

(b) when such appeal lies to the Chief Court—ninety days

In computing such periods of sixty and ninety days, and in all respects not herein specified, the limitation of such appeals shall be governed by the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877.

41 Any Civil Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties, after giving notice to the parties and hearing such of them as desire to be heard, withdraw any civil appeal pending in any Court under its superintendence or control, and try such appeal itself or transfer the same for trial to any other Court under its superintendence or control and of a grade equal or superior to that of the Court from which such appeal is withdrawn

OF ADVOCATES AND PLEADERS

42 Notwithstanding anything contained in the Pleadings, Mukhtárs and Revenue Agents Act, 1865, sections 45 and 46, no person shall appear, plead or act on behalf of another in any Civil Court unless with the permission of the Chief Court

43 The Chief Court may from time to time make rules to regulate applications for permission to appear, plead or act in all or any of the Courts under its control, and the form in which such permission shall be granted.

44 The Chief Court may at any time, for sufficient reason, withdraw any permission granted under this chapter, or suspend the operation of the same

45 The Chief Court may from time to time by general order in writing fix and regulate the fees which shall be payable upon all proceedings in such Court by any party in respect of the fees of his adversary's pleader

MISCELLANEOUS

46 Except with the consent of the parties, no Judge of any Court shall try any suit or appeal to or in which he is a party or personally interested, or any appeal against a decree or order passed by himself, or shall adjudicate upon any proceeding connected with, or arising out of, such suit or appeal

When any such suit, appeal or proceeding comes before him he shall forthwith transmit the record of the case to the Chief Court with a report of the circumstances attending the reference. The Chief Court shall thereupon dispose of the case in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, section 25.

47 All rules made and forms prescribed under section twenty-six and section twenty-seven, clauses (a), (b), (d) and (e), shall be submitted for sanction to the Local Government, and, on receiving such sanction, shall be published in the official Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

48 The Local Government may from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, by notification in the official Gazette, appoint a single Judge of the Chief Court to exercise the power of superintendence conferred on such Court by section twenty five, and may cancel such notification.

While such notification continues in force, such power shall be exercised by the Judge appointed thereby and not otherwise.

49 The Local Government may from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, declare that a settlement of land revenue is in progress in any local area, and invest any officer making or controlling such settlement with all or any of the powers of any Court constituted under this Act for the purpose of trying all or any specified class of suits and appeals relating to land, or the rent, revenue or produce of such land, arising in such local area.

The publication of any notification under this section shall be conclusive evidence that a settlement of land-revenue is in progress in the local area to which the notification refers.

The Local Government may cancel any such notification.

While such notification continues in force, such powers shall be exercised by the officers so invested and not otherwise.

Provided that the Local Government may, by order published in the official Gazette, direct that any jurisdiction with which any officer may have been invested by such notification shall be exercised solely by the Civil Court by which such jurisdiction would have been exercised if such notification had not been published.

Provided also that any cases pending before any officer under such notification when it is cancelled may, notwithstanding such cancellation, be disposed of by him as if it continued in force, unless the Local Government directs (as it is hereby empowered to do) that such cases shall be transferred for disposal to the Court by which they would have been disposed of if such notification had not been published.

Explanation—In this section "land" means land assessed to the land revenue or whereof the land-revenue has been wholly or in part released, compounded for, redeemed or assigned, and all land the property of Government not within the site of any town or village.

50 For the purposes of section forty-nine the Local Government may, notwithstanding anything herein contained, from time to time direct that any of the Courts hereinbefore mentioned (except the Chief Court) shall, in respect of any specified class of cases, be subordinate to, or subject to the control or superintendence of, any authority other than those herein specified.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[ Third publication ]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 17th October 1877, and was referred to a Select Committee —

No 18 of 1877

A Bill to amend the North-Western Provinces Land-Revenue Act, 1873

For the purpose of amending the North-Western Provinces Land-Revenue Act, 1873, it is hereby enacted as follows —

Addition to Act XIX of 1873, s 29      1 To section 29 of the same Act the following clause shall be added —

“EXPLANATION — Charges incurred in the preparation of village-maps shall be deemed to be charges within the meaning of this section”

2 In section 194 of the said Act, for the words “otherwise rendered” the words “declared by the Local Government” shall be substituted

3 To section 199 of the same Act the following Amendment of Act ing clause shall be added
XIX of 1873, s 199 (namely) —

“Persons whose property is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards shall not be competent to create, without the sanction of the Court, any charge upon, or interest in, such property or any part thereof”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The primary object of this Bill, which has been recommended by the Local Government, is to deprive persons whose estates are under the management of the Court of Wards of power to charge or alienate those estates. The opportunity has been taken to make a slight improvement in the wording of section 194 of the North-Western Provinces Land-Revenue Act, 1873, and to remove a doubt as to the power of applying the patwari-fund raised under section 29 to defray the cost of preparing those village-maps, on which the correctness of the Patwari's records mainly depends

the law relating to the management and preservation of Government forests, to the transit of forest produce and to the duty leviable on timber was referred, have the honour to report that we have considered the Bill and the papers specified in the margin

2. As Act VII of 1865 has never been extended to Madras or Bombay, and much confusion and uncertainty might be created by its continuing in force in so far as not superseded by the present Bill, we have provided (section 1) for its repeal, as also that of Acts VII of 1869 and XIII of 1873, in any territories to which the present Bill may be extended.

We have also provided that such extension shall be of the whole Bill, and not of parts only since it will always remain optional with Local Governments to exercise or not the powers which any chapter or section confers

3 We have improved the definitions of “Forest-officer” and “Forest-produce,” and have assimilated that of “cattle” to the definition in the Cattle Trespass Act

4 In order to avoid the delay and expense of an elaborate preliminary demarcation, which was objected to in many quarters, we have provided (section 4) that the notification of the proposal to constitute a Reserved Forest may be in general terms, but have indicated more clearly (section 19) that the final demarcation must be precise

5 We have made more clear (section 4) the intention that the Forest Settlement Officer should not, except under very exceptional circumstances, be a Forest-officer But, in deference to representations from British Burma and the North-West Provinces, we have provided an option of entrusting the forest settlement to two or three officers instead of one

6. In order to meet the case of the wild tribes and illiterate persons who will in many instances be the possessors of rights over forest lands, we have allowed (section 6) claims to be preferred orally to the Forest Settlement Officer and made it obligatory on him to take such statements down in writing

7 With the same view we have required (section 7) the Forest Settlement Officer to inquire into the existence of rights, by searching the Government records and taking evidence, even though the people themselves, through ignorance or neglect, may not appear to claim them

8 We have also provided (section 9) for the hearing of claims not preferred within the time prescribed by section 6, whenever claimants can shew sufficient cause for their delay

9 In section 10 we have made more clear the alternative courses which may be pursued in the case of claims to or over land, and have also provided for compensation being given wholly or partly in land where the parties prefer land to money.

10 From section 12 the provisions contained in section 10 of the Bill as introduced for the rejection of rights which were not habitually exercised by the claimants at the time of the notification under section 4, or which were not required for the beneficial use of the land or premises or of the person claiming the same, have been omitted

11 Sections 16 and 17 express more clearly than section 15 of the Bill as introduced the intention of the latter as to the authorities by whom and the manner in which appeals are to be heard

12 We have made a new provision (section 21) for the revision by the Local Government, at any time not exceeding five years from the date of the Notification under section 19, of any settlement effected under section 14 which experience has shewn to be unworkable

13 We have provided (section 24) that rights appendant to any land or house may be freely alienated therewith

14 Section 28 has been amended in phraseology, so as to admit of forests, the use of which is essential to village communities, or in which such communities have rights jointly with Government, being assigned to such communities, under suitable precautions against waste or misappropriation

15 In section 32 of the Bill as introduced it was provided that the provisions of chapter IV, regarding district or (as we prefer to term them) Protected forests, should be without prejudice to all existing rights of individuals or communities. In order, however, that holders of rights may not be put to the inconvenience and expense of proving them in order to establish their immunity from the restrictions of the chapter, we have provided (section 29) that no land shall be constituted a Protected Forest unless the nature and extent of the rights of Government and other persons in it have been enquired into and recorded at a survey or settlement or in some other sufficient manner. At the same time it has been left open to any person to dispute the correctness of such record

16 In section 30 we have inserted a provision to permit of the closing of portions of a Protected Forest for a limited period, provided the remainder of the forest be sufficient and convenient for the exercise of rights thus temporarily suspended in the portion closed. This provision is in accordance with the rules in the North-West Provinces made under the existing law, and is generally considered necessary for purposes of renovation

17 In section 32 we have given power to make rules to regulate the exercise of recorded rights, so as to prevent, in the interest of the community, waste and injury to the forest

18 In order to preclude hardship to the owners of private forests from the operation of chapter V, we have enabled such owners (section 37) to require the Government to acquire the land for public purposes

19 We have added a section (38) to enable Government, at the request of owners of land, either to administer such land as a Reserved or Protected Forest, or to apply to it all or any of the provisions of the Bill. This improvement has been made at the suggestion of the Panjáb Government, with special reference to sacred and other private forests in that province, but we have reason to believe that the option of obtaining for their forest property the same legal protection, and also (if desired) the same skilled administration, as the Government provides for its own, is likely to be welcomed by the owners of rent-free estates and other private property in many parts of India

20 We have restricted (section 39) the power of levying a duty on timber produced in British India to timber in respect of which the Government has any rights. The holders of lands under lakhiraj, inami or other tenures in which forest rights are included will thus not be interfered with. We have likewise validated the levy of such duties now existing, which are numerous in certain parts of India

21 In section 45 we have empowered the Local Government to exempt any particular class of timber from the operation of the section, partly in order not to interfere with the collection of drift wood for fuel, which is common among the poorer classes in certain localities

22 We have recast the earlier sections of chapter IX, so as to bring them into closer conformity with similar provisions in other special laws.

23 In section 63 we have inserted a provision that no person shall be arrested for any act which is an offence under chapter IV, excepting for a violation of a prohibition under clause (c) of section 30.

24 In section 67 we have restricted the power of Forest-officers, as regards compounding, to the receipt of compensation for damage committed.

25 We have enlarged section 73 by empowering the Local Government to make rules regarding the rewards to be paid to officers and informers out of the proceeds of fines and confiscations, and for the preservation, reproduction and disposal of trees and timber belonging to Government but grown on lands belonging to, or in the occupation of, private persons

26 We have inserted a new section (77) to enable the Government to enforce service in cases where persons are entitled to a share in the produce of forests on the condition of duly performing service in connection with such forests

27 We have carefully considered the objections made by the Government of Madras to the original draft of the Bill which was circulated previous to its introduction into the Council. We are of opinion that the improvements which have now been made in both the language and matter of the Bill are so material as substantially to meet these objections, some of which were based on a misapprehension of what was intended. It appears to us that the Bill, especially considering the latitude for meeting local peculiarities which the power of making rules affords, is now not unsuitable to the circumstances of the Madras Presidency, and is such as might be accepted by the Local Government. At the same time, being permissive in its application, it contains nothing to prevent separate local legislation, if that course should be eventually preferred.

28 The publication ordered by the Council has taken place, but we consider republication to be desirable.

29 We recommend that the Bill as now amended be passed

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 24th October 1877, and was referred to a Select Committee —

No 20 of 1877

A Bill to provide for the recovery in British India of wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, certain seamen and apprentices

Whereas by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, and by the Merchant Shipping Act

Preamble
Amendment Act, 1855, section 16, it is enacted that the Board of Trade may, in manner therein mentioned, and in the name of Her Majesty, sue for and recover the wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, the distressed seamen and apprentices in the said sections mentioned, And whereas it is expedient to empower such persons as the Governor General in Council may think fit to sue for and recover in British India in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council, such wages and expenses, when the same are charged upon any ship, or recoverable from any master, owner or other person, found in British India, It is hereby enacted as follows —

1. The Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, authorize, either generally or specially, such persons as he thinks fit to sue for and recover, in manner in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, provided, any wages or expenses recoverable under the said sections of the said Acts in cases where such wages and expenses are, under the same sections, a charge upon any ship, or recoverable from any master, owner or other person, within the jurisdiction of any Court in British India. Every person so authorized shall be entitled to sue and recover accordingly in any such Court, and shall be deemed to be a person filing a public office within the meaning of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, section 57, clause 7.

2 All suits and proceedings under this Act shall be instituted and carried on in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

By the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, and 18 & 19 Vict, c 91, section 16, provision is made for the recovery by the Board of Trade of wages due to, and expenses incurred in relieving, distressed seamen and apprentices in foreign and colonial ports. These distressed seamen are in many cases Natives of India, and belong to ships which are either registered in or trade to India, and which are seldom, if ever, found within the ports of the United Kingdom. In such cases the Board of Trade has considerable difficulty in recovering the sums expended. When the distressed seamen are Natives of this country, these expenses are charged to the Indian revenue. It is therefore desirable that the Government of India should be enabled to empower some person here to sue, in case the ships or persons chargeable are found in this country. The Bill effects this object by providing that such suits may be brought in the name of the Secretary of State in Council by such persons as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, generally or specially authorize in that behalf. The Bill will also enable persons so authorized to sue in all cases in which the ships or persons chargeable are found in this country, even though the Indian revenue may not be concerned.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

PROVINCE OF MYSORE

(No 36)

Special famine report for the week ending 13th October 1877

Statement No 36, regarding famine relief operations in the Province of Mysore, for the week ending the 13th October 1877

The rainfall has been good in the northern and eastern districts, but lighter in Mysore, Hassan and Kadur. Agricultural prospects are on the whole satisfactory. Ragi is suffering in some taluks from blight, and both that jawari have to a certain extent been injured by excessive rain, but taken altogether the dry crops are thriving well, and the tanks have received sufficient water to assure wet crops wherever sown. Information regarding the area cultivated is not yet supplied, but the Deputy Commissioner's weekly reports state that sowing progresses rapidly, and the funds now placed at the disposal of the district officers to assist the ryots in procuring seed will give a further stimulus. Harvesting continues, and the early crops are everywhere rapidly coming to maturity. The relief thus afforded is very appreciable. Not only are prices falling but the demand for field labor is good. The pressure upon State aid is thus proportionately less, but the condition of those who have suffered by the prolonged drought will for some time tax the utmost energy of the district officers. The Famine Commissioner during the past week has inspected the northern part of the Bangalore District and nearly the whole of the Tumkūr District. He reports the crops there are generally in good condition, but some of the early ragi and most of the jawari have had too much rain. He found a great deal of land unsown, and anticipates that the recent orders about takavi will be of much benefit. The cattle were in excellent condition, pasture being abundant, and the people are improving in health and spirits. At the same time, his inspections of villages have brought to light a great amount of suffering, as much as 20 per cent in each village being estimated to stand in need of relief, but requiring pressure and encouragement to induce the people to avail themselves of it. The famine relief measures cannot therefore be considered complete till the system of village inspection is thoroughly carried out, and that will be done when the additional officers whose services have been applied for and who are now arriving are at their posts. The Chief Engineer has just returned from a tour in Coorg and the Mysore District. The labor market of Coorg is supplied by Mysore immigrants, and he states the coffee planters are glad to employ all comers fit for work. Those reduced by sickness and want have hitherto been sent back to Mysore, but hospitals have now been started in Coorg on a small scale, and it is thought this measure will afford all the relief required at present. In the Mysore District distress has never been so severe, but there too the Chief Engineer found that in spite of promising crops and plenty of field labor, the villages contain many fitting objects for relief who however evince extreme apathy in seeking it, and whom it would be very desirable, especially for the sake of the children, to attract to works.

2 The imports of grain by rail amounted to 4,407 tons, or 1,921 tons more than last week. The imports were received from the following quarters —

|                              | Tons         |
|------------------------------|--------------|

4 The number of labourers employed on civil relief works was 32,461, or 5,452 more than last week. There was an increase of 4,610 in the Kolar District, of 1,250 in Bangalore and of 1,008 in Shimoga. In Tumkur there was a decrease of 2,224. The general increase is due to works under professional supervision not being everywhere ready to receive labor.

5 Under the Public Works Department, 39,741 laborers were employed, or an increase of 4,244 again occurring almost entirely in the Bangalore and Tumkur Districts. The following is a list of works on which are employed 500 laborers and upwards —

In the Tumkur and Bangalore Districts considerable numbers have been successfully transferred from kitchens to works. The improvement in the health and appearance of those transferred is very encouraging.

7 The number on civil and professional works amounts to 72,202 compared with 88,757 on charitable relief. The figures for last week were 62,508 and 103,750 respectively. There has been an increase upon both civil and professional works and a decrease in gratuitous feeding; the net decrease of persons relieved on works or charity was 5,297. The special treatment of the sickly and weak, whether in hospitals, relief camps or on works, is daily becoming more effective, and it is hoped has no inconsiderable influence in preventing mortality. The condition of people in their villages is a matter for anxiety, but very active measures are being taken, and there too distress will be dealt with. Open camps are with as much expedition as is safe being converted into closed, and persons in emaciated condition will thus be prevented wandering about till it is too late to save them. The good rainfall and lower prices are working a great change in the general aspect of the people, and this improvement may be expected to continue.

* These figures are for the weeks ending 6th and 13th October respectively

The chief feature of the week's telegraphic news is the excessive rain that has fallen almost throughout Satara, Kaladgi and Belgaum, and to a lesser extent in parts of Sholapur and Dharwar, and in some few places in Ahmednagar and Poona. This heavy rain, besides the absolute damage it does to the crops, has the effect both of delaying the kharif harvest and impeding the rabi sowings.

2 This unfavourable weather, making general prospects worse, is probably the chief cause of the retardation, discernible this week, of the rate at which prices have been falling since the middle of September.

3 However, the number of labourers upon relief works continues to decrease very rapidly. This week gives a fall of 28,156. The reduction is greatest in Belgaum and Dharwar, but there is reduction more or less in every district, except Ahmednagar, and the increase shown in the case of that district seems rather to imply that the approximate estimates of the number of relief labourers upon the railway works in the last two weeks were made too low than that any real increase in the number has since taken place.

4 Cholera continues in Nasik, Ahmednagar and Satara, but the number of fatal cases is not large—only 87 during the week.

5 Written reports have been received from the Collectors of Nasik, Poona, Sholapur and Satara for the week ending the 20th instant, and from the other Collectors for the week ending the 13th instant. More rain is still wanted in the Khandol and Sauda talukas of Khandesh, and the Singamner, Kopergaon and Rahuri talukas of Ahmednagar, but in the Shrigonda and Jamkhed talukas of Ahmednagar, the Snur taluka of Poona, and generally throughout the five Collectorates to the south of Poona, there had already, at the periods to which these reports pertain, been too much rain. And unfortunately the later information by telegraph shows that the rain continued long after these reports were written. The injury done to the warkas crops in the hill villages of the Satara Collectorate seems to be very general, and in Kaladgi not only has the ripening kharif, but also such winter crops as had already been sown, suffered from the heavy rain.

6 The following table gives the expenditure by Government, during the week ending 6th October, upon gratuitous relief, and in payments made to the young children of labourers employed upon relief works. The number of children has fallen during the week from 48,732 to 40,356. The number of persons being gratuitously relieved in the week ending 29th September was taken in last week's statement approximately at 90,862, and this is found to have been nearly correct. The decrease in the week ending 6th October is 2,911 —

7 In the following table are enumerated the works under Public Works Department agency upon which the average daily number of persons employed has amounted to five hundred for the week ending 13th instant. The total number engaged on these large works constitutes 72.10 per cent of the whole number of labourers upon relief works —

8 Tables A and B are brought up to the week ending 13th instant. The number of persons on works under Public Works Department agency in the nine affected districts was at this date 73,091, and on works under Civil agency 16,923. The percentage of persons upon works under Civil Agency has thus fallen during the week from 19 to 18.8 per cent of the whole number employed. 9 The condition of the affected Native States is shown as usual in an appended table. The accounts from Kolhapur, Pant Pratinidhi and Savanur are favourable, and the scarcity may now be considered over in Sawant Wari.

ENDING THE 1ST NOVEMBER 1877

GENERAL REMARKS.—In Madras there has been excellent general rain, Ganjam and Vizagapatam being the only districts where the fall has been light the north-east monsoon appears to have generally set in, some damage to standing crops from excessive rain is reported from the Deccan districts, but prospects are generally very good. The number on relief works is 417,370, and on gratuitous relief 944,839, the former is less by 66,995 and the latter by 115,195 than last week. In Mysore there has been general and abundant rain, which has caused some damage to the crops prospects are however good, the number on works for the week ending the 20th October was 78,488 and on charity 73,838, the former is 6,286 more and the latter 14,921 less than the number for the preceding week. In Bombay there has been a good fall of rain in Broach, and general rain in the Southern Mahratta Country in Khandesh and the Deccan districts the fall has been light and partial, prospects are generally excellent, except in Sind fine weather has now set in in the Southern Mahratta Country and the Deccan. In the Central Provinces there has been rain in several districts, which has done much good in Raipur, Biláspur and Bálághat, sowings for the rabi are being vigorously pushed on, and prospects are on the whole good. No rain is reported from Berar, the kharif is in good condition, and the rabi sowings nearly completed. In Central India there has been no rain, the emigrants from Gwahor are returning, but the emigration through Neemuch continues, prospects are everywhere fair, and rabi sowings are beginning. In Rajputana also there has been no rain, it is required in Marwar, Ulwur and Ajmere. In Bengal the rains have generally ceased; the prospects of the crops are good, but more rain is wanted for the winter rice, especially on the high lands, the harvest will probably be below the average in the Patna division and Pooree. In Assam there has been no rain except a slight shower in Sylhet prospects are good. In Burma there has been a good fall in the Pegu division which has improved the lately replanted crops the other crops are in excellent condition. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh no rain has fallen, rabi sowings are going on and prices remain steady. In the Punjab no rain has fallen except at Ráwalpudi, agricultural prospects are fair.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Governor General of India, assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations under the provisions of the Act of Parliament 24 & 25 Vic, Cap 67

The Council met at Simla on Wednesday, the 24th October 1877.

PANJÁB LAWS ACT AMENDMENT BILL

The Hon'ble MR STOKES introduced the Bill to amend the Panjáb Laws Act, 1872, and moved that it be referred to a Select Committee. He said that he had already described the contents of this Bill, with the exception of section 2. The provisions as to pre-emption contained in the Panjab Laws Act, sections 9—18, were, he was informed, transcribed from the Panjab Civil Code—a useful body of principles, but one which was never intended to receive the force of law, or to be exposed to the disintegrating action of a stream of judicial decisions. Section 2 of the Bill would replace these provisions by more accurately drawn clauses, and would at the same time give the Local Government a right of pre-emption in respect of sales of land on which trees belonging to Government were standing. The clause relating to this right had been inserted at the suggestion of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, who would explain to the Council more satisfactorily than he (MR STOKES) could the benefits which would result from this addition to the law.

Section 3 of the Bill would add to the Panjab law a provision that the Court of Wards might take charge of and administer the property of persons declared by the Local Government, on their own application, to be disqualified from managing their estates. To what he had said on this subject when moving for leave to introduce the Bill he would now only add the reasons given by the Panjáb Government when applying for the present legislation.

"In the case of estates paying a large amount of revenue to Government, it is important that the State, for its own interests, should have power to assume the management and prevent their ruin by thriftless or improvident proprietors, and it is not less important—indeed it is perhaps more important—that the Government should possess similar powers in the case of political jaguns, for nothing can be more detrimental to the best interests of the British Government than the existence of members of influential families holding perhaps large assignments from the public revenue, but reduced by extravagance or bad management to misery and indebtedness which timely interference by the Government would have effectually prevented.

"It would be possible, indeed, to some extent to provide for the administration of the estates of insolvent jagírdárs and land-owners by having resort to the insolvency sections of the Panjáb Laws Act, but this remedy has been found in practice to be insufficient, because the insolvent is not deprived of the powers to contract fresh debts, and it has happened that, while the estate of the insolvent is being wound up in the Insolvent Court, he has been incurring fresh debts on the security of his reversionary interest in the income of his estate."

MR STOKES had already described and (he hoped) justified the amendment which the fourth section of the Bill was intended to make. He would only add that Act IV of 1872 had been already amended by Act XV of 1875, and that the Select Committee to which he hoped the present Bill would be referred, would doubtless consider the propriety of consolidating those Acts with the additions now proposed.

HIS HONOUR THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR said that the new provision in section 2, which gave a right of pre-emption in respect of land on which trees belonging to Government were standing, was introduced on his recommendation. In various parts of the Panjáb it was desirable to reserve such rights for Government, but it often happened that land offered for sale was, for want of a provision like that now proposed to be introduced, acquired by other persons, and rights which the Government would have been glad to acquire went to others, and the land became disforested. Section 3 of the Bill would enable Courts of Wards to take charge of estates of disqualified proprietors on their own application. He considered that this addition to the reasons for disqualifying proprietors would be of much use, and would prevent the ruin of noble, influential and ancient families by the extravagance of the incumbent of the estates.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR STOKES also moved that the Bill be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the Panjab Government Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Government should direct.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

DISTRESSED SEAMEN'S EXPENSES RECOVERY BILL

The Hon'ble MR STOKES also introduced the Bill to provide for the recovery in British India of wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, certain seamen and apprentices, and moved that it be referred to a Select Committee.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR STOKES also moved that the Bill be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments should direct.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

CONSOLIDATED CUSTOMS BILL

The Hon'ble MR HOPE presented the preliminary Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the administration of the Department of Sea Customs in India, and in doing so observed that, with His Lordship's permission, he would explain in a few words his reason for presenting to the Council, while sitting at Simla, a document relating to matters so important to the mercantile community.

The same occupation with other matters which, as he lately explained, had prevented the progress of the Forest Bill in Select Committee during the past season in Calcutta, had also interfered with this Bill. His late colleague, the Hon'ble Mr Bullen Smith, had, however, been so good as to go over with him all the more important points raised in the correspondence relating to the Bill and the reports made by the semi-mercantile committees appointed at the three Presidency towns, and had offered opinions and made suggestions which MR HOPE had carefully noted down. There was, moreover, in a Bill of this sort an immense amount of detailed revision and re-arrangement from a draughtsman's point of view necessary, which would be far better done at leisure at Simla than in the hurry of Calcutta, where so much had to be got through in a short time.

The members of the Committee at Simla consequently thought that it would be better, and more conducive to a good Bill eventually, if they put forth here a preliminary Report embodying the general revision referred to, and the views checked by those of Mr Bullen Smith where practicable, and published a revised Bill with it, than if they put the whole aside to be dealt with at Calcutta. Before adopting this course, however, MR HOPE had consulted their colleague in Calcutta, the Hon'ble Mr Cowie, and was glad to say that he had written that he "cordially concurred" in it.

The following Select Committees were named —

On the Bill to amend the Panjab Laws Act, 1872—His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjab, the Hon'ble Mr Cockerell and the Mover.

On the Bill to provide for the recovery in British India of wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, certain seamen and apprentices—The Hon'ble Sir Alexander Arbuthnot, the Hon'ble Mr Cockerell and the Mover.

The Council adjourned sine die.

RESOLUTION

On the 13th September last the Bengal Government forwarded a letter from the Commissioner of Police at Calcutta, reporting that advertisements of lotteries and race-sweeps printed beyond the limits of Lower Bengal are sent in large numbers to hotels and other places of public resort in Bengal, in contravention of section 294A of the Indian penal code, and that the proprietors of newspapers and other periodicals in Bengal complain bitterly that their columns are closed to notices and advertisements which are freely permitted elsewhere. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal considers that the present treatment of lotteries by the different local Governments is exceedingly unsatisfactory, in Bengal the law is strictly enforced, while in the Punjab and elsewhere, it is habitually broken with impunity, and newspapers are allowed to advertise and circulate proposals directly opposed to the provisions of the section of the code cited. His Honour is of opinion that if these lotteries and race-sweeps are mischievous, they should be put down by law, instead of being allowed to develop themselves year by year, but that if they are considered to be a harmless amusement, the prohibitory clause in the penal code should be repealed, and lotteries should not be discouraged. His Honour himself considers them exceedingly mischievous

2 The Government of India concur with His Honour's opinion as to the mischievous character of the lotteries and race-sweeps advertised, and believe that the mischief is year by year assuming greater dimensions. As the intention of the law on the subject is clear and as its provisions were intended to operate in one province as much as in another, the Government of India consider that the law should be uniformly enforced. Local Governments and Administrations are therefore requested to enforce the law after giving due notice thereof by publication of this Resolution in their several official Gazettes

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be forwarded for information and guidance to all Departments of the Government of India, to Local Governments and Administrations, and that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India

FIBRE AND SILK

No 45 — In 1871 the Government of India offered a prize of £5,000 to the inventor of the best machine or process for the preparation of the fibre of the Bomarea nivea (popularly known under the names of Rhea, Ramie, and China grass), and the terms on which machines would be admitted to competition were widely notified in India, in Europe, and in America. Many persons declared their intention to compete, but ultimately only one machine was actually brought to the place of trial. The machine having been carefully tested at Saharanpur in the autumn of 1872, was found imperfect in some important respects, and the inventor was adjudged not entitled to the full reward. He was, however, presented with £1,500 in consideration of the partial measure of success he had attained after great perseverance

2 This machine has not since been adapted by the inventor to practical use, and no improved process of preparing the fibre of the rhea has been yet discovered by other persons. Meanwhile the demand for thea continues and the conditions which induced the Government of India in 1871 to offer a prize remain substantially unchanged

3 His Honour the President in Council therefore considers that it is desirable to renew the offer, and it is accordingly hereby notified that a reward of fifty thousand rupees will be paid to the inventor of the best machine or process which will separate the bark and fibre from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, of the Bomarea nivea

4 A smaller reward not exceeding ten thousand rupees will be given to the inventor of the next best machine or process, provided it is adjudged to possess merit and to be capable without difficulty of adaptation to practical use

5 What is required is a machine or process capable of producing, by animal, water, or steam power, a ton of dressed fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £45 per ton in the English market, at a total cost including all processes of preparation and all needful allowance for wear and tear, of not more than £15 per ton, laid down at any port of shipment in India and £30 in England, after payment of all the charges usual in trade before goods reach the hands of the manufacturer. The processes of preparation are to be understood to include all the operations required subsequent to the cutting of the stems from the plants in the field, until the fibre is in a condition fit to be packed for conveyance to the market

6 The machinery employed must be simple, strong, durable, and inexpensive, and should be suited for erection in the plantations where the rhea is grown. It must be adapted for treatment of the fresh stems, as cut from the plant. The treatment of dried stems offers certain difficulties and the fibre prepared from them must moreover always be much more costly than the fibre produced from green stems. Except during the hot dry weather preceding the rains in Upper India (where rhea grows best), it is very difficult so to dry the stems that no fermentation or mildew shall occur. But during this season the stems are comparatively short and the crop poor and stunted, unless it is artificially irrigated, and such irrigation greatly increases the cost of cultivation. In the rainy season the plant is in fine condition, but at this season it is almost impossible to dry the stems in quantity without injuring the fibre unless recourse is had to artificial means of desiccation, which greatly increase the cost of the material. It is therefore obvious that the attention of inventors should be given to the discovery of a process for the treatment of the green stems

7 The trials will be held at Saharanpur in the North-Western Provinces, in the months of August and September 1879. Machines entered for competition should be placed in situ and be ready for work not later than the 15th August, the competition commencing on the next day. The judges will be appointed by the Government, and they will watch the whole of the trials. But the machines shall be worked and adjusted by the competitors themselves, and no person shall touch a machine without the consent of the inventor

8 The Government of India will provide proper shelter and accommodation at Saharanpur for all the competing machines as well as the motive power required. It will also pay for the transport from the sea-coast to Saharanpur of all machines up to the limit of one ton each, the freight on any excess weight to be defrayed by the owners. The present rate of freight by rail from Calcutta to Saharanpur is Rs 3-10 per maund or Rs 98-11 per ton, and from Bombay to Saharanpur Rs 4-1 per maund or Rs 110-9 per ton. A first second class ticket to Saharanpur will also be given to any person in charge of a machine

9 The owner or owners of the successful machine or machines shall not be entitled to receive the reward offered except on the following conditions, viz —

- (1)—That a complete technical description of the machine illustrated by plans drawn to scale, shall be prepared and published (Government paying the cost) for the information of the public
- (2)—That after the expiry of three years from the date on which the award is made, the public shall have the right of manufacturing similar machines, on payment to the owner of a royalty of 10 per cent on the cost of each machine so manufactured

10 All persons desiring to compete under the terms and on the conditions specified above are requested to make known their intention not later than the 31st December 1878, giving the following particulars —

- 1 Name in full and residence
- 2 Profession or occupation
- 3 Number of different kinds of machines entered for competition
- 4 Brief description of each machine

Intending competitors will at the same time declare themselves bound (under penalty of disqualification of the competing machines and forfeiture of all claim to the Government reward) to conform to all rules which may be prescribed by Government or by the judges appointed by Government in connection with the conduct of the trials

All notices of intention to compete and applications for information should be addressed to the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, Calcutta

11 A limited quantity of rhea will be grown in the Botanic Gardens, Calcutta, and persons desirous of testing their machines before entering them for public competition may obtain green stems in small quantities from the Superintendent of the gardens, through this Department

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[ Third publication ]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 24th October 1877, and was referred to a Select Committee —

No 19 of 1877.

A Bill to amend the Panjáb Laws Act, 1872

For the purpose of amending the Panjab Laws Act, 1872, It is hereby enacted as follows —

Preamble

Substitution of new section for Act IV of 1872, s 5

“5 In questions regarding succession, special property of females, betrothal, marriage, divorce, dower, adoption, guardianship, minority, bastardy, family relations, wills, legacies, gifts, partitions, or any religious usage or institution, the rule of decision shall be—

(a) any custom applicable to the parties concerned, which is not contrary to justice, equity or good conscience, and has not been, by this or any other enactment, altered or abolished, and has not been declared to be void by any competent authority

(b) the Muhammadan law, in cases where the parties are Muhammadans, and the Hindú law, in cases where the parties are Hindús, except in so far as such law has been altered or abolished by legislative enactment, or is opposed to the provisions of this Act, or has been modified by any such custom as is above referred to.”

2 For sections 9 to 18 (both inclusive) of the same Act, the sections for Act IV of 1872, ss 9 to 18 following shall be substituted —

“9 The right of pre-emption is a right of the persons hereinafter mentioned or referred to, to acquire, in the cases hereinafter specified, immoveable property in preference to all other persons. It arises in respect of sales (whether under a decree or otherwise) of immoveable property and of foreclosures of rights to redeem such property

“10 Unless the existence of any custom or contract to the contrary is proved, such right shall, whether recorded in the settlement-record or not, be presumed—

(a) to exist in all village-communities, however constituted, and

(b) to extend to the village-site, to the houses built upon it, to all lands and shares of lands within the village-boundary, and to all transferable rights of occupancy affecting such lands

“11. The right of pre-emption shall not be presumed to exist in any town or city, or any subdivision thereof, but may be shown to exist therein, and to be exercisable therein by such persons and under such circumstances as the local custom prescribes

“12. If the property to be sold or the right to redeem which is to be foreclosed is situate within, or is a share of, a village, the right to buy or redeem such property belongs, in the absence of a custom to the contrary,

(a) first, to co-sharers in the village, in order of their relationship to the vendor or mortgagor,

(b) secondly, if no relation of the vendor or mortgagor claims to exercise such right, to the landowners of the pattā or other sub-division of the village in which the property is situate, jointly,

(c) thirdly, to any member of the village-community, and

(d) fourthly, to the tenants (if any) with rights of occupancy in the village

Provided that when the property is land, to the trees standing on which the Government is entitled, such right belongs to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjāb in preference to all other persons

Where two or more persons are equally entitled to such right, the person to exercise the same shall be determined by lot

"12 A When the property to be sold or the right to redeem which is to be foreclosed is a share in joint undivided immovable property other than land, such right belongs to the co-sharers

"13 When any person proposes to sell any property, or to foreclose the right to redeem any property, in respect of which any persons have a right of pre-emption, he shall give notice to the persons concerned of the price at which he is willing to sell such property, or of the amount due in respect of the mortgage, as the case may be

Such notice shall be given through the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property or any part thereof is situate, and shall be deemed sufficiently given if it be stuck up on the chaupāl or other public place of the village, town or city in which the property is situate

"14 Any person having a right of pre-emption in respect of any property proposed to be sold, shall lose such right, unless within three months from the date of such notice he or his agent pays or tenders the price aforesaid to the person so proposing to sell

"15 When the right of pre-emption arises in respect of the foreclosure of the right to redeem any property, any person entitled to such right may, at any time within three months after the giving of the notice required by section thirteen, pay or tender to the mortgagee or his successor in title the amount specified in such notice, and shall thereupon acquire a right to purchase the property.

On completion of the purchase the person exercising the right of pre-emption shall be bound to pay to the mortgagee or his successor in title the amount specified in such notice, together with interest on the principal sum secured by the mortgage, at the rate specified by the instrument of mortgage, for any time which has elapsed since the date of the notice, and any additional costs which may have been properly incurred by the mortgagee or his successor in title

"16 Any person entitled to a right of pre-emption may bring a suit to enforce such right on any of the following grounds (namely) —

(a) that no due notice was given as required by section thirteen,

(b) that tender was made under section fourteen or section fifteen and refused,

(c) in the case of a sale, that the price stated in the notice was not fixed in good faith,

(d) in the case of a foreclosure, that the amount claimed by the mortgagee was not really due on the footing of the mortgage and was not claimed in good faith, and that it exceeds the fair market-value of the property mortgaged

If, in the case of a sale, the Court finds that the price was not fixed in good faith, the Court shall fix such price as appears to it to be the fair market-value of the property sold

If in the case of a foreclosure, the Court finds that the amount claimed by the mortgagee was not really due on the footing of the mortgage, and that it exceeds the fair market-value of the property mortgaged, the amount to be paid to the mortgagee shall not exceed what the Court finds to be such market-value

"17 If the Court find for the plaintiff, the Decree to fix time for payment or before which the purchase-money or the amount to be paid to the mortgagee shall be paid

"18 If such purchase-money or amount is not paid into Court before it rises on that day, the decree shall become void, and the plaintiff shall, so far only as relates to such sale or foreclosure, lose his right of pre-emption over the property to which the decree relates."

Substitution of new section for Act IV of 1872, s 35

"35 The Court of Wards may, at its discretion, take charge of, and administer, the estates of all disqualified persons, that is to say —

(a) females deemed by the Local Government incompetent to manage their estates,

(b) persons who have not completed the age of eighteen years,

(c) idiots,

(d) lunatics,

(e) persons declared by the Local Government, incapable, owing to physical defects or infirmities, to manage their own estates,

(f) persons convicted of a non-bailable offence and disqualified, in the opinion of the Local Government, by vice or bad character from managing their estates,

(g) persons declared by the Local Government, on their own application, to be disqualified from managing their estates

Provided that the Court of Wards shall not take charge of or administer the estate of any person of any of the classes mentioned in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of this section, unless he has inherited a beneficial interest in an estate for which a settlement was made with his ancestor, or in respect of which he would have been entitled to be settled with, if he had been competent to make an agreement for the payment of revenue, or unless he is entitled by inheritance to an assignment of land-revenue

Provided also that the Court of Wards shall not take charge of, or administer any beneficial interest in, an estate in which more persons than one have a joint undivided interest, unless all such persons are so circumstanced as to be subject to the Court of Wards"

4 To section 38 of the same Act the following clause shall be added (namely) —

"Persons whose property is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards shall be competent to create, without the sanction of the Court, any charge upon, or interest in, such property or any part thereof"

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The objects of this Bill are four first, to make some necessary amendments in the drafting of the Panjáb Laws Act, section 5 secondly, to make like amendments in the sections of that Act relating to pre-emption and to give the Lieutenant-Governor a right of pre-emption in respect of land on which trees belonging to Government are standing thirdly, to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards to the estates of three classes of proprietors, namely, those incapable, owing to physical defects or infirmities, of managing their own estates, those convicted of a non-bailable offence and disqualified by vice or bad character from managing their estates, and those declared, on their own application, to be so disqualified The fourth and last object of the Bill is to render all persons whose property is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards incompetent to charge such property without the sanction of the Court

[Third publication]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 24th October 1877, and was referred to a Select Committee —

No 20 of 1877

A Bill to provide for the recovery in British India of wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, certain seamen and apprentices

Whereas by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, and by the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1855, section 16, it is enacted that the Board of Trade may, in manner therein mentioned, and in the name of Her Majesty, sue for and recover the wages due to, and expenses

incurred in respect of, the distressed seamen and apprentices in the said sections mentioned, And whereas it is expedient to empower such persons as the Governor General in Council may think fit to sue for and recover in British India in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council, such wages and expenses, when the same are charged upon any ship, or recoverable from any master, owner or other person, found in British India, It is hereby enacted as follows —

1 The Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, authorize, either generally or specially, such persons as he thinks fit to sue for and recover, in manner in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, provided, any wages or expenses recoverable under the said sections of the said Acts in cases where such wages and expenses are, under the same sections, a charge upon any ship, or recoverable from any master, owner or other person, within the jurisdiction of any Court in British India Every person so authorized shall be entitled to sue and recover accordingly in any such Court, and shall be deemed to be a person filling a public office within the meaning of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, section 57, clause 7

2 All suits and proceedings under this Act shall be instituted and carried on in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

By the Merchant Shipping Act, 1851, section 213, and 18 & 19 Vict, c 91, section 16, provision is made for the recovery by the Board of Trade of wages due to, and expenses incurred in relieving, distressed seamen and apprentices in foreign and colonial ports These distressed seamen are in many cases Natives of India, and belong to ships which are either registered in or trade to India, and which are seldom, if ever, found within the ports of the United Kingdom In such cases the Board of Trade has considerable difficulty in recovering the sums expended When the distressed seamen are Natives of this country, these expenses are charged to the Indian revenue It is therefore desirable that the Government of India should be enabled to empower some person here to sue, in case the ships or persons chargeable are found in this country The Bill effects this object by providing that such suits may be brought in the name of the Secretary of State in Council by such persons as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, generally or specially authorize in that behalf The Bill will also enable persons so authorized to sue in all cases in which the ships or persons chargeable are found in this country, even though the Indian revenue may not be concerned

Weekly condition report of the distressed districts of the Mysore Province.

PROVINCE OF MYSORE

(No 37)

• Special famine report for the week ending 20th October 1877

Statement No 37, regarding famine relief operations in the Province of Mysore, for the week ending the 20th October 1877

Rain has been general throughout the Province, and heavy in the Districts of Mysore, Hassan and Kadur, which were men + ed last week as having received a lighter fall than other Districts. The growing crops continue in good condition, and a very fair yield is anticipated. Jowari in parts is still reported to suffer from continued wet, but much of the diseased ragi has improved. All the tanks are full, and preparations for the Vaishaki or late crops are being actively made. Harvesting continues, and sowing operations are general. The Famine Commissioner spent the week travelling through the Chitaldrug District, and states that though there is very much land out of cultivation in the south-east and east of the District, what crops there are are fairly good, and that in the west and north-west the crops are uncommonly fine, and almost the whole land taken up. A little sun is all that is required to ripen the grain. He visited the Timmenhalli Tank work and was much pleased with the arrangements made and considers it a creditable and successful relief work. From Kolar very good accounts have been received, and the famine area may now be considered confined to Bangalore, Túngkúr, and parts of the Kadur, Chitaldrug and Hassan Districts.

2 The imports of grain by rail amounted to 2,950 tons, or 1,457 tons less than last week. The imports were received from the following quarters —

|------------------------------|-------|
| From Madras                  | 2,586 |

| Total                        | 2,950 |

From Bangalore 1,437 tons, or 216 tons less than in the preceding week, were exported to the following quarters —

|                        | Tons  |
|------------------------|-------|
| Túngkúr                | 310   |

3 Prices show a marked improvement, especially in Kolar, Bangalore, Túngkúr, Shimoga and Chitaldrug. The following statement gives the maximum and minimum prices in lbs per rupee —

4 The number of labourers employed on civil relief works was 30,275, or 2,186 less than last week. The decrease was due to 5,068 fewer persons being employed in the Kolar District, where relief is now scarcely required. There was an increase of 2,871 labourers in Túngkúr and of 1,286 in Chitaldrug.

5 Under the Public Works Department, 44,213 labourers were employed, or an increase of 8,472, occurring chiefly in Bangalore and Kadur. The following is a list of works on which are employed 500 labourers and upwards —

Employment for the people is afforded in the fields, and the wages offered for agricultural labour are good. Prices continue to fall, and altogether prospects are very encouraging, and a steady decline in the numbers relieved may be reckoned upon.

(2) —Every parcel should be securely packed in a close cover or case, and should bear the name and address of the person in the United Kingdom or foreign country for whom it is intended. Parcels containing valuables should be sealed.

N B—The public are specially warned against the use of flimsy covers for articles transmitted by the Parcel Post. Heavy articles are sometimes sent with only paper covering insecurely tied with string, friction in transit detaches this cover, and damage and loss ensue. A covering of stout cloth or wax cloth, sewn at the edges, is recommended, but if the contents are liable to suffer from pressure, boxes of wood or tin should be used.

(3) —Every parcel should be accompanied by a separate paper headed with the address of the parcel and containing a declaration of its contents and value under the signature of the sender. Below the signature the address of the sender should be given.

Ceylon
Straits
Germany
Austria-Hungary
Denmark

} Only one declaration as above described is required

Sweden
Norway
Switzerland

} A second or duplicate declaration is also required

France
The Netherlands (Holland)
Belgium

} A second or duplicate declaration is also required, and the sender is requested to enter in the declaration a statement of the weight (lbs and ozs or tolas) of the contents, and to write the second or duplicate declaration, if possible, in the French language. Should he be unable to do so, the Bombay Post Office will attach to the second or duplicate English declaration a French rendering thereof, but the sender is warned of the delay which may result from this.

It is not deemed necessary to require exact adherence to any particular form of declaration, but the following specimen form may be useful to the senders of parcels —

* * * The Rig Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has ver properly been made one of the principal class books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholar like knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only yet as soon as editions, translations, grammars and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country—Extract from Preface

 Note by the Honble J. C. Hope dated 24th October 1877

2 In accordance with the suggestion of the Committee appointed by the Bombay Government, the definition of "Customs-port" has been made (section 3, clauses (d) and (e)) to include, and that of "Foreign Port" to exclude ports not in British India which are entitled to be treated as British Customs ports

3 The existing Act limits the privilege of coasting vessels to vessels which do not touch at any intermediate foreign port. But this has been found difficult of application, especially on the Western Coast where foreign ports are numerous and the limitation is illegally waived in the case of coasting steamers. But the Bombay Committee point out that all craft ought to be treated alike and we think that, where there is danger of smuggling, special restrictions may be imposed on particular classes of goods under the powers of chapter XIII. The definition (section 3, clause (g)) has therefore been expanded

4 We have also enlarged the definition of "Master" (section 3, clause (h)) so as to include a ship's agent appointed in writing by the master to be responsible on his behalf, when such appointment is approved by the Customs-collector

5 In consequence of representations received from the Chief Commissioner of British Burma of the expediency of legalising coasting trade with petty ports which it would not pay to constitute Customs-ports, a provision has been inserted in section 11, with the concurrence of the Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, enabling the Local Government to recognize such ports for the purposes of the coasting trade only

6 In accordance with a recommendation of the Bombay Committee, a clause framed on the model of the English Customs Act of 1876, section 153, has been added to section 17 of the Bill, prohibiting the importation or exportation of articles of foreign manufacture bearing names, marks or brands being, or purporting to be, those of manufacturers resident in the United Kingdom or British India

7 By a little condensation, the whole of chapter X of the Bill as introduced has been dispensed with. The privilege of transshipment has been extended to sailing vessels

8 By section 38, an owner not having sufficient information regarding any goods has been allowed, as suggested by the Bengal Board of Revenue, to deposit them temporarily in a warehouse

The term "real value" has also been defined, as the want of a definition has been much felt. The obligation to declare real value has likewise, for statistical purposes, been extended to all goods, whether dutiable or not

9 The third clause of section 39, by which it is provided that undervalued goods returned for the use of Government shall be sold by public auction, has given rise to some difference of opinion, some authorities advocating the substitution of a general power to dispose of the goods for the benefit of Government, in accordance with the English Customs Act of 1855. We have reserved this question for further consideration after enquiry as to the alleged rarity of cases in which difficulty or loss to Government is occasioned by the present provision

10 Sections 45 and 46 (33 and 34 of the Bill as introduced) have also elicited wide differences of opinion between different mercantile and Custom-house authorities. The former section is identical in principle with the existing English law section 20 of the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876, runs as follows —

"In the event of any increase, decrease, or repeal of duties of customs chargeable upon any goods or commodities after the making of any contract or agreement for the sale or delivery of such goods duty paid, it shall be lawful for the seller, in case such increase shall accrue before the clearance and delivery from the warehouse of such goods at such increased duty, and after payment thereof, to add so much money to the contract-price as will be equivalent to such increase of duty, and he shall be entitled to be paid and to sue for and recover the same, and it shall be lawful for the purchaser under any such contract or agreement, in case such decrease or repeal shall take effect before the clearance and delivery from the warehouse at such decreased duty, or free of duty, as the case may be, to deduct so much money from the contract-price as will be equivalent to such decrease of duty or repealed duty, and he shall not be liable to pay or be sued for or in respect of such deduction."

The latter section is in harmony with Mr Wilson's financial statement of February 18th, 1860, and the consequent section 2 of Act X of 1860, as also with the notification of the Government of India, No 3180, dated 31d September 1875. Both sections originated in the memorials and representations which the Government of India is in the habit of receiving whenever a change of tariff takes place. We have added another illustration to section 45, to express its scope more fully, but we have left the general question of the retention of both sections open for discussion in Calcutta.

11 We have omitted from section 50 (121 of the Bill as introduced) the last clause, which followed the existing law, as it has been justly pointed out by Mr Linc, the Collector of Customs at Calcutta, that it is unreasonable to refuse drawback on ships' stores, and both inconsistent with the permission to export from bond (section 30) and at variance with the English Act.

12 In deference to the unanimous opinion expressed in the reports, the rate of drawback has been re-entered in section 50 at the existing rate of seven-eighths, instead of three-fourths, to which it was raised in the Bill as introduced.

13 In accordance with representations received from the Bombay Committee and other quarters, we have, with the concurrence of the Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, extended to the Indian Marine and Marine Survey (section 56) the privileges with regard to wine, provisions and stores which have hitherto been confined to officers and ships of Her Majesty's Navy. The privilege has likewise been extended in all cases to spirits.

14 In order to meet the case of the foreign ports of Native States on the Western Coast, which are not surrounded by customs preventive lines, the existing practice of refusing drawback on exports to such ports has been legalised (section 57) in the form of empowering the Governor General in Council to prohibit drawback in the case of any particular port. This is in accordance with the Bombay Committee's suggestion.

15 In accordance with the existing practice at Bombay, which originated in section 35 of Act I of 1852, the Customs-collector has been empowered (section 58) to reject, if he sees fit, any claim for drawback amounting to less than ten rupees. The Bombay Municipal Act provides similarly regarding petty refunds of town-duty.

16 Section 14 of the Bill as introduced was inserted in consequence of a long correspondence which arose in Bombay with the Chamber of Commerce out of the practice prevailing there of masters entering in the manifest the names of the ships' agents as consignees of the cargo, and the true consignees complaining of delay in receiving their goods and of the departure of the vessel in the interim. The Bombay Committee, however, now find that the section will not meet the case, and, though it is not objected to by Bengal and Madras (chiefly, it would seem, owing to difference of circumstances), we think it better to omit it, and to obviate the difficulty partly by an addition to section 71, permitting port-clearance to be refused except on security for the clearance of the import-manifest, and partly by new provisions in chapter IX, which will be explained hereafter.

17 Section 64 is new, to adapt the law to actual circumstances, under which the manifest sometimes arrives by overland mail before the vessel itself, in which case the saving of time by commencing the preliminaries for her discharge is desirable.

18 Section 71—The Madras Committee recommend the addition of a clause authorising the refusal of port-clearance to any vessel the master or agents of which have not made all reasonable endeavours to land all the cargo for the port. Formerly, they say, they could stop a vessel through the High Court, or bring an action for overcarrying their goods, but now canal steamers protect themselves by a clause in the bill of lading. The Madras Trades Association support this recommendation by a letter (Paper No 9) giving details of packages actually overcarried. On the other hand, overcarrying is defended on the grounds, 1st, that boats are scarce at Madras, 2nd, that boatwork is there prohibited after sundown, 3rd, that mail-contracts prevent steamers making long delays. We have reserved this question for discussion at Calcutta.

19 Section 75—In accordance with the recommendations of the Calcutta Committee and the Bengal Board, the periods of unloading and loading have been combined, but the aggregate of 30 days has been reduced to 20. The additional periods for loading and unloading have also each been reduced to one day for every 100 tons instead of every 50. This will still leave a vessel of 1200 tons, for instance, 32 days, which is ample. Sections 50 and 108 of the Bill as introduced have been consolidated into this section, and words have been inserted to prevent more than one officer at a time being claimed as of right when, from smallness of establishment or press of work, extra officers may not be available.

20 Sections 76 and 77—Special provision has been made in the concluding clauses for goods being water-borne from places not duly appointed as wharves, and without the presence or authority of an officer of customs, as also without boat-notes, in order to meet the circumstances of Calcutta, as represented by the Board of Revenue. In section 77, the suggestions from Burma have also been attended to, and sections 61 and 125 of Act VI of 1863 (Bill I, sections 53, 58 and 111) have been amalgamated.

21 Sections 97 and 99—These are the new sections inserted, and referred to above in paragraph 16, in order to permit the prompt discharge of cargo where there is urgent necessity, or there are special facilities, for it. We are disposed to consider that a provision of this nature is the best for meeting the difficulties now felt and reconciling the conflicting interests of ship-owners and owners or consignees of goods. The latter are protected from double charges for agency. The sections, however, are tentative, and may require amendment after they have been scrutinized by the Trade and the Customs Departments at Bombay and Calcutta.

22. Adverting to section 106, we have altered the form of the bond in accordance with a suggestion from Madras, so as to allow of enforcement in a District Court instead of in the High Court, though this was really not indispensable, since any of the forms may, even under the existing Act, be modified by the Chief Customs Authority.

23. Section 107—In accordance with a suggestion from British Burma, arising out of an opinion by the Advocate General, a clause has been added to make it clear that a fresh bond is not indispensable on every fresh removal of the goods while in warehouse.

24. Section 116—Permission to bottle off wines and spirits has been added, in conformity with the English Act and suggestions from Bengal.

25. Section 132—This section has been modified in accordance with suggestions from Bengal so as to place recovery of rent on the same footing as recovery of duty.

26. Section 137 has been modified to suit Calcutta, in the same way as sections 76 and 77 (vide supra, paragraph 20).

27. Section 140—In order to obtain correct statistics of imports and exports, it has been made compulsory on the owner of goods short-shipped or re-landed to give information of the fact to the Custom-house. This is in accordance with recommendations received and with the English law regarding short shipments.

28. Chapter XVIII of the Bill as introduced, which was entitled "Offences and Penalties," has elicited some differences of opinion as to what was the best position in the Act for such matters. We have now, in the first place, transferred to a separate chapter everything relating to procedure. With regard to the offences and penalties themselves, we are of opinion that the chief thing to be considered is the convenience of the mercantile and nautical public rather than that of adjudicating officers. Anybody who wishes honestly to know what the law requires him to do, will find his study of the existing Act perpetually interrupted by the long offence and penalty clauses, the terrors of which it cannot be indispensable to place in close juxtaposition with every injunction or obligation.

We have now recast the chapter (XIV) in tabular form, shewing in three columns the offence, the section to which it has reference, and the penalty, and trust that this will meet the views of all parties. To the adjudicating officer it will, we believe, not be inconvenient, to the public it will be a relief not to have every section burdened with unnecessary matter, while Custom house officials may, if they wish, have the chapter printed separately to hand to every master on arrival, or to frame and post up in conspicuous places at the Custom-house and wharves.

29. We have made numerous changes in the phrasing of the Bill throughout, to secure both clearness and brevity. Considerable alterations have also been made in the arrangement of chapters and sections, with the view both of condensation and of bringing analogous provisions together and securing a practical sequence. The chapters now stand as follows:—

- Chapter I—Preliminary
- " II—Appointment of officers in the Department of Customs
- " III—Appointment of ports, wharves, custom-houses, warehouses and boarding and landing-stations
- " IV—Restrictions and prohibitions of importation and exportation
- " V—Levy of, and exemption from, customs-duties
- " VI—Drawback
- " VII—Arrival and departure of vessels
- " VIII—General provisions affecting vessels in port, &c
- " IX—Importation or discharge

- " XI—Exportation of shipment, and re-landing
- " XII—Spirits
- " XIII—Coasting trade
- " XIV—Offences and penalties
- " XV—Procedure relating to offences, appeals, &c
- " XVI—Miscellaneous

30. We propose to consider the Bill further in Calcutta, and recommend that it be in the meantime published in the Gazette of India for general information.

Provided that, if on the arrival of the said goods at such Port, the owner desires forthwith to export the same by sea to some Foreign Port, or to pay duty thereon for home-consumption, without actually warehousing them, the Customs-collector at such Port may, after all the formalities of entering and examining such goods for re-warehousing have been duly performed, permit the goods to be entered and shipped for exportation, or to be entered and delivered for home-consumption, upon payment of the duty thereon, in like manner as if such goods had been actually warehoused. 38 On the importation into, or exportation from, any Customs-port of any goods, whether liable to duty or not, the owner of such goods shall, in his bill of entry or shipping-bill, state their real value to the best of his knowledge and belief, and shall subscribe a declaration of the truth of such value at the foot of such bill

In case of doubt, the Customs-collector may require any such owner or any other person in possession of any invoice, broker's note, policy of insurance or other document, whereby the real value of any such goods can be ascertained, to produce the same, and to furnish any information relating to the value of such goods which it is in his power to furnish. And thereupon such person shall produce any such document or furnish any such information so required by such officer

Provided that, if the owner makes a declaration before the Customs-collector to the effect that he is unable, from want of full information, to state the real value or contents of any case, package or parcel of goods, then the Customs collector shall permit him, previous to the entry thereof (1) to open such case, package or parcel, and examine the contents in presence of an officer of Customs or (2) to deposit such case, package or parcel in a public warehouse, pending production of such information

No re-valuation of goods assessed for duty on the declared value thereof shall be allowed after such goods have been removed from the Custom-house

For the purposes of this section the real value shall be deemed to be—

(a) the wholesale cash-price, less trade-discount, for which goods of the like kind and quality are sold, or are capable of being sold, at the time and place of importation or exportation respectively, without any abatement or deduction whatever, except of so much as the duties payable on the importation thereof amount to or,

(b) where such price is not ascertainable, the estimated cost at which goods of the like kind and quality could be laid down at such place

Nothing in this section applies to opium, salt or spirits

39 If, upon the examination of any goods chargeable with duty upon the value thereof, but for which a specific value is not fixed by law for the purpose of levying duties thereon, it appears to an officer of Customs that such goods are properly chargeable with a higher rate or amount of duty than that to which they would be subject according to the value thereof as stated in the bill of entry or shipping-bill, such officer may detain such goods

In every such case the detaining officer shall forthwith give notice in writing to the owner of the goods of their detention, and of the value thereof as estimated by him, and the Customs-collector shall, within two clear working days after such detention, or within such reasonable period as may with the consent of the parties be arranged, determine either to deliver such goods on payment of duty charged according to the entry of such owner, or to retain the same for the use of Government.

If the goods be retained for the use of Government, the Customs-collector shall cause the full amount stated in the bill as their real value to be paid to the owner in full satisfaction for such goods, in the same manner as if they had been transferred by ordinary sale, and shall then cause them to be sold by public auction after due notice in the official Gazette, or some mercantile newspaper circulating in the place.

If the proceeds arising from such sale shall exceed the sum paid to the owner, together with the duty to which the goods are liable and all charges incurred by Government in connection with them, a portion not exceeding one-half of the overplus shall, at the discretion of the Chief Officer of Customs, be payable to the officer who detected the under-valuation of the goods.

Nothing in this section shall prevent the Chief Officer of Customs, when he has reason to believe that any such under-valuation was solely the result of accident or error, from permitting the owner of the goods, on his application for that purpose, to amend such entry, on payment of such increased rate of duties, or on such other terms as he may determine.

The duty on such goods shall be adjusted on the gross amount realized by their bona fide sale, as proved by the original account-sales, without any abatement or deduction, except of so much as represents the duties payable on the importation thereof.

On goods the value of which has been fixed by law for the purpose of levying duties thereon, no abatement of duties shall be allowed, unless they have deteriorated to the extent of one-fifth of their value.

No abatement of duty on account of damage shall be allowed on wines, spirits or beer, or on any other articles on which duties are levied on quantity and not on value.

43 It, upon the first levying, repealing, enhancement or reduction of any duty, or upon any change of any valuation for duty, or upon the first permitting, prohibiting or restricting of any importation, it is necessary to determine the exact date on which an importation of goods had effect, such date shall be that on which the goods were actually entered for home-consumption at the Custom-house.

For the purposes of this section goods shall be deemed to be entered when the bill of entry thereon is delivered to the Customs-collector.

44 If, in like manner, it is necessary to determine the exact date on which an exportation of goods had effect, such date shall be that on which the goods were actually entered outwards at the Custom-house.

45 When a contract is entered into for the sale of any dutiable goods at a fixed price, including the duty leviable in British India at the date of the contract, and subsequently thereto, and before the contract is fully performed, the duty on such goods is raised or lowered, and levied accordingly, the amount to be paid to, or received by, the parties to the contract shall be increased or diminished as the case may be, by the amount by which such duty is raised or lowered.

FIBRES AND SILK

No. 45—In 1871 the Government of India offered a prize of £5,000 to the inventor of the best machine or process for the preparation of the fibre of the Bomarea nivea (popularly known under the names of Rhee, Rone, and China grass), and the terms on which machines would be admitted to competition were widely notified in India, in Europe, and in America. Many persons declared their intention to compete, but ultimately only one machine was actually brought to the place of trial. The machine having been carefully tested at Saharanpur in the autumn of 1872, was found imperfect in some important respects, and the inventor was adjudged not entitled to the full reward. He was, however, presented with £1,500 in consideration of the partial measure of success he had attained after great perseverance.

2 This machine has not since been adapted by the inventor to practical use, and no improved process of preparing the fibre of the rhee has been yet discovered by other persons. Meanwhile the demand for rhee continues and the conditions which induced the Government of India in 1871 to offer a prize remain substantially unchanged.

3 His Honour the President in Council therefore considers that it is desirable to renew the offer, and it is accordingly hereby notified that a reward of fifty thousand rupees will be paid to the inventor of the best machine or process which will separate the bark and fibre from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, of the Bomarea nivea.

4 A smaller reward not exceeding ten thousand rupees will be given to the inventor of the next best machine or process, provided it is adjudged to possess merit and to be capable without difficulty of adaptation to practical use.

5 What is required is a machine or process capable of producing, by animal, water, or steam power, a ton of dressed fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £15 per ton in the English market, at a total cost including all processes of preparation and all needful allowance for wear and tear, of not more than £15 per ton, laid down at any port of shipment in India and £30 in England, after payment of all the charges usual in trade before goods reach the hands of the manufacturer. The processes of preparation are to be understood to include all the operations required subsequent to the cutting of the stems from the plants in the field, until the fibre is in a condition fit to be packed for conveyance to the market.

6 The machinery employed must be simple, strong, durable, and inexpensive, and should be suited for erection in the plantations where the rhee is grown. It must be adapted for treatment of the fresh stems, as cut from the plant. The treatment of dried stems offers certain difficulties and the fibre prepared from them must moreover always be much more costly than the fibre produced from green stems. Except during the hot dry weather preceding the rains in Upper India (where rhee grows best), it is very difficult so to dry the stems that no fermentation or mildew shall occur. But during this season the stems are comparatively short and the crop poor and stunted, unless it is artificially irrigated, and such irrigation greatly increases the cost of cultivation. In the rainy season the plant is in fine condition, but at this season it is almost impossible to dry the stems in quantity without injuring the fibre unless recourse is had to artificial means of desiccation, which greatly increase the cost of the material. It is therefore obvious that the attention of inventors should be given to the discovery of a process for the treatment of the green stems.

7 The trials will be held at Saharanpur in the North-Western Provinces, in the months of August and September 1879. Machines entered for competition should be placed in situ and be ready for work not later than the 15th August, the competition commencing on the next day. The judges will be appointed by the Government, and they will watch the whole of the trials. But the machines shall be worked and adjusted by the competitors themselves, and no person shall touch a machine without the consent of the inventor.

8 The Government of India will provide proper shelter and accommodation at Saharanpur for all the competing machines as well as the motive power required. It will also pay for the transport from the sea-coast to Saharanpur of all machines up to the limit of one ton each, the freight on any excess weight to be defrayed by the owners. The present rate of freight by rail from Calcutta to Saharanpur is Rs 3-10 per maund or Rs 98-11 per ton, and from Bombay to Saharanpur Rs 4-1 per maund or Rs 110-9 per ton. A free second class ticket to Saharanpur will also be given to any person in charge of a machine.

9 The owner or owners of the successful machine or machines shall not be entitled to receive the reward offered except on the following conditions, viz—

- (1)—That a complete technical description of the machine, illustrated by plans drawn to scale, shall be prepared and published (Government paying the cost) for the information of the public.
- (2)—That after the expiry of three years from the date on which the award is made, the public shall have the right of manufacturing similar machines, on payment to the owner of a royalty of 10 per cent on the cost of each machine so manufactured.

- 1 Name in full and residence.
- 2 Profession or occupation.
- 3 Number of different kinds of machines entered for competition.
- 4 Brief description of each machine.

Intending competitors will at the same time declare themselves bound (under penalty of disqualification of the competing machines and forfeiture of all claim to the Government reward) to conform to all rules which may be prescribed by Government or by the judges appointed by Government in connection with the conduct of the trials

All notices of intention to compete and applications for information should be addressed to the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, Calcutta.

11. A limited quantity of rhea will be grown in the Botanic Gardens, Calcutta, and persons desirous of testing their machines before entering them for public competition may obtain green stems in small quantities from the Superintendent of the gardens, through this Department

3 The period for which fuel is sanctioned for hospital sergeants and nurses will be the same as if they were living in barracks

4 When separate "day rooms" with fire-places exist in barracks, fuel will not be issued in addition to dormitories exclusively used as such

5 Where no fire-places exist in hospital buildings at stations where fuel is authorized for hospitals, stoves or braziers with pipes leading to the open air will be supplied by the Public Works Department, and an issue of charcoal will be made in lieu of wood, provided that the cost of charcoal so supplied does not exceed that of the quantity of wood sanctioned.

6 In the case of an outbreak of epidemic disease, or other extraordinary circumstance, the scale of fuel to be supplied to any station in the Bengal presidency will be fixed by the officer commanding on the recommendation of the senior medical officer and with strict regard to the actual requirements of the case

7 When fires are considered to be absolutely necessary at stations not enumerated in the foregoing table, the officer commanding the station may, when time will not admit of previous reference being made to the Commander-in-Chief or Government, issue the necessary orders for fuel to be supplied in such quantities and for such period only as he may deem necessary

8 Fuel is sanctioned for all medical subordinates (except hospital assistants) doing duty at hill stations (classes A and B) only at the rate of 40lbs per diem in winter and 20lbs per diem in summer. The issue during the summer and winter months will correspond with the period of supply as made to the troops located in the same station

9 Fuel is sanctioned to bazar, barrack, commissariat and ordnance sergeants and station butchers (when compelled to live away from the barracks) at those stations only where issued to the troops, at the rate of 40lbs per diem in winter and 20lbs per diem in summer. The issue during the summer and winter months will correspond with the period of supply as made to the troops located in the same station

(a) When the Commissariat Department is unable to arrange for the supply of fuel, compensation at the rate of Re 1-4-7 per mensem is admissible. Compensation to bazar, commissariat and ordnance sergeants will be paid by the Commissariat Department, and to barrack sergeants by the Public Works Department

(b) A non-commissioned officer acting as a sub-conductor is entitled to fuel as for departmental staff sergeants.

(c) When a commissariat sergeant is absent from a hill station on command, his wife is entitled to fuel at the same scale as if her husband were present.

10 Soldier students attached to the Thomason College at Roorkee, are entitled to fuel when issued to the troops on the class E scale for small fire-places

11 The size of the pieces of firewood to be issued to barracks and hospitals will be determined by the officer commanding the corps, dépôt or detachment subject to the approval when the Executive Commissariat Officer considers it necessary—of the officer commanding the station But in no instance must the pieces of firewood exceed eighteen inches in length

12 The fuel in barracks will be under the charge of a non-commissioned officer, and in hospitals under that of the senior warrant medical officer

13 An allowance of Rs 4 per mensem is sanctioned to master-tailors in lieu of fuel for the purpose of warming the tailor's shop

14 The native hospital of each of the mountain batteries of Royal Artillery stationed at Khyra-gully and Jutogh is allowed fuel for one fire place between 16th March and 14th October inclusive, and for two fire-places between 15th October and 15th March inclusive, on the certificate of the officer in medical charge that fires are absolutely necessary

15 When the only firewood available for issue is of inferior heating quality, or is saturated with wet, the officer commanding the station is empowered to sanction the issue of a small additional percentage on the scale, to compensate for the loss to the troops, but this will be done on his own responsibility

16 The supply of firewood is not authorized for canteens at hill stations

PROVINCE OF MYSORE.

(No. 38)

Special famine report for the week ending 27th October 1877.Statement No. 38, regarding famine relief operations in the Province of Mysore, for the week ending the 27th October 1877

General and heavy rain has fallen throughout the week causing anxiety for the tanks and some injury to the crops. The fall has been specially heavy in Chitaldrug where 7 inches 30 cents were recorded, the total fall of the year being nearly as great as in 1874-75. Notwithstanding great risk of damage to the jowari crops which are reported to be rotting in the year, prospects have very markedly improved in that district, and an early termination of the distress is anticipated. The Famine Commissioner visited the Shimoga district, where he found only one relief camp with very few inmates, chiefly sick and infirm. Both here and over a considerable part of Chitaldrug, he states, the people are most desirous of remaining near their crops and cannot be persuaded to leave them for relief works, nor is it desirable they should, as even the poorest find some employment in weeding and cutting the heads of such grain as has ripened and is spoiling and eke out a livelihood with roots and greens. With a little fine weather it appeared to be the general opinion that the harvest would be unusually good. The area cultivated is larger than ordinary, and as yet no serious damage has occurred. But should the incessant and heavy rain continue, the consequences to the jowari crop may be serious. This description applies with more or less force to the other districts, the rain injuring the standing crops, delaying the harvest and interfering with sowing operations. The crops in Coorg are also suffering.

2 The imports of grain by rail have again decreased, amounting to 2,033 tons, or 917 tons less than last week. The imports were received from the following quarters —

|                              | Tons  |
|------------------------------|-------|
| From Madras                  | 1,794 |
| „ Beypore                    | 105   |
| „ Negapatam and Trichinopoly | 12    |
| „ Sholapur                   | 31    |
| „ Other places               | 91    |
| Total                        | 2,033 |

From Bangalore 1,708 tons were exported, or 271 tons more than in the preceding week, to the following quarters —

|                       | Tons  |
|-----------------------|-------|
| Túmkúr                | 350   |

| Usur (Salem District) | 143   |
| Round Bangalore       | 186   |
| Total                 | 1,708 |

Prices are dearer in the direction of Mysore and thus attract the imports

3 The improvement in prices continues, especially in ragi, of which increasing quantities come to market. The following statement gives the maximum and minimum prices in lbs per rupee for each district:—

4 The number of laborers employed on civil relief works was 31,167, or a net increase of 892, due to 4,916 additional laborers drafted to works in the Túmkúr district. In all other districts, except Kadur, where there was a falling increase of 77, the numbers diminished, the decrease being greatest in Chitaldrug. The transfer of labor to the Public Works Department continues, and it is hoped the laborers under civil officers in Bangalore will shortly be transferred to the Railway and in Kolar to the Yedaruru Tank. There is a difficulty in Túmkúr, where there are now 13,623 on civil works owing to a want of any large useful projects in that district. With a view to testing the practicability of moving labor at this season, the Chief Engineer collected a party of about 450 in Bangalore for employment near Maddur, distant about 48 miles, and Lieutenant Peile, 2nd Q. O., B. N. I., the officer sent in charge, reports his arrival on the works with the loss of a single person he started with, but on the contrary with an addition of volunteers picked up by the way. The Deputy Commissioner of Tûmkûr, where distress is still serious and therefore demand for relief great, has now been requested to endeavour to take some of his labor to more useful works. At the same time considerable progress has been made in concentrating labor under civil officers. At the end of August there were 29,295 laborers on 1,746 works, while the present returns shew only 293 of the petty works still in progress, the great bulk of the labor having been collected on 31 larger works recently selected and sanctioned by the Famine Commissioner.

5 Under the Public Works Department 52,274 laborers were employed, or an increase of 4,061 occurring chiefly in Bangalore and Tûmkûr. The following is a list of works on which are employed 500 laborers and upwards —

The decrease in Kolar and Chitaldrug is due to the improved prospects and the demand for field labor, and in Tûmkûr to the efforts made to transfer the inmates of relief camps to works, the decrease upon gratuitous relief being more than compensated by the increase on works. It is satisfactory to state that both public works and civil officers unite in considering that no sooner are people transferred to works than their condition begins to improve. Indeed the success which has attended the introduction of free admission to public works and the popularity of the works have exceeded all expectation. At no distant date, the population of the relief camps will be confined to the sick and the infirm.

It will be observed that the number of laborers under civil officers has not materially altered, the closing of petty works having been compensated by the increased numbers on the larger works recently opened. The increase upon public works has amounted to about 28,000, and the decrease in numbers gratuitously fed to 165,919, the net decrease upon relief since 1st September last being 135,979. This reduction is due to more accurate counting, the improvement in the season, the fall in prices, and the exaction of work in return for food, and the better discipline in the relief camps. To ensure that none in want are left uncared for in the towns and villages and to prevent the enforcement of the tests causing distress, the services of a large number of European officers have been secured and a rigorous system of village inspection undertaken. The town of Bangalore itself has been divided into beats, each house visited, and every one in real need and unable to work provided with a ticket for grain. The Inspectors also distribute tickets for admission to public works, and the resident population being thus provided for, wanderers and stragglers are removed by the police to enclosed camps. The street mortality has fallen to about half-a-dozen a day, and considering the very large number on the public works who find shelter in Bangalore and the feeble condition of some members of the special gangs, it is feared occasional deaths, in spite of the most careful treatment, will continue for some little time. The utmost care is being taken upon the public works, in the relief camps and in hospitals of the weak and emaciated with the best results, a little fair weather would at once ripen the crops and improve the public health, and is all that is at present wanting to make prospects most encouraging.

Or an average cost of 9 annas 6 pies per head compared with 9 annas 4 pies for last week. The excess in Shimoga is due to the actual expenditure not being shewn.

ENDING THE 15TH NOVEMBER 1877

GENERAL REMARKS—No report has this week been received from Madras. In Mysore the rainfall of the week has been trifling, the crops are in good condition, the number on relief works for the week ending the 3rd instant was 85,673, and on charity 51,328, being 2,232 more and 9,819 less than in the previous week. In Bombay no rain has fallen during the week, except a little on the Upper Sind Frontier. The condition and prospects of the crops are good everywhere except in Sind. In the Central Provinces also there has been no rain, the prospects of the kharyf are good and the early rice is being harvested; the rabi sowings are being rapidly brought to a close. In Berar the condition of the crops is good. In Central India there has been no rain, emigrants from Rajputana still continue to pass through Neemuch; those from Gwalior passing through Guona are falling off, and many are returning. In Bengal slight but beneficial rain has fallen in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, and also in Pooree; elsewhere there has been none, the rice outturn will be poor in most parts of the Patna Division. Prospects are good in Assam. There has been a slight fall of rain in most districts of British Burma, the crops promise well. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh no rain has fallen, the rabi sowings are nearly complete, and the seed sown is germinating well. In the Punjab slight rain has fallen at Rawalpindi, Peshawar, Dera Ismail Khan and Amritsar, it is generally wanted for the rabi sowings, especially in Umballa and Lahore.

FAMINE

ORDER

The following Despatch to Her Majesty's Secretary of State is published for general information —

No 36 (Famine), dated Governor General's Camp, Poona, the 22nd September 1877

From—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General,
To—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India

In paragraph 3 of Your Lordship's despatch No 62, dated 9th August, is expressed approval of the orders issued by us, enjoining publicity in the rare cases where district officers find it necessary to purchase grain for the supply of any landlocked, foodless tract. And the same paragraph counsels vigilance in watching the operation of our orders restricting the purchase of grain.

The words of this paragraph were telegraphed to me by Your Lordship

Telegram dated 14th August 1877

Your cypher message of tenth. We do not fully understand the object of it.

Our instructions about publication referred only to local purchases from trade. We decided at outset that private trade would import grain more efficiently than Government and we have lately associated publicly our determination not to interfere.

Do you intend to say that you think it probable that Government ought to make large importations of grain?

We can foresee no circumstances under which such Government interference with private trade would not be a ruinous mistake. Trade towards famine country from Bengal, Central and Northern India is most active and we see no reason to doubt that the necessary supplies will be furnished. We are convinced that far more food from abroad or elsewhere will reach Madras if we leave private enterprise to itself, and we should paralyse it by Government competition. Free and abundant private trade cannot co-exist with Government importations. Even if we anticipated failure in sources of supply, we should still believe that Government interference would only decrease the total amount of food available and aggravate the catastrophe.

If Her Majesty's Government should think differently we request that we may receive distinct intimation of the fact. We cannot take upon ourselves any responsibility for a course which would in our opinion be fatal. Nor can we usefully give calculations. Local estimates say that from 4,000 to 5,000 tons of grain must be imported daily; grain actually ready for export on Great Indian Peninsula Railway reported to be 120,000 tons and stocks in Bengal, Central and Northern India believed to be large.

ing the demand for imported grain can be best, and indeed, alone, discharged by private trade, and that private trade should be left to do its work in this respect with as little interference from Government as practicable. The Government and its officers should, however, give all possible information, and should give, where necessary, additional facilities, to private trade. Early and correct information as to prices and means of carriage should be published. The carrying power of railways and canals, leading into the famine tracts, should be reinforced, tolls and other restraints on free intercommunication should be removed, roads into the interior should be improved and kept in order, rates of railway or other carriage might be reduced, and, in cases of extreme necessity, temporary railways, or tramways, might be laid from main railway lines into populous tracts, whereto means of communication failed, or were insufficient. These will, indeed, be the most useful of all works, if we have to meet another year of famine. Grain required by Government for alms to the helpless poor, or for labourers on relief works, or for any tract where supplies were deficient, should be obtained through the trade, at or near the local markets, and should not be imported from a distance by Government itself. Experience has shown that Government operations in the grain market disorganise and paralyse private trade, to an extent out of all proportion to the operations themselves. Moreover, where the carrying power of a country by rail, canal, or cart, is limited, and is fully utilised, Government grain importations must necessarily displace a corresponding quantity of privately imported grain. My view, therefore, is that, under no circumstances, which are likely to occur, ought the Government itself to engage in the business of importing grain. Free and abundant private trade cannot co-exist with Government importation. Absolute non-interference with the operations of private commercial enterprise must be the foundation of our present famine policy. Trade towards the famine country from Bengal and Northern and Central India is at present active, and there is every reason to believe that the Indian sources of supply are still considerable. But even if these should fail, the interference of the Government would be a ruinous error. It could only have the effect of decreasing the total amount of food available, and thus aggravating the catastrophe. I am confident that more food, whether from abroad or elsewhere, will reach Madras, if we leave on the 10th August, and we submitted by telegraph the reply given in the margin. Since the despatch of that telegram, my Minute, dated the 12th August, has given (paragraph 18) a general statement of the principles which should guide the Government of India, when any question arises of importing grain on Government account. That paragraph gives expression to views, in which all my colleagues concur, it runs thus —

‘18. When harvests fail in an Indian province, considerable old stocks of food are left in the hands of the landholding and mercantile classes, but these stocks are often held back from sale. Markets have, therefore, to be supplied with grain imported from a distance. I consider that, except under most peculiar and exceptional circumstances, the function of supply-

private enterprise to itself, than if we paralyse it by Government competition. These remarks refer to the famine we are now dealing with. I do not, of course, intend to assert that famines cannot occur, in which Government interference for importation of food may not be absolutely necessary. Indeed, the Orissa Famine was one of those cases."

2 In addition to what has been urged in the telegram and extract quoted above, I would add a short further explanation of the principles which guide the Government of India, and of the position we take, when we decline, under present circumstances, to purchase and import grain for the supply of the famine districts.

3 If prices do not greatly rise after a failure of harvest, and if imports are inactive, then the natural conclusion would be that there must be considerable old stocks in the country. These are of course difficult, if not impossible, to trace. When prices in a province approach famine rates, then we presume that, if surplus food exists in other provinces, and if communication by water or railway be fairly good, private traders will carry that food to the famine districts more cheaply, more promptly, and more directly, than Government could possibly do. If there is one branch of internal trade which Indian traders fully understand, it is the grain trade, they know what grain is wanted, whence it can be bought most cheaply, and where the need is sorest. Among the many contrasts between the system of Government importations adopted in 1874 and the private trade system of 1877, it may be mentioned that the Government importations in 1874 consisted, with some small exceptions, of rice, mostly of Burmah rice,—while private trade has in 1877 brought under contribution every province and every food staple in India,—wheat, barley, grain, two kinds of millet (jowar and bajra), and pulses have come from scores of railway stations in the Punjab, the North-Western Provinces and Behar, from the river Chenab on the north to the Soane on the south, rice, pulses and marwa millet (the ragi of Madras) have come from Bengal and Orissa, millets and pulses have come from Guzerat, Berar, the Central Provinces, and even from Rajputana. Burmah has sent a small quantity of rice, but Burmah rice generally rules dearer than the common varieties of Bengal rice, and so traders have drawn but little from that source of supply, so long as Bengal stocks were large.

4 Not only could private traders do the work of supplying grain to Southern India, better than Government could do it, but it was obvious that the trade, as a whole, could make much larger importations than Government could effect by itself. If once the Government were to begin importing grain, the first rumour of any impending intrusion of Government action into the field of private enterprise would paralyse the confidence of the whole trade, would send up prices at the source of supply, would keep prices in the famine country below the natural trade level, and would thus, indirectly as well as directly, check imports. The Government having once entered on such an undertaking, there would be no half-way stage at which we could arrest our ruinous course. The Government would soon find itself responsible for providing grain enough for every village, not merely in Madras and Mysore, but also in tracts of Northern India to which famine might spread. Any partial substitution of Government agency for private trade was impossible. We had to choose between either leaving private trade alone, or taking upon ourselves the whole of its natural work. If we had adopted the latter alternative, it would probably have cost the Government more to lay down one ton of grain, than it would have cost the trade to lay down two. We had before us the financial results of the Bengal famine of 1874, where the cost* of buying and transporting Government grain came to £ 6,474,000 out of a gross expenditure of £ 9,177,000 or to £ 4,259,000 out of a net cost of £ 6,402,000. The famine of 1877 has been severer, and has extended over a far larger area than the famine of 1874, if we had taken the grain supply into our own hands, the cost of famine relief in 1876—78, alarmingly great as it is, must have been indefinitely increased. If Government had undertaken to import grain for the supply of Southern India, we should, even if we had succeeded in our undertaking—which is doubtful—have made a stride, of which the magnitude can only be conjectured, on the road to national bankruptcy.

5 The financial argument indeed, in the present condition of the Indian treasury, carried its due weight in deciding us to adopt what, on other grounds, seemed to us the wiser alternative. Still, apart from financial considerations, we were convinced that the safety of the afflicted populations would be best secured by the adoption of the course we took. It must, I fear, be admitted that Government cannot avert all death from famine, when the drought is so severe and affects so large an area, as in the present season has been the case. And I am convinced that, under present circumstances, there would have been more misery, more death, and a less constant supply of food in the districts of Southern India, if Government had undertaken to import grain on a large scale, than have happened under the policy which the Government of India, after full consideration, and with Your Lordship's approval, have adopted.

6 These were some of the considerations which influenced our decision when the question of importing grain arose in the autumn of 1876. When the same question came before us in July 1877, such considerations gained renewed force from the experience of the preceding eight months. The proposal to import grain largely by Government agency had been put forward during the autumn of 1876, both at Bombay and Madras. The Governor, Sir Philip Wodehouse, fully and specifically discussed the question with his colleagues, and they decided not to buy grain, but to trust entirely to private trade for the supply of the country. This decision, cordially approved as it was by the Government of India, was at once made public. Grain was forthwith consigned to the Deccan by private traders in enormous quantities, insomuch that the Great Indian Peninsula Railway was blocked with grain early in November. By strenuous effort the block was gradually cleared, and the supply, by rail and seaboard, to the famine districts of Bombay has, since November, sufficed for the needs of the country. Prices have indeed been very dear, but, though some parts of the Bombay famine tract drew their supplies from Railway stations or seaports 130 miles off, still there has always been enough grain in the markets.

7 The Madras Government, about the same time as the Bombay Government considered the question, decided to buy 30,000 tons of grain as a beginning. This decision was not known to the Government of India, until the transaction was concluded and the bill had to be paid. The purchases were effected with just so much secrecy as served to alarm the trade, and in Calcutta, the chief source of the Madras rice supply, dealers were, until the middle of February, possessed with a fear that further large purchases by Government were imminent. Interference with the grain market was stopped by the Government of India, and whatever may have been the views of the Madras Government at the time, I believe the Governor of Madras is now and has for some time been of opinion that further Government purchases of grain were inexpedient. The Madras Government made their purchases in October, and, as no further action of the kind was taken, the stream of private trade set in during December, and has continued ever since. Private trade has sent by sea to Madras, or has consigned from marts in Northern India, more grain than the railways and other means of transport could carry into the interior. During the last two months (August and September), since the failure of the summer rains and the occurrence of a second famine, private trade has carried into the districts of Madras and Mysore a daily average of 4,000 to 5,000 tons of food. This great result must be largely due to the assurances, published by the Governments of India and Madras in June last, to the effect that Government would not interfere in the grain trade. These were the assurances to which we referred in our telegram quoted in the first paragraph of the present letter.

8 The grain bought by the Madras Government is being kept in reserve, and so its presence does not operate to keep prices low, and thereby to check importations. I am aware that the Members of the Madras Government, though they do not now advocate Government purchases, are strongly of opinion that their purchase of 30,000 tons, and their placing the greater part of that supply in depôts up the country, paved the way for private trade, and encouraged its steady flow. It is true that private trade increased after the Government purchases had been made, but trade did not acquire its full stream till August.

1877, and it did not flow freely at all till December 1876, that is to say, some weeks after the Government transactions had been concluded, whereas the Bombay importations set in with full tide early in November. I do not say that the purchase of 30,000 tons permanently affected the flow of private trade, in the face of the enormous demands of the Madras and Mysore country, but I fear the transaction must (for the time) have checked private importations, it is certain that the Government grain occupied railway wagons to the exclusion of merchants' consignments, and I can see no practical or theoretical ground for the contention that the Government purchases galvanised private trade into active exertion.

9 Though the considerations stated in the foregoing paragraphs guided our unanimous decision on the occasions when the question of purchasing grain came before us during the present famine, yet we must not be understood to say that occasion never did, and never can, arise when Government purchases of grain might be necessary. The Orissa famine of 1866 may have been such a case. Orissa was a small province, it had then few transactions with other parts of India, its marts were not frequented by merchants from other provinces, there were practically no land communications between Orissa and other provinces, save for pilgrims, and communication by sea was, at that time, cut off during the most critical season of the year. The famine of 1866 in Orissa may have been a case in which Government might in some way have effected or promoted grain importations. In the famine of 1874 the Behar famine tract, with its population of 19 millions, was divided by the Ganges into nearly equal parts, one part, south of the Ganges, possessed two railways, metalled and bridged roads, and large trading populations, the other part, north of the Ganges, had no railways, not a single metalled and bridged road and comparatively few traders. Thus the Government was able to occupy North Behar with its agency and with its grain imported from the east, while the wants of South Behar were sufficiently met by private trade with supplies from the west. The circumstances and characteristics of the two tracts were so different that Government trade in North Behar did not interfere with private trade in South Behar, and furthermore, all the Government grain came by railway or river from the east, while the railway from the west was left exclusively for private traders. The famine tracts of Southern India, on the other hand, are not landlocked like Orissa, nor are their sea-ports closed for months together, as were the Orissa roadsteads. There are several railway lines in the south of India, a number of sea-ports are available on the east and west coasts, Madras possesses a better system of metalled and bridged roads than any part of India, much of the Bombay and Mysore country is also well supplied with roads. There was thus every facility for the free action of private trade. Nor was there any section of the famine country, so separate and distinct from the rest, that Government agency could have imported grain thither, while private trade supplied the remainder of the country without let or hindrance.

10 I have laid before Your Lordship, thus at length, an expression of my views on the subject of this letter, because I think its importance is very great. If Your Lordship were able to concur generally in the views now expressed, the hands of the Government of India would be greatly strengthened, when hereafter the problem of supplying food to a famine-stricken province again arises.

11 In any case, the traders of Southern and Northern India will have learnt an important lesson of self-help. Private trade will be more prompt than heretofore to supply the wants of provinces where scarcity of food may prevail. I anticipate also that, after the brisk and lucrative trade of this year, traffic on the Madras guaranteed railways will never fall again to the low ebb of former years. And I hope that the opening of the Dhond and Munmar Railway will do much to promote free interchange of commodities between the north and the south of India, which now for the first time have traded on a large scale with each other.

By Order of His Excy the Govr. Genl,

C. BERNARD,

The weather has, on the whole, become more favourable in the districts noticed last week as suffering from excessive rain. The chief exception is Belgaum, where no improvement has taken place. In Kaladgi also the weather is still unsettled.

2 Prices have fallen considerably in Khandesh, Nasik, Ahmednagar and Dharwar, and in Sholapur bajri, which the Collector reports is now the staple food of the people, is much cheaper. In the Poona Collectorate prices have risen. In the other three districts there is scarcely any change.

3 A decrease of 15,790 this week in the number of labourers upon relief works brings the total down to 54,827. The greatest reduction has been made in Dharwar where nearly half the labourers of the preceding week have left the works. The apparent increase in the case of Nasik is due to an adjustment between that district and Ahmednagar of the number of relief labourers upon the Dhond and Manmad railway works. The numbers pertaining to the two districts are now counted separately.

4 Cholera continues to a slight extent in Nasik and Ahmednagar, and is becoming more prevalent in Satara.

5 Written reports have been received from the Collectors of Nasik, Poona, Sholapur and Satara for the week ending the 27th October, and from the other Collectors for the week before. The table, compiled from these reports, showing the rainfall and the prices of staple food-grains in each taluka is appended as usual. Rain has fallen in most of those talukas of Khandesh and Ahmednagar noticed last week as requiring more rain. Another fall of rain is wanted in the Nasik district. In the Collectorates to the south of Poona the complaint of excessive rain is general. The Collector of Belgaum—his report is for the week ending the 20th ultimo—states that serious injury is apprehended if the rain continues. The telegrams show that rain did continue at least till the 2nd instant. In Dharwar the rain, while injuring other crops, has served to restore the rice.

6 The following table gives the expenditure by Government, during the week ending 13th October, upon gratuitous relief, and in payments made to the young children of labourers employed upon Relief Works. The number of children has fallen during the week from 40,356 to 33,560. The number of persons being gratuitously relieved in the week ending 6th October was entered, in the last statement, as 87,951, but supplementary returns since received from the Collectors of Sholapur and Kaladgi show that the correct number is 89,322. The return from the Collector of Ahmednagar for the week ending 13th October is incomplete: the whole number may be taken approximately at 76,133. This gives a decrease during the week of 11,818 —

7 In the following table are enumerated the works under Public Works Department Agency upon which the average daily number of persons employed has amounted to five hundred for the week ending 20th ultimo. The total number engaged on these large works constitutes 67.12 per cent of the whole number of labourers upon relief works —

8 Tables A and B are brought up to the week ending 20th ultimo. The number of persons on works under Public Works Department Agency in the nine affected districts was at this date 51,107 and on works under Civil Agency 13,916. The percentage of persons upon works under Civil Agency has thus risen during the week from 18.8 to 21.4 per cent of the whole number employed. The total expenditure upon works in the nine affected districts has amounted to Rs 1,01,32,512, which, with the expenditure of Rs 1,29,533 upon works in Ratnagiri and Kanara, and Rs 9,86,337 from the Collectors' Discretionary Allowances, gives a total of Rs 1,12,48,382.

9 The condition of the affected Native States is shown in a table appended. The rain has been excessive in Kolhapur and Savanur. The number of labourers upon relief works continues to decrease, but very slowly.

10 During the week ending 27th October, 4,400 tons of food-grains were exported from Bombay to the Southern Marathi Ports, and 1,747 tons were carried by the Great Indian Peninsula Railway to stations upon the Poona-Sholapur and Bhusawal-Nasik lines, making a total of 1,758 tons for the week. This is less by 705 tons than the importations of the previous week.

The table below shows the quantities of grain sent by sea and rail from October 1876 till the 27th October 1877 to the Southern Maratha Ports and the Railway Stations in the distressed districts. It will be seen that the total amount delivered up to the 27th October was 427,789 tons —

12 There is considerable improvement in the general situation. The condition of the people is markedly better. The anxiety caused by the excessive rain is now almost entirely confined to the Belgaum Collectorate

REGULATIONS FOR THE OPEN COMPETITION OF JULY 1878

N B—The Regulations are liable to be altered in future years

1 On June 25th, 1878, and following days, an Examination of Candidates will be held in London. At this Examination not fewer than Candidates will be selected, if so many shall be found duly qualified. Of these, will be selected for the Presidency of Bengal, [ for the Upper Provinces, and for the Lower Provinces] for that of Madras, and for that of Bombay *—Notice will hereafter be given of the days and place of Examination.

2 Any person desirous of competing at this Examination must produce to the Civil Service Commissioners, before the 1st of May 1878, evidence showing —

- (a) That he is a natural-born subject of Her Majesty
- (b) That his age on the 1st of January 1878 will be above seventeen years and under nineteen years [N B—In the case of Natives of India this must be certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which the Candidate may have resided]

- (d) That he is of good moral character ‡

He must also pay such fee as the Secretary of State for India may prescribe ‡

3 Should the evidence upon the above points be prima facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the Candidate will, upon payment of the prescribed fee, be admitted to the Examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary, and if the result of such inquiries, in the case of any Candidate, should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India, and if already selected, will be removed from the position of a Probationer.

8 The marks obtained by each Candidate, in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined, will be added up, and the names of the Candidates who shall have obtained a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates, will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. 11 The selected Candidates who, at the Final Examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of age, health, and character, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force, at the time, for that Service.

12 Applications from persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates are to be addressed to the "Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners, London, S. W.," from whom the proper form for the purpose may be obtained.

NOTIFICATIONS—FIBRES AND SILK

Simla, the 31st August 1877

No. 45.—In 1871 the Government of India offered a prize of £5,000 to the inventor of the best machine or process for the preparation of the fibre of the Bokmeria nivea (popularly known under the names of rhea, ramie, and China grass), and the terms on which machines would be admitted to competition were widely notified in India, in Europe, and in America. Many persons declared their intention to compete, but ultimately only one machine was actually brought to the place of trial. The machine, having been carefully tested at Sahāranpur in the autumn of 1872, was found imperfect in some important respects, and the inventor was adjudged not entitled to the full reward. He was, however, presented with £1,500 in consideration of the partial measure of success he had attained after great perseverance.

2 This machine has not since been adapted by the inventor to practical use, and no improved process of preparing the fibre of the rhea has been yet discovered by other persons. Meanwhile, the demand for rhea continues, and the conditions which induced the Government of India in 1871 to offer a prize remain substantially unchanged.

3 His Honour the President in Council, therefore, considers that it is desirable to renew the offer, and it is accordingly hereby notified that a reward of fifty thousand rupees will be paid to the inventor of the best machine or process which will separate the bark and fibre from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, of the Bokmeria nivea.

4 A smaller reward, not exceeding ten thousand rupees, will be given to the inventor of the next best machine or process, provided it is adjudged to possess merit and to be capable without difficulty of adaptation to practical use.

5 What is required is a machine or process capable of producing, by animal, water, or steam power, a ton of dressed fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £15 per ton in the English market, at a total cost, including all processes of preparation and all needful allowance for wear and tear, of not more than £15 per ton, laid down at any port of shipment in India, and £30 in England, after payment of all the charges usual in trade before goods reach the hands of the manufacturer. The processes of preparation are to be understood to include all the operations required subsequent to the cutting of the stems from the plants in the field, until the fibre is in a condition fit to be packed for conveyance to the market.

6 The machinery employed must be simple, strong, durable, and inexpensive, and should be suited for erection in the plantations where the rhea is grown. It must be adapted for treatment of the fresh stems, as cut from the plant. The treatment of dried stems offers certain difficulties, and the fibre prepared from them must, moreover, always be much more costly than the fibre produced from green stems. Except during the hot dry weather preceding the rains in Upper India (where rhea grows best), it is very difficult so to dry the stems that no fermentation or mildew shall occur. But during this season the stems are comparatively short and the crop poor and stunted, unless it is artificially irrigated, and such irrigation greatly increases the cost of cultivation. In the rainy season the plant is in fine condition, but at this season it is almost impossible to dry the stems in quantity without injuring the fibre, unless recourse is had to artificial means of desiccation, which greatly increase the cost of the material. It is therefore obvious that the attention of inventors should be given to the discovery of a process for the treatment of the green stems.

7 The trials will be held at Sahāranpur in the North-Western Provinces in the months of August and September 1879. Machines entered for competition should be placed in situ and be ready for work not later than the 15th August, the competition commencing on the next day. The judges will be appointed by the Government, and they will watch the whole of the trials. But the machines shall be worked and adjusted by the competitors themselves, and no person shall touch a machine without the consent of the inventor.

8 The Government of India will provide proper shelter and accommodation at Sahāranpur for all the competing machines as well as the motive power required. It will also pay, for the transport from the sea-coast to Sahāranpur of all machines up to the limit of one ton each, the freight on any excess weight to be defrayed by the owners. The present rate of freight by rail from Calcutta to Sahāranpur is Rs. 3-10 per maund, or Rs. 98-11 per ton, and from Bombay to Sahāranpur Rs. 4-1 per maund, or Rs. 110-9 per ton. A free second class ticket to Sahāranpur will also be given to any person in charge of a machine.

9 The owner or owners of the successful machine or machines shall not be entitled to receive the reward offered except on the following conditions, viz.—

- (1) That a complete technical description of the machine, illustrated by plans drawn to scale, shall be prepared and published (Government paying the cost) for the information of the public.
- (2) That after the expiry of three years from the date on which the award is made, the public shall have the right of manufacturing similar machines, on payment to the owner of a royalty of 10 per cent on the cost of each machine so manufactured.

10 All persons desiring to compete under the terms and on the conditions specified above are requested to make known their intention not later than the 31st December 1878, giving the following particulars—

- 1 Name in full and residence
- 2 Profession or occupation
- 3 Number of different kinds of machines entered for competition
- 4 Brief description of each machine

Intending competitors will at the same time declare themselves bound (under penalty of disqualification of the competing machines and forfeiture of all claim to the Government reward) to conform to all rules which may be prescribed by Government, or by the judges appointed by Government in connection with the conduct of the trials.

All notices of intention to compete and applications for information should be addressed to the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce, Calcutta

11 A limited quantity of rhesa will be grown in the Botanic Gardens, Calcutta, and persons desirous of testing their machines before entering them for public competition may obtain green stems in small quantities from the Superintendent of the gardens through this Department

RESOLUTION—In the Resolution of March last Local Governments and Administrations were requested to review briefly the year's operations and to express their opinion on the result, but some Provinces have simply forwarded the returns submitted by district officers.

2 The Annexed statement summarizes the year's operations except in Mysore and Coorg, from which Provinces no return has been received. The provincial returns, however, still show a want of care in their compilation, and some have had to be returned for revision.

3 The noticeable features in the returns are the following. Last year it was found that 21,000 persons and 48,000 head of cattle were destroyed during the year by wild animals and venomous snakes, that 22,357 wild animals and 270,185 venomous snakes had been killed, and that Rs 1,20,015 had been expended in rewards. This year it appears that 19,273 persons and 54,830 head of cattle have so perished, that 212,371 snakes and 23,459 wild animals have been killed, and that Rs 1,24,574 have been expended in rewards. In Madras, Bengal and in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the numbers of persons killed by wild animals and by snakes are considerably less in 1876 than in 1875, in the other Provinces the figures do not exhibit any great variations, except in the Central Provinces, where deaths rose from 617 in 1875 to 1,098 in 1876. The Chief Commissioner states that no new or special measures have been adopted in view to the extermination of wild animals and snakes, but there is no explanation of the greater mortality shewn in his returns. As regards the loss of cattle, the figures of the year seem unsatisfactory. While Madras and Bombay shew fewer cattle killed, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, the Central Provinces and British Burma shew materially larger numbers. It is also probable that even the figures now reported are only approximate to the truth, as the agency for reporting the mortality caused to men and cattle is still imperfect, though more perfect than it used to be. The unfavourable figures testify possibly to better reporting and not to really greater mortality. As regards rewards paid for the destruction of wild animals (including snakes), more was paid in Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Central Provinces and British Burma, and less in the Punjab and in Assam.

4 The Government of India trust that in future years the returns may be more accurate and may be reviewed by the Local Governments which submit them, and that the measures reported may be more effective.

ORDER—Ordered, that this Resolution with the appended table be forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations for information, and be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

COLLECTION OF LAND REVENUE IN THE BOMBAY PRESIDENCY

No 6276, dated 19th October, 1877

From—The Hon'ble E W RAVENSCROFT, C S I, Chief Secy to the Govt of Bombay,
To—The Additional Secretary to the Government of India, PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

I am desired by His Excellency the Governor in Council to report, for the information of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council, the following information regarding the realisation of the land revenue of this Presidency in the year 1876-77, exclusive of the Province of Sind, where there was no drought

2 The land revenue to be collected amounted to Rs 2,62,99,590 Out of this the sum of Rs 2,33,40,250 was collected on the 31st August 1877 The amount of remissions granted up to the same date on account of failure of crops through drought amounted to Rs 2,15,110 As regards the residue, the subject was carefully considered by His Excellency the Governor in Council, and it was finally determined that all the outstandings should be treated as recoverable balances and so entered in the accounts

3 Many of these balances are owing by people who are tolerably well off, and these will be gradually recovered with care and judgment when the ripening crops are brought to market In other cases the monsoon of 1878 will be awaited Should that prove abundant, and should a plentiful harvest be the fortunate result, it is confidently anticipated that these remaining arrears may, for the most part, be collected in 1878-79

4 As regards those remissions which have been granted, His Excellency the Viceroy in Council may be assured that the utmost care and vigilance were exercised before granting them, and the Governor in Council is convinced that the liberality of Government has been very seldom misplaced, considering the enormous number of claims which had to be investigated At the same time he can unhesitatingly assert that the large revenue which, in an exceptionally distressing time, has been collected, has been realised without any harshness or undue pressure

5 A further report will be made in due course showing how the outstanding balances are being recovered

To—The Additional Secretary to the Government of India, PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

I am desired by His Excellency the Governor in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 936 (Famine), dated the 12th October 1877, in which you say that the "Governor General in Council would be glad if the Bombay Government could favour him with statements showing approximately the effect of the famine on the Bombay land revenue of the season 1876-77, and also a forecast of the probable loss of land revenue due to the drought in the season 1877-78"

2 My letter No 6276 of the 19th October 1877, which crossed your letter under acknowledgment, gave some of the information required by you In the second paragraph of that letter I showed that the land revenue to be collected in 1876-77 amounted to Rs 2,62,99,590 In 1873-74 the land revenue to be collected from the same districts amounted to Rs. 2,58,35,262 In 1874-75 it amounted to Rs 2,59,85,640 In 1875-76 it amounted to Rs 2,60,32,735 From these figures it will be seen that, notwithstanding the drought, a steady increase of land revenue to be collected has taken place in this Presidency during the last three years This, of course, is mainly due to the revised assessments

3 I now come to the second question raised by you, viz, the probable loss of land revenue due to the drought in the season of 1877-78 This subject gave His Excellency the Governor in Council much anxiety at one time But this anxiety, I am desirous to state, has been entirely dispelled by the late bountiful rains He now sees no reason whatever why the whole of the land revenue of 1877-78 in the Deccan, Southern Mahratta Country, Conkan and Guzerat should not be punctually collected in the current year

4 In the Province of Sind the accounts are not so good, but even there, though it may perhaps be necessary to postpone collecting a portion of the land revenue of 1877-78 until next year, His Excellency the Governor in Council does not contemplate the necessity of granting any remissions

5 In conclusion, I am desirous to attach a minute written by His Excellency the Governor on the subject

COLLECTION OF THE LAND REVENUE IN THE DISTRICTS AFFECTED BY THE FAMINE OR SCARCITY OF 1876-1877

Minute by His Excellency the GOVERNOR OF BOMBAY, dated 30th October, 1877

The collection of the land revenue in those districts of the Bombay Presidency which have been affected by famine has received the most particular attention from the Local Government As I had occasion to notice this matter with much stress while acting in the capacity of Famine Delegate before joining this Government, I beg further to record the considerations which suggest themselves from my present stand-point in the Government of Bombay

The land revenue, endangered in the Bombay Presidency by the famine of 1876 and 1877, amounted to 262 lakhs of rupees or £ 2,620,000

From the very first, that is, in January 1877 when Famine Delegate, I represented to the Government of Bombay the expediency of only suspending the collection of the land revenue in these districts, and of refraining from making any promises to the people of remission It was understood that the Government was at that time disposed to allow remissions generally, although the exact amount of such remissions had not been settled It was apprehended, however, by many at the time that, from 40 to 50 lakhs of revenue, £400,000 to £500,000 might have to be remitted Afterwards the Government agreed to suspend only, and not to remit, nor promise to remit, save in a few exceptional cases On joining the Government on the 1st of May, I found that very few remissions had been granted A large sum (about 50 lakhs of rupees or £500,000) had, however, been justly held suspended for collection, pending the result of the seasons Entirely concurring in that policy, I fully carried it out with the concurrence and support of my Hon'ble Colleagues We got in all we fairly could, reducing the 50 lakhs suspended to 30, and then to 27 lakhs We knew of course (June 1877) that the people could not then pay the £270,000 or £300,000 of land revenue held in suspension and regarded as the outstandings of 1876-77 But we hoped that they might be able to do so hereafter, if the summer rains of 1877 should prove propitious There were indeed some few cases where collection of the suspended revenue was hopeless, and in these revision was granted But the total thus remitted did not exceed £21,600 or Rs 2,16,000

But the summer rains began to come and then ceased coming And up to end of August our hopes of collecting the outstanding £270,000 for 1876-77 became fainter and fainter Indeed, fears arose that some of the revenue for the current year 1877-78 might have to be suspended in addition However, the season took a turn for the better from the 31st of August and 1st September, and we perceived that the revenue for the current year 1877-78 would be safe. We then immediately instructed our Collectors to collect fully for 1877-78, to keep their eye on the £270,000 outstanding for 1876-77, and to collect that as soon as might be practicable after realisation of the land revenue of the current year 1877-78. These outstandings might be collected during this last-named year, or at all events during next year 1878-79, if the summer rains of 1878 shall be propitious.

Recently, the October rains have been so abundant (I say abundant rather than propitious, for in some parts they have been excessive) that we learn that the Collectors will after all be able to get in much of the outstandings (£270,000) during the current year 1877-78. This we have accordingly ordered, adding that whatever may remain is to be got in as soon as possible after the rains of 1878. If no more bad or unseasonable weather supervenes, and if nothing further goes wrong with the weather, it is not over-sanguine to say that, by next spring 1878, nothing out of the outstandings will remain to be collected, save a residue which will come in during the ensuing summer. In that case, the loss of land revenue during the famine of 1876 and 1877 in the Bombay Presidency will not exceed 3 lakhs of rupees or £30,000,—a loss which is comparatively insignificant, as it will be remembered that the revenue endangered by the failure of harvests amounted to 262 lakhs of rupees or £2,620,000. The loss therefore will, as we now hope, be the merest fraction of one per cent.

It is remarkable too that, owing to revision of settlements, the land revenue demand during these very years of scarcity has gone on slightly increasing. On the whole our present trust is that the land revenue of the Bombay Presidency will virtually not have suffered at all from the famine.

Till this happy result shall have been fully attained, the final verdict may be withheld, it will, however, be attained if under Providence we are spared any further calamity of season. In that case, it will reflect credit on the ryotwari system and the Revenue Survey and Settlement of Bombay, and on the resolute, manly and industrious character of the Natives of the Deccan.

We are much indebted to the discrimination and steadiness evinced by our Collectors and Revenue Commissioners. We are also specially indebted to our Chief Secretary, the Hon'ble E. W. Ravenscroft, C. S. I., to whom the general supervision over the revenue pertains.

RICHARD TEMPLE

No 1003, dated Governor General's Camp, Mandlooth, the 12th November, 1877

From—C. BERNARD, Esq., C. S. I., Additional Secretary to the Govt of India, P. W. DEPT.,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 57, dated the 31st October, furnishing a report and forwarding a Minute by His Excellency the Governor, on the subject of the land revenue collections in the Bombay Presidency during the years 1876-77 and 1877-78.

2 It appears that the land revenue demand for the famine year (1876-77) was Rs 2,62,99,590, as against an average demand of Rs 2,59,51,212 for the three previous years, that out of this demand Rs 2,15,110 had been remitted, Rs 27,44,230 had been suspended, and Rs 2,33,40,250 had been collected, up to the end of September 1877. The Bombay Government expect that, with the bountiful harvests now in the ground, the ryots of the Bombay Presidency (Sinde only being excepted) will be able to pay in full the land revenue of 1877-78, and to pay in part the suspended arrears of land revenue for the year 1876-77.

3 His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council directs me to state that these results, achieved, as explained in your previous letter, without harshness or undue pressure upon the people, are most creditable both to the revenue system and to the Revenue Officers of the Bombay Presidency. The Government of India further recognises that this success is due no less to Sir Richard Temple's strenuous advocacy than to the Bombay Government's ready acceptance of the principle, that in times of drought the Government may suspend, but ought not to remit, such portion of the land revenue as cannot at the time be collected without undue pressure on the people.

The weather has now become fine everywhere but in the Kaladgi district. The crops are improving in Belgaum, and the harvest has begun in Dharwar.

2 Prices have fallen considerably in the Southern Mahratta districts, where they have always been highest, and there is, on the whole, a slight improvement in the other districts also.

3 A decrease of 13,478 this week in the number of labourers upon relief works brings the total down to 42,363. Orders have been issued for the closing of all relief works at the end of the current month.

4 Cholera is growing less and less in Nasik and Ahmednagar. It continues in Satara, and there have been a few cases also in Poona.

5 Written reports have been received from the Collectors of Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, Sholapur, and Satara for the week ending the 3rd instant, and from the other Collectors for the week before. The table, compiled from these reports, showing the rainfall and the prices of food-grains in each taluka, is appended as usual. The kharif harvest is now in full progress in Khandesh, Nasik, Ahmednagar, and Poona. It has begun also in Sholapur and in two talukas of Kaladgi, and the early jowari and early rice have both begun to be reaped in Dharwar. The worst accounts received are those from Belgaum and Kaladgi, where the injury done by the excessive rain has been very serious. In some parts of Kaladgi the damaged crops have been cut down to the roots in the hope of new stalks shooting up. The wet weather has had the further effect of inducing a bad type of fever in the Kaladgi district, which causes considerable mortality.

6 The following table gives the expenditure by Government, during the week ending 20th October, upon gratuitous relief, and in payments made to the young children of labourers employed upon relief works. The number of children has fallen during the week from 33,560 to 25,783. The number of persons being gratuitously relieved in the week ending 13th October was taken, in the last statement, as approximately 76,133. The number for the week ending the 20th instant may be taken approximately as 63,885. This gives a decrease of 12,248. —

8 Tables A and B are brought up to the week ending 27th ultimo. The number of persons on works under Public Works Department agency in the nine affected districts was at this date 39,522, and on works under Civil agency 10,109. The percentage of persons upon works under Civil agency has thus fallen during the week from 21.4 to 20.3 per cent of the whole number employed. The total expenditure upon works in the nine affected districts has amounted to Rs. 1,01,79,369, which, with the expenditure of Rs. 1,34,122 upon works in Ratnagiri and Kurnool, and Rs. 10,15,159 from the Collectors' Discretionary Allowances, gives a total of Rs. 1,13,28,650.

9 The table showing the condition of the affected native states is appended as usual. There are still complaints of excessive rain. The number of labourers upon relief works continues slowly to decrease. Prices are slightly lower.

10 During the week ending 31st November, 253 tons of food-grains were exported from Bombay to the Southern Mahratta ports, and 1,198 tons were carried by the Great Indian Peninsula Railway to stations upon the Poona-Sholapur and Bhusawal-Nasik lines, making a total of 1,451 tons for the week. This is less by 307 tons than the importations of the previous week The table below shows the quantities of grain sent by sea and rail from October 1876 till the 3rd November 1877, to the Southern Mahratta Ports and the Railway stations in the distressed districts It will be seen that the total amount delivered up to the 3rd November was 429,270 tons —

12 The general situation continues to improve rapidly The condition of the people is becoming more satisfactory The prospects of the seasons are most favourable on the whole In Kaladgi only does the unsettled weather now cause any real anxiety There is a marked fall in the prices of food grains People are leaving the relief works and returning to their ordinary avocations Instructions have been issued for closing all relief works at the end of the current month, and for gradually closing the relief camps and relief-houses, retaining only the large relief centres Orders have been issued for the gradual reduction of temporary famine establishments as relief operations cease

(No 39)

Special famine report for the week ending 3rd November 1877

Statement No 59 regarding Famine Relief Operations in the Province of Mysore, for the Week ending the 3rd November 1877

Heavy rain again fell during the week in every District except Chitaldrug, where the break in the weather, which has since become general, had brightened prospects The constant wet was proving most unfavourable to the dry crops, in some places seriously retarding the harvest The jawar was rotting in the ear, and has suffered considerably, and the rice was in much danger Paddy, on the other hand, remarkably improved, and the tanks being everywhere full, an excellent Vaisak crop may be expected, while the cessation of the rain has come in time to prevent the threatened damage becoming serious The Famine Commissioner visited the affected part of the Kadur District, and reports that had it not been for the injury done by the run to the standing crops, the famine there would have almost ended by now, except in the Banavar Taluk, which was most affected in the earlier part of the year The crops were fine and abundant, and a large area cultivated, but it is feared almost all the jawar is lost, and the other crops, except those sown lately, materially injured, though fine weather would still repair much of the harm done A few people are to be met with wandering in a purposeless way, and some seek the Malnad in hopes of employment there, but there are no signs as yet of any considerable exodus in that direction

2 The imports of grain by rail amounted to 3,980 tons shewing an increase of 1,947 tons over the imports of last week The grain was received from the following quarters —

4 The number of laborers employed on civil relief works was 32,335, or a net increase of 2,168, occurring in Bangalore and Tumkur Districts.

5 Under the Public Works Department 13,870 laborers were employed on famine relief works and paid at the Famine Code rates. Hitherto the returns have shown all the Public Works' labor of the Province, but it has been thought better to exclude all except relief labor. Were the returns prepared in the same manner as for last week, the number of laborers employed was 52,335, or nearly the same as for the previous week. The wet weather and the approaching harvest have affected the labor returns, and as applications for relief are falling off, the pressure upon works will probably diminish.

The following is a list of works on which are employed 500 laborers and upwards —

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS
FOR THE WEEK ENDING THE 20TH NOVEMBER 1877

GENERAL REMARKS—Madras In some districts the dry crops have suffered from excessive rain, and from blight and insects. In Kistna, Bellary, and Kurnool however the weather had cleared and no rain fell during the week. In Vizagapatam and Ganjam more rain appears to be required. Prospects generally, except in these two districts, are good. The number on relief works has somewhat increased, having risen to 300,558, being 9,663 more than last week, but the numbers gratuitously relieved were reduced to 513,670, being 110,357 less than last week. Prices are rising generally. The harvesting of dry crops and of early paddy has been completed in various districts, with on the whole not unfavourable results. In Mysore there has been very little rain crops are thriving, and rice and raggi are being harvested. The numbers on the works have fallen to 81,162, being 4,511 less than in the previous week. The numbers on charitable relief were 42,331, being 8,997 less than last week. In Bombay no rain has fallen anywhere, except in Kutch and Shikarpur, where there have been slight showers. Rain is wanted for the rabi crops in Khandesh, Nasik, and Ahmadnagar, where the prospects of these crops are not satisfactory. The harvesting of the khari and the sowing of the rabi crops are in general progress. In the Central Provinces the khari is being harvested, with favourable results, and the rabi sowings are nearly completed. In Berar prospects continue good. In Central India no rain has fallen, and water is getting scarce in the tanks and wells. The stream of emigration from Rajputana continues, but the numbers are diminishing. No rain has fallen anywhere in Bengal during the week. It is wanted in Behar and Chota Nagpore for the rabi, and in Pooree, in unirrigated lands, rice is suffering in the tract between the Chilka lake and the sea the crop has been almost entirely lost, and relief is being given to the people. In Chumparun and Gya also prospects are generally bad. Elsewhere prospects are generally favourable, but the upland crops will suffer for want of rain. In Assam and Burma the crops are doing well everywhere, and prospects are favourable. No rain has fallen in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, where it is wanted to bring on the young rabi crops, sowings of which have been completed. In the Punjab a little rain has fallen in Umritsar, Rawalpindi, Dera Ismail Khan, and Peshawar, but more is wanted generally for the rabi.

PROVINCE OF MYSORE.

(No 40)

Special famine report for the week ending 10th November 1877

Statement No 40, regarding famine relief operations in the Province of Mysore for the week ending the 10th November 1877

The rainfall of the week was very trifling, and this opportune break in the weather proved most beneficial. The standing crops are reported to be looking remarkably well, harvesting has been general, and sowings for the Vaisak crop recommenced. The aspect of things is accordingly much brighter, and the change has caused such an improvement in the general appearance and condition of the country, that the Famine Commissioner anticipates that, except in Tūmkūr and parts of the Bangalore and Chitaldrug Districts, the services of the Special Relief Officers may be dispensed with after the end of December. Before leaving, the Special Officers will make a list of necessitous persons in their taluks, and will carefully ascertain the present population of a selected portion of their charge where an average amount of distress has prevailed.

2 The imports of grain by rail amounted to 3,649 tons, or 331 tons less than last week. The imports were received from the following quarters—

|  | Tons         |
|--|--------------|
| From Madras                            | 3,401        |
| " Beypore, Palghat, and Coimbatore     | 86           |
| " Tanjore, Negapatam, and Trichinopoly | 120          |
| " Other places                         | 42           |
| TOTAL                           | 3,649 |

From Bangalore 1,476 tons were exported, or 28 tons less than in the previous week. The exports were to the following quarters—

|-----------------------|--------------|
| Tūmkūr                | 872          |
| Bellary               | 162          |
| Mysore                | 610          |

| Round Bangalore       | 187          |
| TOTAL          | 1,476 |

3 Prices have been steadier during the week, with a tendency downwards. In Chitaldrug and Shimoga the effect of the new grain brought to market has been more marked than appears from the average prices returned. The following statement gives the maximum and minimum prices in lbs per rupee for each district—

|                        | Maximum in lbs. per Rupee | Minimum in lbs. per Rupee |

4 The number of labourers employed on civil relief works was 34,209, or a net increase of 874, occurring chiefly in the young children. In Kolar, Mysore, and Hassan there was a decrease on civil works, but this was compensated by the increase in other districts, and especially in Bangalore and Chitaldrug. Of the total number 34,209, there were 26,992 employed in the Bangalore and Tumkur Districts. Kolar and Chitaldrug divided 5,207 about equally between them, thus leaving some 2,000 to the four other districts.

5. Under the Public Works Department 46,953 labourers were employed on strictly famine relief works. The returns, as last week, are prepared so as to exclude all, except relief labour. They show an increase of 3,083 over the numbers of the preceding week, chiefly in the Bangalore and Tumkur Districts. Adding labourers employed on ordinary public works unconnected with the present distress, the total for comparison with previous statements would be 55,953. The following is a list of works on which are employed 500 labourers and upwards —

It will be observed that nearly all the relief labour has been concentrated upon large useful works, and that something like half of the whole is employed upon the State Railway to Mysore.

6 The numbers gratuitously fed in relief camps amounted to 42,331, or a decrease of 8,997 as under —

PROVINCE OF MYSORE

(No 41)

Special Famine Report for the Week ending 17th November 1877

Statement No 41, regarding Famine Relief Operations in the Province of Mysore, for the Week ending the 17th November 1877

The Province during the past week has escaped a great danger. Had the same abnormally heavy rainfall that Madras experienced been extended to Mysore, it would have done irreparable damage to the crops and tanks. But the storm seems to have expended itself on the eastern coast, and though the sky for some days was overcast with clouds, the showers that fell were only slight and partial, and there is every appearance now of fine settled weather. The standing crops are very good, and only in the western districts where distress is lightest, has the heavy rain, at the close of October, caused any considerable damage. Reaping, especially of early or "Kartika" paddy and ragi, actively continues, and there begins to be a demand for field labor for this purpose. There is still a month left, in which the late or "Baisakhi" paddy and Bengal gram can be sown, and in many quarters the land is being prepared for these crops, the cultivation being beneficially stimulated by the grant of takavi from Government. But in the parts which have suffered most in Tumkur and the east of Chitaldrug, the amount of land under cultivation is not equal to the average. The public health is fair, but fever prevails as usual at this season. The improvement in the condition of the people is already great, and their spirits are raised by the sight of a good crop coming to maturity, even those who have no connection with the land are leaving the Relief Camps and Works in the hope of getting a livelihood by reaping and gleaning—a hope which will not always be fulfilled. Fears are expressed that the relief afforded by the harvest will be only temporary, and that in the worst affected districts, unless prices materially fall, distress will not immediately cease. At present the people are averse from leaving their homes to seek relief in the Government Camps or on Works at a distance from their villages, and the Famine Commissioner, having regard to the circumstances of the season, has discouraged the use of pressure to induce them to do so. The fall of prices has necessitated the introduction of a minimum instead of a sliding scale of wages on Relief Works, it being an object to retain the people employed till they have sufficiently recovered strength to be safely relegated to their usual occupations. Speaking generally, the prospects are good, the famine is in hand, the present arrangements for dealing with it are sufficient and complete, and the efforts of all officers are rather directed to the working up of those arrangements to the highest degree of efficiency, than to extending or opening them in any new direction.

2 The imports of grain by rail amounted to 2,704 tons, or 945 tons less than last week. The imports were received from the following quarters —

3 Prices fluctuate. Rice shews a tendency to increase in price, whilst ragi has only materially fallen in the western districts. The following statement gives the maximum and minimum prices in lbs per rupee for each district —

4 The number of laborers employed on Civil Relief Works was 29,940, or a net decrease of 4,269, occurring chiefly in the Bangalore District, and in great measure due to transfer of men from Civil Relief Works to Works under supervision of the Department Public Works.

5 Under the Public Works Department 50,080 laborers were employed on strictly Famine Relief Works, or an increase of 3,127 over the number returned last week. The increase was due, as just stated, to a number of laborers taken over in the Bangalore District from Civil Works. The returns were prepared so as to exclude ordinary Public Works labor. Adding such labor, the total number of persons employed by the Department of Public Works was for purposes of comparison with previous returns about 59,080. The following is a list of works on which are employed 500 laborers and upwards —

Thus of 50,080 laborers employed by the Department Public Works, 47,382 are concentrated on large and useful works.

The decrease in the Bangalore Town Camps is partly due to transfers to works, and partly to the fact that residents in the town who were hitherto fed at the Relief Camps are now relieved by the grain-dole which is issued consequent on the house-to-house visitation. Accurate returns of the numbers thus relieved have not yet been received.

7 The number on civil and professional works amounted to 80,020, compared with 31,370 on charitable relief. The following table gives the numbers relieved since the last week in August —

The weather has now become fine everywhere, and prospects are thereby very much improved in most of the districts. More rain is still desired in Násik and Ahmednagar for the rabi crops, but the fine weather has been favourable for the kharif harvest.

2 Prices have not materially varied from the rates quoted last week in the case of the five districts most to the north, but they have again fallen considerably in the Southern Mahiatta districts. Prices are now much more nearly equal throughout the distressed area than they have been heretofore.

3 The number of labourers upon relief works has fallen during the week from 42,349 to 32,584.

4 The deaths from cholera during the week have numbered only thirty in the nine distressed districts.

5 Written reports have been received from the Collectors of Násik, Ahmednagar, Poona, Sholapur and Satara for the week ending the 10th instant, and from the other Collectors for the week before. The table, compiled from these reports, showing the rainfall and the prices of food grains in each taluka, is appended as usual. The kharif crops are now being harvested almost everywhere. They have not turned out so well as was expected in Sholapur, and have been a good deal damaged also in Satara and Kaládgi. The harvest had not begun in Belgaum at the date of the report. The sowing of rabi proceeds rapidly, and is approaching completion in some districts. Fever is prevalent in Kaládgi and parts of Dharwar.

6 The following table gives the expenditure by Government, during the week ending 27th October, upon gratuitous relief, and in payments made to the young children of labourers employed upon relief works. The number of children has fallen during the week from 25,783 to 18,976. The number of persons being gratuitously relieved in the week ending 20th October was taken, in the last statement, as approximately 63,885. The number for the week ending the 27th instant may be taken approximately as 51,879. This gives a decrease of 12,006 —

7 In the following table are enumerated the works under Public Works Department Agency upon which the average daily number of persons employed has amounted to five hundred for the week ending 3rd instant. The total number engaged on these large works constitutes 66 per cent of the whole number of labourers upon relief works —

8 Tables A and B are brought up to the week ending 3rd instant. The number of persons on works under Public Works Department Agency in the nine affected districts was at this date 32,756 and on works under Civil Agency 7,437. The percentage of persons upon works under Civil Agency has thus fallen during the week from 20.3 to 18.5 per cent of the whole number employed. The total expenditure upon works in the nine affected districts has amounted to Rs 1,02,92,803, which with the expenditure of Rs 1,35,230 upon works in Ratnagiri and Kanara, and Rs 10,38,196 from the Collectors' discretionary allowances, gives a total of Rs 1,14,66,234.

9 The table showing the condition of the affected Native States is appended as usual. The excessive rain has now stopped. The number of labourers upon relief works has, however, slightly risen.

10 During the week ending 10th November, 252 tons of food-grains were exported from Bombay to the Southern Mahratta Ports, and 761 tons were carried by the Great Indian Peninsula Railway to stations upon the Poona-Sholapur and Bhusawal-Nasik lines, making a total of 1,013 tons for the week. This is less by 468 tons than the importations of the previous week. The table below shows the quantities of grain sent by sea and rail from October 1876 till the 10th November 1877 to the Southern Mahratta Ports and the Railway Stations in the distressed districts. It will be seen that the total amount delivered up to the 10th November was 430,283 tons —

11 There have been decreases during the week of 9,765 in the number of labourers on relief works, 6,507 in that of young children, and 12,006 in that of people on gratuitous relief.

12 The general situation still continues to improve. The condition of the people is becoming more and more satisfactory. Prices of food-grains are falling considerably in the Southern Mahratta Districts. People are leaving the relief works and relief houses of their own accord. The weather has now become fair in Kaladgi, but, owing to the late excessive rain, there is unfortunately a good deal of sickness in that district.

No important change in the condition of the crops has been reported in the week's telegrams. More rain is desired in Khandesh, Nasik, Ahmednagar and Sholapur. The jowari in Poona has been slightly damaged by blight.

2 Prices continue to approach more nearly to a level throughout the nine districts. They have slightly risen during the week in Khandesh, Ahmednagar and Poona. In Belgaum bajri, which was quoted at 35 pounds for a rupee in the last statement, has fallen back to 28, but this rate is cheaper than that of previous weeks. In Satara, Kaladgi and Dharwar there is steady improvement.

3 The number of labourers upon relief works has fallen during the week from 32,584 to 20,513. Thus, more than a third of the whole number of labourers have been discharged during the week ending with the 17th instant, and two weeks (from that date) remain for the discharge of the rest.

5 Written reports have been received from the Collectors of Nasik, Ahmednagar, Sholapur and Satara for the week ending the 17th instant, and from the Collectors of Khandesh, Belgaum and Dharwar for the previous week.
